Weatherspoon Art Museum, University of North Carolina - Greensboro, Cone Building, Tate and Spring Garden Streets, Greensboro. The Leah Louise B. Tannenbaum Gallery and The Louise D. and Herbert S. Falk, Sr. Gallery, Through Apr. 8 - "Sanford Biggers: Falk Visiting Artist". On Mar. 15, at 7pm, Biggers will give the Falk Visiting Artist Talk. Multimedia artist Sanford Biggers creates artworks that intentionally complicate our understandings of history, culture, and identity. His densely layered paintings on antique southern quilts combine imagery from such disparate sources as Buddhism, graffiti, and harmonics. Linked by themes of navigation, these motifs simultaneously recall stories of quilts being used as markers on the Underground Railroad and star charts employed by astronomers. The Bob & Lissa Shelley McDowell Gallery, Jan. 27 - Apr. 22 - "Baggage Claims". The exhibition presents the work of 17 international artists who explore the impact of today's vast global commerce and travel on contemporary life. Using suitcases, trunks, and crates to create works of art, these artists express provocative ideas about the mobility of global culture. These ideas often refer to the humanitarian, economic, and political concerns of populations that are compelled to flee conflicts and hardship or to seek opportunities far from home. The Gregory D. Ivy Gallery and The Weatherspoon Guild Gallery, Through Feb. 11 - "For All Time: Interpretations of the Fourth Dimension from the Collection". The artworks included in this exhibition express a variety of ways artists have explored this multifarious concept, be it metaphorically, ironically, sequentially, or kinetically. The exhibition is organized by Elaine D. Gustafson, Curator of Collections. A Noon @ the 'Spoon, Public Tour will be offered on Oct 10, at noon. New WAM Atrium Installation, Though Jan. 31 - "Women Abstract Expressionists: Selections from the Collection". An art movement that came into being in the 1950s, Abstract Expressionism was seen as both the poster child of modernism and the symbol of all things avant-garde. Yet, the valorization of this style coincided with an unforeseen erasure of many of the female artists who also took part in it. These equally talented painters emerged from a variety of backgrounds and explored a range of artistic approaches. As a way to highlight their substantive contributions, this exhibition from the Weatherspoon's collection features paintings by five of these artists. The varieties of form, color, flow, and overall style stand as testament to the important innovations they made to the movement and further validate their right to recognition. By breaking away from Abstract Expressionism's cult of personality, they promoted new degrees of richness and depth (both of style and technique) that have brought new life to this defining period. Atrium and Lobbies - Featuring works of art complementing current gallery exhibitions which are rotated in the atrium and public areas throughout both floors of the gallery. Tom Otterness' site-specific work, "The Frieze" is permanently installed in the atrium. Sculpture Courtyard - Featuring selections of American sculpture from 1900 to the present from the Weatherspoon Collection and on loan works from contemporary artists. Admission: Free. Hours: Tue., Wed. & Fri., 10am-5pm, Thur., 10am to 9pm and Sat. & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 336/334-5770 or at (http://weatherspoon.uncg.edu/).
