Work by Saba Taj

The Sumter County Gallery of Art in Sumter, SC, is presenting timely exhibitions of the work of two young artists, William Paul Thomas Loved Ones and Saba Taj Muslims Are Awesome on view through June 23, 2017. These are unusual times to be an artist and the recent presidential election has left many people feeling vulnerable and unwelcome in their own country. Both Thomas and Taj belong to communities that are experiencing a heightened sense of anxiety as their status as Americans is questioned. Karen Watson, Director of the Sumter County Gallery of Art observes, "it is more important than ever to provide an opportunity for the voices and visions of these artists to be seen and heard. The Sumter County Gallery of Art is committed to presenting challenging art that, we hope, will increase understanding and break down barriers." For further information check our SC Institutional Gallery listings, call the gallery at 803/775-0543 or visit (www.sumtergallery.org).

N. C. Wyeth (American, 1882–1945), 1944. Oil on hardboard. Bank of America Collection

The Mint Museum Randolph in Charlotte, NC, is presenting The Wyeths: Three Generations, Works from the Bank of America Collection, on view through Aug. 13, 2017. This exhibition is a testament to the profound artistic impact made by the Wyeth family, providing a window onto the careers of five of the family's artists through more than fifty remarkable paintings and drawings. For more than a century, the members of the Wyeth family have been renowned for creating works of art that fascinate and captivate the imaginations of their viewers, making the Wyeth tradition one of the most enduring and celebrated legacies in all of American art. For further information check our NC Institutional Gallery listings, call the Museum at 704/337-2000 or visit (www.mintmuseum.org).

Installation by Jonathan Brilliant

The Hickory Museum of Art in Hickory, NC, is presenting Hickory Sticks, featuring a new installation by Jonathan Brilliant, on view through Sept. 9, 2017. The artist will laboriously weave 50,000+ wooden coffee stirrers to create a site-responsive, colossal sculpture influenced by the gallery's 25 foot ceiling and unique architectural features – spiral staircases and Palladian windows. Visitors will be able to walk under and around the undulating walls of this structure. The woven stirrers are held in place without the use of adhesives; tension and compression are what gives the structure strength and stability. Complementary smaller installations comprised of coffee cup sleeves, disposable lids and coffee stain wall drawings will also be included in the exhibition. For further information check our NC Institutional Gallery listings, call the Museum at 828/327-8576 or visit (www.HickoryArt.org).

Halsey Institute of Contemporary Art, The Marion and Wayland H. Cato Jr. Center for the Arts, College of Charleston School of the Arts, 161 Calhoun St., Charleston. Through July 8 - "Tom Stanley: Scratching the Surface". Over the past several decades, Tom Stanley has utilized sgraffito as a significant component of his abstract paintings. Popular in the Italian Renaissance of the 15th and 16th centuries, sgraffito refers to the practice of scratching a layer of paint to reveal a contrasting layer beneath it. In his geometric abstractions, the sgraffito adds an inherently expressive quality, creating a contrast between the frenzied scratching and his clinically precise lines and forms. His works also explore the history of painting techniques: beyond sgraffito, his works often contain drips of paint evoking Abstract Expressionism, and his expressive lines recall Surrealist automatic drawing. Hours: Mon.-Sat., 11am-4pm and open till 7pm on Thurs. Contact: Mark Sloan at 843/953-4422 or at (www.halseycofc.edu).

Work by Peter Scala

Saul Alexander Foundation Gallery, Charleston County Public Library, 68 Calhoun St., Charleston. June 1 - 30 - "Contemplate," featuring works by Peter Scala. When Scala talks about his work, he says, "My artwork is surrealistic. I do not paint what I see, I paint what I feel." Scala learned to paint from his parents who were Greenwich Village artists. Beginning in 2001, Scala traveled, lived, and painted in the subcontinent of Asia and East and Southwest Africa. He has felt and witnessed life's diversity in his travels, and he advises viewers that his paintings require study to find the human moment. Hours: Mon.-Thur., 9am-8pm; Fri. & Sat., 9am-6pm; and Sun. 2-5pm. Contact: Frances Richardson at 843/805-6803 or at (www.ccpl.org).
