Columbia Area

"Blue Line", by Georgia O'Keeffe, 1919. Oil on

Columbia Museum of Art, Main & Hampton Streets, Columbia. Lipscomb Family Galleries, Through Jan. 10, 2016 - "Georgia O'Keeffe: Her Carolina Story," celebrates O'Reette's artistic breakthrough. Her "Carolina Story" brings together a selection of these early drawings, supplemented by O'Keeffe paintings that closely relate in chronology to the drawings. The National Gallery of Art in Washington, DC, the Georgia O'Keeffe Museum of Art in New Mexico, and the High Museum in Atlanta are the major lenders to the show. The exhibition is presented in partnership with Columbia College and their centennial celebration of O'Keeffe's time teaching there, "Ideas of My Own". Also on view during this time will be "Independent Spirits: Women Artists of South Carolina," an exhibition celebrating the creativity of contemporary women artists throughout the state. The Columbia Museum of Art announces an exciting exhibition of 14 works examining American painter Georgia O'Keeffe's intimate artistic epiphany experienced in Columbia, South Carolina. In 1915, Georgia O'Keeffe radically redefined herself as an artist. She found her voice with a series of black and white charcoal drawings she collectively titled Specials. What happened next is the stuff of legend: Her Charleston friend Anita Pollitzer took these drawings, unbeknownst to the artist, and showed them to New York photographer and gallery owner Alfred Stieglitz who proclaimed, "At last, a woman on paper." This was the beginning of one of the most important careers in all of American art. Mamie and William Andrew Treadway, Jr. Gallery 15, Through Feb. 7 - "The Art of Joseph Norman". These works include the complete series "Out at Home: The Negro Baseball League, Volume 1", and "Patti's Little White Lies". "Out at Home", a set of nine lithographs, explores the great accomplishments of African-American baseball greats like Jackie Robinson and Josh Gibson while also confronting the racist system in which these athletes worked and struggled. The five lithographs in "Patti's Little White Lies" comprise a deeply personal series, using art to deal with guilt and shame related to Norman's own experiences of being falsely accused of a crime. Both series are challenging and reflective, yet also starkly beautiful. Norman is currently a professor of drawing and painting at the University of Georgia's Lamar Dodd School of Art in Athens. GA. Caroline Guignard Community Gallery, Through Jan. 10, 2016 - "Independent Spirits: Women Artists of South Carolina". South Carolina has produced and nourished many "independent spirits," women who work against the social grain to pursue modern and experimental means of artistic expression. "Independent Spirits" is a selection of approximately 30 works by women from across the state, celebrating the creativity of contemporary women artists. Whether they work in painting, sculpture, assemblage, ceramics, or installation, these artists represent the undeniable role that women play in shaping the future of arts. BB&T Focus Gallery, Ongoing - "Southern Traditions," will showcase the richness and diversity of the Museum's collection of furniture, ceramics, silver, basketry, sculpture and paintings by artists native to, or active in, South Carolina and its surrounding states. Among the works on view will be fine silver made by Charleston and Columbia silversmiths; a sweet grass basket by Mary Jackson (SC, born 1945); wood carvings by Edgar Alexander McKillop (NC, 1879-1950); and paintings by Charles Fraser (SC, 1782-1860), Xanthus Russell Smith (SC, 1839-1929), William Harrison Scarborough (SC, 1812-1871), William Aiken Walker (SC, 1838-1921), among others. Galleries 5 & 6, Ongoing - "Modern & Contemporary Art from the Collection". Celebrating some of the CMA's greatest hits, this exhibition features over 30 paintings, drawings, photographs and sculptures from the Museum's collection that have not been on view recently. It offers the visitor experiences both serious and sensual and is designed to both entertain and enlighten. Notable works included are by Jasper Johns, Howard Thomas, Sally Mann and Edward Ruscha, whose famous image of the Hollywood Hills (on view) has become a staple of the art world. Ray Taylor Fair Gallery, Ongoing - Featuring a new and permanent installation of its ancient art collection. The installation includes approximately 50 objects that introduce the major ancient civilizations from the Mediterranean and Near East. Examples of the earliest form of writing from 12th century B.C. Mesopotamia, are shown next to Egyptian scarabs and Greek painted vessels. The world of the ancient Romans is represented by 2nd century glass and bronze items and portrait sculpture. Many of these works have not been seen since the Museum moved to its location on Main Street in 1998. The collection has grown over the last several years with the donation of 12 fine Roman sculptures in 2002 from Pennsylvania collector Dr. Robert Y. Turner. Admission: Yes, but there is no admission charge on Sun. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 11am-5pm; first Fri., till 8pm; Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun., noon-5pm. Contact: 803/799-2810 or at (www.columbiamu-

Goodall Gallery, Spears Music/Art Center, Columbia College, 1301 Columbia College Drive, Columbia. Through Dec. 27 - "Sanctuary and Spirit: Images of Georgia O'Keeffe by Todd Webb" with a companion ceramics show, "Nature Reimagined". The Goodall Gallery at Columbia College continues the Georgia O Reetie Center nial with an exhibition featuring black and white images by American photographer Todd Webb. The exhibition features twenty-five historical photographs of Georgia O'Keeffe by her friend, Todd Webb, offering a glimpse into the artist's home, studio and surrounding landscape. An accompanying ceramics show, "Nature Reimagined," is inspired by Georgia O'Keeffe's experience with macular degeneration later in life, when sculpture became her new means to work with forms she had long painted. The tactile exhibit will include clay sculptures by Mary Carlisle, adjunct art professor, as well as students and alumnae. Hours: Mon.-Wed., 10am-6pm; Thur.-Fri., 10am-7pm; and Sat.-Sun., 1-5pm.
