Weatherspoon Art Museum, University of North Carolina - Greensboro, Cone Building, Tate and Spring Garden Streets, Greensboro. 2nd Floor: The Bob & Lissa Shelley McDowell Gallery, Sept. 10 - Apr. 8, 2023 - "Gilded: Contemporary Artists Explore Value and Worth". Gilded features the work of Radcliffe Bailey, Larissa Bates, William cordova, Angela Fraleigh, Gajin Fujita, Nicholas Galanin, Liz Glynn, Shan Goshorn, Sherin Guirguis, Titus Kaphar, Hung Liu, James Nares, Ronny Quevedo, Shinji Turner-Yamamoto, Danh Vo, Stacy Lynn Waddell, and Summer Wheat. 2nd Floor, The Gregory D. Ivy and the Weatherspoon Guild Galleries, Through Dec. 3 - "Bestiary: Animals as Symbols and Metaphors". The Guild and Ivy galleries will be awash with an array of beasts this summer. No cause for concern, however, as this menagerie consists solely of two- and three-dimensional representations of familiar animals, many of which are quite benign and intriguing. Drawn from the museum's collection and arranged by species, the exhibition is a contemporary look at the old bestiary tradition. 2nd Floor, Gallery 6, Through Sept. 6 - "The Eye and the Ear: Animations by Mary Ellen Bute". From the mid 1930s to mid 1950s, artist Mary Ellen Bute produced more than a dozen pioneering animations that sought to allow viewers to see sound. Born and raised in Texas, Bute left home at sixteen to study painting at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. Frustrated by the limitations of working on canvas, she went on to train in stage lighting at Yale University before moving to New York where she forged collaborative relationships with innovators across professional fields and disciplines in the pursuit of presenting music through moving images. Sept. 17 - Jan. 7, 2023 - "Allora & Calzadilla | The Great Silence". The humans use Arecibo to look for extraterrestrial intelligence. Their desire to make a connection is so strong that they've created an ear capable of hearing across the universe. But I and my fellow parrots are right here. Why aren't they interested in listening to our voices? So begins artists' Allora & Calzadilla's poetic video, The Great Silence. Narrated by an endangered Puerto Rican parrot living near the world's largest radio telescope at the Arecibo Observatory, this eloquent film winds its way in just 16 minutes through musings on life and death, communication and misunderstanding, myth and science. 1st Floor: Weatherspoon Atrium Mural, Ongoing - "Pause and Breathe, We Got This," a mural by Sheena Rose. A homecoming is in the works. The Weatherspoon is excited to announce its commission of a major new artwork by artist Sheena Rose, MFA '16. A multidisciplinary artist working in animation, drawing, painting, and performance, Rose's vibrant and energetic work is at once anchored in her Caribbean heritage and expansive in its explorations of culture and human experience. Lobbies - Featuring works of art complementing current gallery exhibitions which are rotated in the atrium and public areas throughout both floors of the gallery. Tom Otterness' site-specific work, "The Frieze" is permanently installed in the atrium. Sculpture Courtyard - Featuring selections of American sculpture from 1900 to the present from the Weatherspoon Collection and on loan works from contemporary artists. Admission: Free. Hours: Tue.-Wed. & Fri.-Sat., from 10am-5pm and Thur., 10am-8pm. Greenville

