Columbia Music Festival Association (CMFA), 914 Pulaski Street, Columbia. Ongoing - Fiber and installation artist Susan Lenz has been given a unique opportunity to create new work for a solo exhibition at Waterworks Visual Arts Center in Salisbury, NC, which will be on view from Sept. 9, 2017 through Jan. 3, 2018. The show is called "In Stitches" and will mostly feature works from Lenz's "Stained Glass" and "In Box" fiber series. Waterworks' executive director, Anne Scott Clement challenged Lenz to approach the 24-foot back wall with a totally different series... "CIRCLES", a celestial installation of orbs in response to the coming summer's total solar eclipse. In order to successfully create this installation, Lenz needed a large wall on which to hang the "work-in-progress". CMFA graciously provided their venue. Over the coming weeks, Lenz will be regularly adding new circles, standing back to evaluate the size and relationship between the objects, calculate the number of orbs needed, and experimenting with different finishing techniques. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 10am-6pm. For information e-mail to (cmfasc5678@gmail.com), call 803/771-6303 or call Lenz at 803/254-0923 or visit (www.susanlenz.com).

More than 50 works are included in this exhibition that explores the viewpoint of African-American artists. The earliest examples are clay vessels made by enslaved potter and poet David Drake along with an 1850 painting View of Asheville, North Carolina by free man of color Robert Duncanson. The exhibition also features works by such 20th-century luminaries as William H. Johnson, Romare Bearden, and Jacob Lawrence. More contemporary highlights include Kara Walker, Carrie Mae Weems, Leo Twiggs, Gary Grier, and Jonathan Green. Through Aug. 27 - "Grainger McKoy: Recovery Stroke". Grainger McKoy (born 1947) moved with his family at a young age to Sumter, South Carolina. McKoy attended Clemson University, earning a degree in zoology, while also studying architecture. After graduating, McKoy apprenticed for 18 months with the renowned bird carver Gilbert Maggioni in Beaufort, South Carolina. McKoy initially produced realistic carvings, but slowly began transforming these intricately carved birds into gravity-defying sculptures that played with form and space, while continuing to accurately render each species in detail. His work has been shown at the High Museum of Art, Brandywine River Museum, Brookgreen Gardens, and many other galleries. Through Sept. 10 - "Wyeth Dynasty". Andrew Wyeth (1917 - 2009), regarded as one of the most important American artists of the 20th century, launched his career in 1937 with a sold-out exhibition of his watercolors in New York. On the occasion of the young artist's remarkable debut, his father and mentor, noted illustrator N.C. Wyeth wrote him a congratulatory letter prophesying, "You are headed in the direction that should finally reach the pinnacle in American art." Through Oct. 22 - "Victoria Wyeth: My Andy," offers an intimate look at Andrew Wyeth's world. In celebration of the 100th anniversary of Andrew Wyeth's birthday, the Greenville County Museum of Art presents "Victoria Wyeth: My Andy". Comprised of more than 30 black-and-white photographs, the exhibition offers an intimate look at the late Andrew Wyeth's world via the lens of his only grandchild, Victoria. Ongoing - "South Carolina Icons". Consider the work of three African-American artists from South Carolina, David Drake, William H. Johnson, and Merton Simpson. Their work echoes the stories of slavery, the struggle for equality, and the Civil rights movement. Admission: Free. Hours: Wed.-Sat., 10am-6pm and Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 864/271-7570 or at (www.gcma.org).

Museum & Gallery at Heritage Green, Buncombe and Atwood Streets, downtown Greenville. Through Aug. 31 - "The Art of Sleuthing," inviting sleuths of all ages to explore the intrigues of forgery, provenance, steganography and Nazi-looted art. "It's coming to see art in a new way," said M&G curator John Nolan. Nolan's description is accurate as The Art of Sleuthing blends both the creative and scientific aspects of art together in an enticing manner. A primary highlight of the exhibit showcases two stellar examples of forgery, including a loan from the National Gallery of Art in Washington, DC. Titled "The Smiling Girl", this piece was originally attributed to Vermeer until closer investigation proved it a fraud. Continuing the theme, the forged "Still Life with Fruit" on loan from the Nasher Museum of Art at Duke University exemplifies modern art fakes. Admission: Yes. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm and Sun. 2-5pm. Contact: 864/770-1331 or visit M&G's website at (www.bjmg.org).
