Hilton Head Island Area

Art League of Hilton Head Gallery, at the Arts Center of Coastal Carolina, 14 Shelter Cove Lane, Hilton Head Island. June 1 - 25 - "Every Artist has a Point of View," featuring works by two Lowcountry artists, Georgina Kimbell and Kendra Natter. A reception will be held on June 1, from 5-7pm. Natter's photographs and Kimbell's paintings will convey their love of the Lowcountry. Kimbell enjoys the challenge of every new painting. She is inspired by humor, her grandchildren and her passion to become a better artist. Kimbell implores anyone interested in creating art to "be brave, try everything until you begin to see yourself in your art." Natter has not been far from her camera since she began taking photographs in 2011. She was born hard of hearing and being able to use her eyes to capture beauty is something she never

ALTERNATE ART SPACES - North Charleston North Charleston City Hall, 2500 City Hall Lane, North Charleston. 1st & 2nd floors, Through June 20 - "10th Annual African American Fiber Art Exhibition - A Piece of Peace". This annual, juried exhibit showcases works in fiber created by African American artists from the US and Canada. The 10th installment features pieces by 38 artists inspired by the concept of peace. This year's theme challenged artists to create a fiber work, such as an art quilt, doll, wearable art piece, etc., that expresses their personal vision of peace. In today's world, many are feeling lost, frightened, or overwhelmed. Life can often feel tumultuous and fractured. Where can one go to find a "piece of peace"? For some, it's through a long meditation, a walk in the woods, or a good book. Others find it through action - caring for a beloved child or aging parent, spending time with an animal friend, worshipping in a sacred space, or working towards social justice to help change the world in both small and large ways. Curated by award-winning and nationally exhibiting textile artist, Torreeah "Cookie" Washington, this unique opportunity offers African American fiber artists a showcase to exhibit their original and innovative designs executed in a variety of traditional and non-traditional fiber techniques. 2nd floor, Through June 30 - "Lowcountry Kitchens," featuring works by Daryle Halbert. Local artist Daryle Halbert became very interested in the rich African American history and culture of the South Carolina and Georgia Lowcountry upon relocating to Charleston from Philadelphia in 2011. His most recent paintings depict scenes of Lowcountry cuisine, agriculture, music, and folklore. In Lowcountry Kitchens he presents a collection of works focused on the culinary symbols and traditions unique to the Gullah-Geechee culture. Halbert currently works from his home studio in Goose Creek, SC, is a member of the Charleston Artist Guild, and offers residencies to North Charleston schools and community groups as the City of North Charleston's 2015/16 Artist-in-Residence. 3rd floor, Through June 30 - "Baltimore, Munich and a Chinese Restaurant," featuring works by Andrew Brown. Brown's abstract paintings and drawings challenge the viewer's perception through the use of illusionistic elements. His work is an interpretation of space, surface, and experience. Recently, the Florida based artist has begun to investigate and answer questions regarding the fractured nature of how people experience their immediate surroundings, more specifically as they relate to the role of digital media in their lives and environmental
