Columbia Area

Georgia O'Keeffe, "Blue Line", 1919. Oil on canvas.

Columbia Museum of Art, Main & Hampton Streets, Columbia. Lipscomb Family Galleries, Oct. 9 - Jan. 10, 2016 - "Georgia O'Keeffe: Her Carolina Story," celebrates O'Keeffe's artistic breakthrough. Her "Carolina Story" brings together a selection of these early drawings, supplemented by O'Keeffe paintings that closely relate in chronology to the drawings. The National Gallery of Art in Washington, DC, the Georgia O'Keeffe Museum of Art in New Mexico, and the High Museum in Atlanta are the major lenders to the show. The exhibition is presented in partnership with Columbia College and their centennial celebration of O'Keeffe's time teaching there, "Ideas of My Own". Also on view during this time will be "Independent Spirits: Women Artists of South Carolina," an exhibition celebrating the creativity of contemporary women artists throughout the state. The Columbia Museum of Art announces an exciting exhibition of 14 works examining American painter Georgia O'Keeffe's intimate artistic epiphany experienced in Columbia, South Carolina. In 1915, Georgia O'Keeffe radically redefined herself as an artist. She found her voice with a series of black and white charcoal drawings she collectively titled Specials. What happened next is the stuff of legend: Her Charleston friend Anita Pollitzer took these drawings, unbeknownst to the artist, and showed them to New York photographer and gallery owner Alfred Stieglitz who proclaimed, "At last, a woman on paper." This was the beginning of one of the most important careers in all of American art. Mamie and William Andrew Treadway, Jr. Gallery 15, Through Feb. 7 - "The Art of Joseph Norman". These works include the complete series "Out at Home: The Negro Baseball League, Volume 1", and "Patti's Little White Lies". "Out at Home", a set of nine lithographs, explores the great accomplishments of African-American baseball greats like Jackie Robinson and Josh Gibson while also confronting the racist system in which these athletes worked and struggled. The five lithographs in "Patti's Little White Lies" comprise a deeply personal series, using art to deal with guilt and shame related to Norman's own experiences of being falsely accused of a crime. Both series are challenging and reflective, yet also starkly beautiful. Norman is currently a professor of drawing and painting at the University of Georgia's Lamar Dodd School of Art in Athens, GA. Caroline Guignard Community Gallery, Oct. 9 - Jan. 10, 2016 - "Independent Spirits: Women Artists of South Carolina". South Carolina has produced and nourished many "independent spirits," women who work against the social grain to pursue modern and experimental means of artistic expression. "Independent Spirits" is a selection of approximately 30 works by women from across the state, celebrating the creativity of contemporary women artists. Whether they work in painting, sculpture, assemblage, ceramics, or installation, these artists represent the undeniable role that women play in shaping the future of arts. BB&T Focus Gallery, Ongoing - "Southern Traditions," will showcase the richness and diversity of the Museum's collection of furniture, ceramics, silver, basketry, sculpture and paintings by artists native to, or active in, South Carolina and its surrounding states. Among the works on view will be fine silver made by Charleston and Columbia silversmiths; a sweet grass basket by Mary Jackson (SC, born 1945); wood carvings by Edgar Alexander McKillop (NC, 1879-1950); and paintings by Charles Fraser (SC, 1782-1860), Xanthus Russell Smith (SC, 1839-1929), William Harrison Scarborough (SC, 1812-1871), William Aiken Walker (SC, 1838-1921), among others. Galleries 5 & 6, Ongoing - "Modern & Contemporary Art from the Collection". Celebrating some of the CMA's greatest hits, this exhibition features over 30 paintings, drawings, photographs and sculptures from the Museum's collection that have not been on view recently. It offers the visitor experiences both serious and sensual and is designed to both entertain and enlighten. Notable works included are by Jasper Johns, Howard Thomas, Sally Mann and Edward Ruscha, whose famous image of the Hollywood Hills (on view) has become a staple of the art world. Ray Taylor Fair Gallery, Ongoing - Featuring a new and permanent installation of its ancient art collection. The installation includes approximately 50 objects that introduce the major ancient civilizations from the Mediterranean and Near East. Examples of the earliest form of writing from 12th century B.C. Mesopotamia, are shown next to Egyptian scarabs and Greek painted vessels. The world of the ancient Romans is represented by 2nd century glass and bronze items and portrait sculpture. Many of these works have not been seen since the Museum moved to its location on Main Street in 1998. The collection has grown over the last several years with the donation of 12 fine Roman sculptures in 2002 from Pennsylvania collector Dr. Robert Y. Turner. Admission: Yes, but there is no admission charge on Sun. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 11am-5pm; first Fri., till 8pm; Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun., noon-5pm. Contact: 803/799-2810 or at (www.columbimuseum.org).

