Alleys as Galleries installation. Alleys as Galleries transforms York County, South Carolina's well-traveled alleys into art galleries that feature works by local and regional artists. Works by six York County high school students, Bruna Coelho, Luc Mercado, Paige Evans, Heather Lenti, Ashley Walsh, and Hunter Sigmond, were selected for a public art installation on the fence between Dust OFF Brewing Company and the Lowenstein Building along the Williams & Fudge fence line that faces White Street. Rosalind Sallenger Richardson Center for the Arts, Wofford College, Spartanburg. Lower Level, Richardson Family Art Museum, Through Dec. 14 - "Props: Personal Identities in the Portrait Photography," featuring works by Richard Samuel Roberts. The term "props" brings to mind the objects used in the theater that help establish the meaning of a scene. In this theater context, the word is shortened from "properties," things collectively owned by a theater group. But could the term also reflect the notion that props show "properties" of a character, offering layers of information and meaning to a viewer? "Props" is also a slang term, meaning "proper respect." This show analyzes props in photographic portraits taken by Richard Samuel Roberts between 1920 and 1936 to see the way that the "props" - most often objects chosen by the sitters themselves - tell us something about the self-identity of the sitters. The objects chosen often underscore the proper respect due the sitters based on their attainments, but also can give insights - in an otherwise very formulaic genre - into the inner desires and predilections of the sitters. "Props" thus can help us see beyond the surface, or, perhaps conversely, can reify socially-agreed upon tropes. Upper Level, Richardson Family Art Museum, Through Dec. 14 - "Southern Gothic: Intersections of Art and Literature in the Johnson Collection". Curator's Talk will be offered on Oct. 17, at 7pm, by Elizabeth Driscoll Smith. From the unsettling novels of William Faulkner to the gritty short stories of Flannery O'Connor, the Southern Gothic literary tradition has exhumed the American South's aberrations, contradictions, otherworldly landscapes and unique sense of dark humor. Drawing exclusively from the Johnson Collection, "Southern Gothic" examines how 19th- and 20th-century artists borrowed from their literary peers, using a potent visual language to address the tensions between the South's idyllic visions and its historical realities. The exhibition is guest curated by Elizabeth Driscoll Smith, a Ph.D. candidate in the history of art at the University of California, Santa Barbara, and the Johnson Collection's 2019 graduate fellow. Richardson Family Art Gallery, Through Dec. 20 - "Siendo Mujer: A Short Study of the Female Experience in South America". As Wofford College's 35th Presidential International Scholar,

Lydia Estes attempted to uncover the visual representation of "la mujer," or the woman, in the South American countries of Chile, Argentina, Uruguay and Peru. "Siendo mujer" means "being a woman," and this exhibition represents the conversations she shared with resilient, creative women for whom art plays a significant role in their female experiences and vice versa. It is further a collection of their artwork and Estes' photographs of these women, their spaces and moments that contribute to the story each is trying to tell through their work. Her research revealed more questions, such as how are women stereotypically portrayed in their societies? How are female artists confronting these images through their artwork, and how are the mediums they work in an aspect of their protest? And lastly, how will art change the female experience in future South American societies? Ongoing - Featuring the Cerise and Amber Persian Ceiling sculptures created by renowned American sculptor Dale Chihuly. Work by Paul Yanko

UPSTATE Gallery on Main, 172 E. Main Street, Spartanburg. Through Nov. 2 - "POP," featuring recent paintings in encaustic by Jeff Schaller. Effervescent and playful, Jeff Schaller's works celebrate both the sensuality of paint and our collective memory. Drawing upon references from popular culture and reflective of our contemporary, media-saturated, symbol-laden social environment, Schaller counterpoints our current "pop" sensibility with the use of the ancient, time-honored medium of encaustic painting. Nov. 15 - Dec. 28 - "Standing Migrating Sheltered Merged," featuring recent paintings by Paul Yanko. A reception will be held on Nov. 21, from 5-8pm, during Spartanburg ArtWalk. Yanko's sensuous and immensely satisfying paintings draw the viewer into a labyrinth of both complexity and caprice. Densely and brightly layered, architectonic yet playful, simultaneously lucid and oblique, the language of painting that Yanko has developed in his fine art practice over the course of his career is instantly recognizable as uniquely his own. A defining continuity in Yanko's work is the relationship of substructure and superstructure, both as painting process and as metaphor for growth, discovery, and the lamination of time. Ongoing - The gallery is dedicated to contemporary and original exhibitions that include selections from the permanent collection by artists Andy Warhol, Jerry Uelsmann and Beatrice Riese.
