

GreenHill in Greensboro, NC

2-5pm.

Each year Winter Show brings together over 120 artists from across North Carolina and beyond and constitutes a comprehensive survey of the finest art and craft being produced for sale. Visitors can enjoy holiday cookies and view Winter Show in a relaxed setting. Led by artist/educator Steven M. Cozart, student docents from Weaver Academy will be giving presentations on artists and works featured in Winter Show. Free and open to the public. Donations appreciated.

Come for the first time or return to GreenHill after enjoying Collector's Choice to have a more leisurely Winter Show experience with the event, Collector's Cocktails, on Dec. 7, from 5:30-7pm, and hear a talk by national art expert Phil Sanders, who will focus his talk on the role of the arts in our society, how collectors become patrons, and the artful economics of public and private development collaborations. Before and after the talk you will have ample opportunity to look for the perfect gift for your friends,

STARworks in Star, NC, Offers Ornament Sale - Dec. 3, 2016

The STARworks Gallery in Star, NC, will be decorated for the holiday season with more than 2,500 colorful hand-crafted glass and ceramic ornaments for sale on Dec. 3, from 10am to 4pm. Ornaments are hand-crafted by STARworks artists and interns, and come in all sizes, shapes and colors.

New Glass Star Ornament

STARworks Clay Studio artists have created ceramic crystalline ornaments that are new for this year. In addition to the familiar ball ornaments, STARworks glassblowers have created a star ornament that is new for this year, and plenty of candy canes and icicles.

There will be no advanced or reserved sales. Ornaments left after the sale will be available in STARworks gift shop, Mon.-Sat., from 10am-5pm, while supplies last. A limited selection of ornaments will be available online at (www.STARworksNC.org) after the sale. Prices start at $10. Payment options include cash, check or credit cards.

STARworks recommends people ar-

Village Art Circle in Cary, NC, Offers Works by E. Tracey Williams

Village Art Circle in Cary, NC, will present Beyond the Curtain, featuring a retrospective of work honoring the life of E. Tracey Williams, on view from Dec. 4 - 30, 2016. A reception and silent auction, to benefit the American Cancer Society, will be held on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 4, from 1-4 pm.

Please come out to honor and celebrate the life of E. Tracey Williams, longtime arts advocate in Cary, who passed away last year after a brave battle with cancer. A retrospective exhibition of paintings and collages by Ella, as she was known to all, will be showcased at the Village Art Circle.

Williams was a larger than life personality whose petite frame belied her strength of purpose, vision, drive and passion for the arts. She was one of the few truly fearless creative souls many of us in Cary have known. She grew up and lived her life within the Salvation Army, devoting herself to the mission, and yet very few of her friends in the artworld were aware of her commitment and faith as she never mentioned this private side of her life.

This show and benefit is named for a painting Williams did, called Beyond the Curtain, which in retrospect seems a pro-