McKissick Museum, University of South Carolina, USC Horseshoe, Columbia. 2nd floor North Gallery, Through Nov. 21 - "Guantanamo Public Memory Project," tells the history of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, from its establishment in 1898 to the present. In tracing this history using multimedia platforms, visitors will be able to explore and engage in the discussion of how changes in the Naval Base's use have embodied cultural, political, and legal trends in American history. As part of the exhibition, people affiliated with GTMO share their memories of the place, both positive and negative, as the exhibition seeks to foster an on-going dialogue about the future of GTMO and the policies it shapes. Ongoing - "Diverse Voices: Discovering Community Through Traditional Arts". Dedicated to the late George D. Terry, "Diverse Voices" explores deeply-rooted traditions that help create and maintain the cultural landscape of South Carolina and the surrounding region. Each year the exhibit will focus on a specific theme or tradition. Year one of "Diverse Voices" offers a comprehensive presentation of objects from the museum collection that represent the work of celebrated NEA National Heritage Fellows and Jean Laney Harris Folk Heritage Award recipients. Ongoing - "Highlights from the Permanent Collections of McKissick Museum". Permanent - "Baruch Silver Collection," a collection of the Baruch family silver. And, "Natural Curiosity: USC and the Evolution of Scientific Inquiry into the Natural World". Hours: Mon.-Fri., 8:30am-5pm & Sat., 11am-3pm. His architectural structure is 10 feet tall, 34 feet long and 18 feet wide and made of rebar, oat straw, jute, bamboo, reed and mulch. Parker created the work during his May residency at 701 CCA with several volunteer assistants. "Olympia Dialogue" is 701 CCA's first commissioned public art work. Hours: Wed., 11am-8pm; Thur.-Sat., 11am-5pm & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 803/238-2351 or at (www.701cca.org).

SC State Museum, 301 Gervais St., Columbia. Through 2015 - "The Coming of the Civil War," will look at the origins of the disagreement between South Carolina and the federal government, beginning with the nullification crisis of 1832-33. The exhibit will be augmented by five more single-topic exhibits through the sesquicentennial war years (2011-2015) until the expansion space is filled. Through Feb. 7, 2016 - "Carolina Makers". The exhibition, presented by Time Warner Cable, celebrates local makers, artists and craftspeople from South Carolina who are producing handmade objects for people all over the world. This exhibition brings to light the important contributions by local makers that sometimes may go unrecognized. Some of the featured makers include instrument builders, furniture makers, metal workers and clothing designers. Ongoing - Beautiful Lowcountry landscapes, farm labor and life growing up in rural South Carolina are all scenes depicted in "Time and Place: The Artwork of James Fowler Cooper". This new exhibition, opening on Sept. 19, tells the story of the Lowcountry through the eyes of South Carolina printmaker James Fowler Cooper. Cooper (1907-1968), a self-taught printmaker who grew up on a farm in Williamsburg, S.C., chronicled the people and places near his hometown through his work. Although he depicted scenes, he was not trying to tell a story. Instead, his focus was on his art and not his subjects. He never had the intention of becoming a commercial artist. In the early 1990s, Cooper's family donated a large collection of his original prints to the State Museum, and later in 2014, donated more than 100 plates. The exhibition will be comprised of a portion of these prints and plates - some of which will be seen by the public for the first time. The Crescent Café, second floor mezzanine of the Museum. The house menu offers a variety of baked goods, juices, coffee, hot chocolate and tea. Lunchtime offerings include deli sandwiches and alternating daily soups, as well as grilled chicken salads and sandwiches. And let's not forget the house specialty: spectacular fudge, handmade on-site. Museum Hours: Mon.-Sat., 10am-5pm; Sun., 1-5pm. Admission: Yes. Contact: call 803/898-4921 or at (http://scmuseum.org/).

Garner. The exhibition explores the capability of the brain to distort memories over time. Garner questions if the work of our subconscious often leaves us with stories in our minds that are slightly off, and sometimes wildly far from the truth. As a fiber art that is naturally repetitious, Garner found that churning VHS tapes became a metaphor for humanity's desire to replay memories over and over in an attempt to hold on to the past. Through Oct. 5 - "William H. Johnson: New Beginnings," features twenty one works from the life of Florence native, William Henry Johnson (1901-1970) selected from the collections of the Smithsonian American Art Museum, the Florence Museum Board of Trustees, the Johnson Collection, and a private collector in Denmark. This selection not only represents the range of distinct periods over the artist's prolific career, but it also offers a rare personal glimpse into the artist's relationship with