Greenville Museum of Art, 802 South Evans Street, Greenville. Commons and West Wing Galleries, Through Sept. 24 - "Growing Up Queer In The South". The Greenville Museum of Art (GMOA) is thrilled to host Growing Up Queer in the South, a ground-breaking exhibition guest curated by Parks McAllister. "Growing Up Queer in the South" documents both the personal and shared experiences of LGBTQ+ folks through art influenced and inspired by the exhibiting artists' formative years spent in the American South. The Call for Artworks was open to all individuals, 18 years or older, who identify within the LGBTQ+ community and have spent part of their lives or could identify with "growing up" in the American South. An exhibition catalog will be printed in conjunction with "Growing Up Queer in the South" for sale in the GMOA gift shop starting in June. "Growing Up Queer in the South" is made possible by the generosity of exhibition sponsors Dr. Jesse R. Peel, Terry S. Hardy, Joe Esparza and Michael Aho, George Bailey, the Campaign for Southern Equality, the Dr. Jesse R. Peel LGBTQ Center at East Carolina University, and Acculink. The Francis Speight and Sarah Blakeslee Gallery, Ongoing - Is dedicated to the work of these two artists. Speight was born in Bertie County, North Carolina, and moved back to Greenville to teach at East Carolina University after spending a majority of his career at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. Blakeslee was born in Illinois and met Speight at the Academy as a student. The couple lived outside of Philadelphia until moving to Greenville in 1961. The Kenneth Noland Gallery, Ongoing - Celebrates the art and legacy of Black Mountain College, an innovative liberal arts college that operated between 1933 and 1957. Kenneth Noland, born in Asheville in 1924, attended Black Mountain College on the G. I. Bill from 1946 to 1948. He studied under Josef Albers and Ilya Bolotowsky, who introduced him to the work of artists interested in geometry and color. The Rachel Maxwell Moore Art Foundation Gallery, Ongoing - Features rotating works purchased for the Museum by the foundation. Rachel Maxwell Moore was a leading civic figure and arts advocate in Greenville. and was central to the founding of the Museum's predecessor in 1939. She established the Rachel Maxwell Moore Art Foundation in 1963, and before she passed away in 1964, bequeathed funds to the foundation for the sole purpose of purchasing works of art for the Museum's permanent collection. Ongoing - GMOA has a strong collection of North Carolina pottery, and especially from Jugtown Pottery in Seagrove, North Carolina. Jugtown Pottery was opened by Jacques and Juliana Busbee in 1921. They were influential at Jugtown and elsewhere in Seagrove by introducing local North Carolina potters to international ceramic styles and glazes. Much of our pottery collection was given to the Museum by Mrs. Lindsay Savage in 1948 and Dr. James H. Stewart in the 1980s. Admission: Free. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10-4:30pm. Contact: 252/758-1946 or at (www.gmoa.org).

Hickory

Full Circle Arts, 42-B Third Street NW, Hickory. Ongoing - Featuring works by member artists in a variety of mediums. Full Circle Arts is a not-for-profit educational organization whose mission is to encourage public appreciation and education for the arts. Hours: Wed.Fri., 11am-5pm & Sat., 10am-2pm. Contact: 828/322-7545 or at (www.fullcirclearts.org).

Hickory Museum of Art, Arts and Science Center, 243 Third Avenue NE, Hickory. Entrance, Coe and Windows Galleries, Through Sept. 11 - "7 BILLION ONES: A Randy Bacon Retrospective". Seven billion one-of-a-kind creations call this planet home - each of these "ones" being important, with a story that counts. Yet, the sad truth is that as humans, as the "ones", we easily get lost in the bigness of the world - the seven billion people. Humans lose sight that we each have a unique, compelling and inspiring story that needs to be told AND shared with the world. Shuford Gallery, Through Sept. 11 - "Catawba Valley through the Eyes of Robert C. Reed". Robert C. Reed has been a photojournalist in our region for nearly 50 years. This exhibition offers a glimpse at his career which has covered stories from the race riot at Hickory High in 1976, to the Zahra Baker murder in 2010, to everything in between and beyond. Whitener Gallery, Through Sept. 11 - "collect HMA: Story Portraits". This exhibition features portraits from the museum's collection paired with stories about the portrait sitter, artist, and other interesting tidbits about the artwork. Presented in conjunction with 7 BILLION ONES: A Randy Bacon Retrospective. Objects Gallery, Through Sept. 11 - "V.O.I.C.E.". This exhibition spotlights "V.O.I.C.E." (Volunteer Outreach in Community Efforts), an organization that provides support to homeless and veterans in our area. Services include: providing emergency supplies such as sleeping mats or sleeping bags (made
