

Artworks Gallery in Winston-Salem, NC, Offers Work by Owens O. Daniels

Artworks Gallery in Winston-Salem, NC, will present Owens O. Daniels: Shooting With My Feet In NYC, on view from Jan. 5 - 27, 2018. Receptions will be held on Jan. 5, from 7-10pm, and Jan. 13, from 2-5pm.

Fine art and gallery lovers will enjoy visual artist / photographer Owens Daniels, by taking a photographic walk through the streets of Harlem, Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx.

The exhibition consist of a curated collection of photographs and discussion about his experiences while visiting and exploring NYC, meeting a different photographer for the first time from Facebook, catching the metro subway to different sections of the city only to find that each stop was a different world from the other and how it felt to see the city by foot.

Work by Owen O. Daniels bringing this important exhibition by one of its own artist to a large crowd and community and starting the year off for art with a BANG!

Artworks Gallery: Spreading our Wings will be hosted in the Upstairs Gallery. Featuring works by 20 artists from Artworks Gallery. Artworks Gallery is an artist-run cooperative gallery located in Winston-Salem's downtown arts district since 1984. The Gallery is committed to offering local artists of all media a creative and responsive environment in which to exhibit and sell their work. There are usually from twenty to twenty-five members. The Gallery is located in the Ron Propst Studio Building and includes the studios and shops of painters, potters, photographers, calligraphers, and sculptors.

An article in the Winston-Salem Journal on the occasion of the Gallery's fifteenth anniversary exhibition in 1999 explained that: "Since Artworks Gallery opened its doors, it has been a constant presence in the art-based commercial district that has grown up around Sixth and Trade Streets."

For further information check our NC Institutional Gallery listings, call the gallery at 336/723-5890 or visit (www. Artworks-Gallery.org).

Francis Marion University in Florence, SC, Features Works by Elaine Quave and Neva Campbell

Ceramic sculptures by Greenville artist Elaine Quave and paintings by Myrtle Beach artist Neva Campbell will be on view in the Adele Kassab Gallery in the Hyman Fine Arts Center at Francis Marion University from Jan. 9 through Feb. 15, 2018. A reception will held on Jan. 12, from 6-8pm.

Both Quave and Campbell explore the natural world and our place within that world.

Quave states: "My ceramic sculptures evoke a garden, one reminiscent of a bleached coral reef in which the reflection of our own human nature is both terrifying and beautiful at the same time. Porcelain bones are arranged to resemble plants, each implying their own unique stories of our personal interactions with them."

Work by Elaine Quave

Campbell's series of works include insects, bones, sea creatures, and the human figure. She describes herself as "a modern impressionist using bright colors to convey emotional light and density" she finds inspiration in the South's dark history,

Work by Neva Campbell gorgeous vistas, and briny waters."

Quave received her MFA at the Tyler School of Art, Temple University and is also a graduate of the SC Governor's School for the Arts and Humanities, where she currently serves as an instructor.

Campbell is a graduate of the Art Institute of Atlanta and has worked as a graphic designer. She has returned to her native Myrtle Beach where she was named Best Artist for the 2016 Grand Strand Happening List, and has exhibited in Artfields three times.

sun's radiance to touch and uplift all"

Wang is an artist renowned for her ability to capture the radiance of nature in her exuberant expressionist painting where color and the touch of her paint brush infuse a sense of radiant vitality. Throughout the human history, virtually every culture has worshiped or honored the Sun. It is the artist's wish is to remind us today again of our everlasting quest to celebrate life and protect nature with our glorious and radiant sun.

With many exhibitions to her credit, Wang has been an exhibiting painter since her 1985 exhibit at the Gallery 91 Show, Soho, New York and most recently Shen Chang Art Gallery, Hangzhou, China in 2015. She has won numerous awards for her painting, most notably the Featured Artist Vistas Award in 2004 and 2005 at the NC Museum of Natural Sciences in Raleigh.

While always involved in her creative expressionist painting, since the 80's she has worked corporately as a designer and marketer for Sony Ericsson, Family Health International and Black and Decker. Most
