Japanese Actor Print

Weatherspoon Art Museum, University of North Carolina - Greensboro, Cone Building, Tate and Spring Garden Streets, Greensboro. Through June 5 - "2011 UNCG Master of Fine Arts Thesis Exhibition". The exhibition features work by six artists in the University of North Carolina at Greensboro's Department of Art graduate program: Amanda Nicholas (drawing),

Andrew Etheridge (sculpture), Isabelle Abbot (painting), Jody Christian (drawing), Jonathan Cobbs (painting/sculpture), and Maurice Moore (drawing). A reception will be held on May 1, at 2pm. Through June 19 - "Drawing Us In: Highlights of American Drawing from the Permanent Collection". The Weatherspoon owns approximately 3,600 works on paper, of which 1,430 are unique drawings. Recognized nationally for their strength and breadth, many are part of the Dillard Collection of Art on Paper. Since 1965, the museum has enjoyed the corporate benefaction of the Dillard Paper Company - now xpedx. The company's generous support has enabled both the presentation of the museum's Art on Paper exhibitions and, through the Dillard Fund, the development of an important collection of art on paper. Through Aug. 7 - "Encore!: Japanese Actor Prints from the Permanent Collection". During the early 1700s in Japan, a new form of artistic expression known as ukiyo-e—or floating world pictures—developed. Ukiyo-e often depicted the escapist and ephemeral pleasures offered at the time by the entertainment districts of the cities of Edo (present-day Tokyo) and Osaka. Although very different in character, two popular forms of entertainment were Noh and Kabuki theater. While Noh plays demonstrated an economy of expression and limited repertoire, Kabuki theaters were lively places to see and be seen. Kabuki plays provided a day's worth of entertainment, offering the latest fashion trends and newest music in addition to engaging stories performed by famous actors who held the almost iconic stature that actors today possess. Through Aug. 7 - "Persian and Indian Miniatures". Appearing sometime between the 10th and 12th century, Indian miniature paintings hold a special place in the history of art. Similar to Western illuminated manuscripts, they were first etched on palm leaves and used as illustrations to manuscript texts. Eventually these small-scale, highly detailed paintings were produced as works of art in their own right to convey scenes of courtly life, episodes from religious texts, beautiful landscapes, and rajas from classical Indian music, to name but a few themes. Through Aug. 21 - "Rackstraw Downes: Onsite Paintings, 1972-2008". This is the first major survey exhibition of paintings by the British-born, Yale-educated painter Rackstraw Downes (b. 1939), who divides his time between New York and Texas and has been painting exterior and interior panoramic scenes of the American land- and urban-landscape for over thirty-five years. The exhibition consists of approximately thirty-two works, many of them multiple-part paintings, created between 1972 and 2008. Atrium and Lobbies - Featuring works of art complementing current gallery exhibitions which are rotated in the atrium and public areas throughout both floors of the gallery. Tom Otterness' site-specific work, "The Frieze" is permanently installed in the atrium. Sculpture Courtyard - Featuring selections of American sculpture from 1900 to the present from the Weatherspoon Collection and on loan works from contemporary artists. Admission: Free. Hours: Tue., Wed. & Fri., 10am-5pm, Thur., 10am to 9pm and weekends, 1-5pm. Contact: 336/334-5770 or at (<http://weatherspoon.uncg.edu/>).

Highlands

Work by Richard Ritter

The Bascom, a center for the visual arts, 323 Franklin Rd., covered bridge entrance at the end of Main Street, Highlands. Through June 12 - "Artist and Instructor". The gift of creating works of art, sharing and mentoring are the common threads amongst these artists. Get a preview of works by these nationally acclaimed artists who will be teaching at The Bascom this summer. Through July 4 - "The American Still Life: Yesterday and Today". A competition which will include a combination of works by contemporary American artists selected by our juror and historical still life examples borrowed from museums. Still life derives from the Dutch word stilleven, coined in the 17th century when paintings of objects enjoyed immense popularity throughout Europe. This exhibit explores the historical precedent and the evolution of the practice in the work of portraying inanimate objects and presents some of the innovative ways artists today are exploring this traditional genre. Through June 26 - "Richard Ritter: Glass". Each piece of glass in this presentation captures a moment in Ritter's eventful career. As a young man, Ritter was involved in the growth of the American studio glass movement and studied with many of the early artists leading the way. Today, he continues to inspire and influence as an artist and teacher. This exhibition, traveling to Highlands, will include current and retrospective works by Ritter
