College of Charleston in Charleston, SC, Offers Annual Student Exhibit

Installation image by Rick Rhodes Photography of a previous exhibition.

The Collage of Charleston in Charleston, SC, will present Young Contemporaries 2025, on view at The Halsey Institute of Contemporary Art, from Feb. 7 through Mar 15, 2025.

Now in its 40th year, the Halsey Institute of Contemporary Art and the College of Charleston Studio Art Department are proud to present Young Contemporaries 2025. The annual exhibition celebrates talented artists at the College of Charleston. With works selected by a nationally renowned juror, the exhibition reflects the strength and diversity of practice in the School of the Arts' rigorous programs. Featuring a wide range of media and subjects, the exhibition showcases the creativity of the student body at the College.

Allen Frame will serve as the juror and awards judge for Young Contemporaries 2025.

Concurrent with Young Contemporaries is the Salon des Refusés, shown in the first floor of the Cato Center for the Arts. The works in the Salon are chosen by Studio Art faculty. The origin of a

Salon des Refusés dates to Paris in 1863, when artists who had been rejected from the official Salon caused such a protest that Emperor Napoleon III ordered another exhibition held for them. Among the painters in the original Salon des Refusés were Camille Pissaro, Henri Fantin-Latour, James M. Whistler, and Edouard Manet.

The Halsey Institute of Contemporary Art at the College of Charleston School of the Arts provides a multidisciplinary laboratory for the production, presentation, interpretation, and dissemination of ideas by innovative visual artists from around the world. As a non-collecting museum, we create meaningful interactions between adventurous artists and diverse communities within a context that emphasizes the historical, social, and cultural importance of the art of our time.

Charleston Artist Guild in Charleston, SC, Features Works by Paul Visserman

The Charleston Artist Guild in Charleston, SC, will present Pursue What You Love, a captivating collection of artwork by artist Paul Visserman, on view in the Guild Gallery, from Feb. 1 - 28, 2025. A reception will be held on Feb. 7, from 5-8pm.

Paul Visserman's art is a celebration of his lifelong passion for fishing, wildlife, and adventure. Having traveled to over 50 countries in pursuit of nature's wonders, Paul now resides in Charleston, South Carolina, where he creates distinctive, collectible works of art.

Using torn copper sheets, Visserman employs low-relief embossing techniques to craft intricate designs that capture the essence of gamefish, animals, birds, and other creatures he has encountered during his journeys. Each piece is completed with an aged copper patina finish, giving it a timeless charm in any style of home or office decor.

Visserman's artwork is designed to evoke a sense of adventure and foster a deep appreciation for the natural world. His creations serve as daily reminders to connect with nature's beauty, relive cherished memories, and pursue one's passions with the same fervor that fuels his creative journey.

Pursue What You Love invites viewers to connect with nature, relive cherished memories, and embrace their passions.

The Charleston Artist Guild Gallery is located on East Bay Street, Charleston.

Editorial COMMENTARY

by Tom Starland, Editor and Publisher

On Our Cover This Month

On our cover this month are a few works by Toni M. Elkins, NWS, WHS, of Columbia, SC. She is having an exhibition at the University of South Carolina's Koger Center for the Arts in Columbia, SC, in conjunction with the Jasper Project. This show, Remembering Three, will be on view February 20 - March 19, 2025, in The Nook, 2nd Floor Rotating Gallery. A reception will be held on Feb. 20, from 5:30-7pm.

Elkins exhibits her work all over the United States in juried shows and competitions. She is a major force in the Columbia art community, having served as the Superintendent of Fine Art for the South Carolina State Fair in Columbia for ten years. She also started the Facebook group, Artists Friends & Collectors, which now has over 3000 members and has sold over 60 works of art by Columbia area artists. Read about her exhibit on Page 15.

Remember February Only Has 28 Days

It's February, which is the worst month for us to produce our March issue in just four days. Our deadline is always the 24th of the month at 5pm, leaving only four days to complete an issue - an issue which is usually pretty big. So, if you can, don't wait until the deadline to send in your info this month. Those late arrivals really stick in my mind. I don't know how Linda, my better half feels about it, but I know I'll be pushing the panic button by the 20th if certain folks haven't sent their info yet. They know who I'm talking about, but unfortunately they don't seem to ever read my commentary or, and I hate to believe this, but they just might not care. But I must remind people, that this is a free publication and the only folks I'm obligated to include are those who are doing paid advertising. I want to include everyone, but that's the facts, Jack! Please don't be a last minute contributor.

WNC Artists Being Featured in Shows Everywhere

As you scan through this issue you will begin to notice that WNC artists who were effected by Hurricane Helene are being featured in shows all over North Carolina and even in parts of South Carolina. Many of these artists lost their studios and galleries where they showed their work, some even lost their homes. Various institutional and commercial venues are featuring these artists in hopes that people will come to these exhibits and buy some of the works being featured - folks, they need the money - it is going to be a long recovery and Winter for these folks. Help them if you can.

It's Always California

Whenever there is a major disaster in the Carolinas, California is sure to steal the spotlight soon after.

Back on Sept. 22, 1989, Hurricane Hugo hit Charleston, SC, as a Category 4 storm. The storm caused widespread damage, including significant damage to downtown Charleston and uninhabitable homes in beach towns. Less than a month later, on Oct. 17, 1989, the Loma Prieta earthquake occurred on the Central Coast of California. It happened during a national live broadcast of the 1989 World Series stealing all attention from the disaster Hurricane Hugo caused in the Carolinas. Remember, Hugo defied the logic that hurricanes lose their punch when they make landfall - tell that to those

She has a multicultural background which manifests itself in her style and her art. She was born in Poland, but spent her formative years growing up in the Soviet Union under the careful, ever-present eyes of the communist government; this gives her knowledge of life and different cultures and a depth to her art.

Trained as a Russian and French Literature and Language teacher in Baku, Azerbaijan, she had to adjust her life after immigrating to the United States. Her love for art brought her to the Montclair State University (NJ) where she received her Master's degrees in Fine Arts and Art History. She also studied design and painting at the International American University and the Marshutz School of Art in Aix-en-Provence, France.

Padlowski has now dedicated herself to painting and making soft sculptures from recycled materials.

Padlowski's soft sculptures, both whimsical and quirky, are based on mythical stories, operas and fairytales. Her paintings have a very personal cast: the marriage of Russian, Azerbaijani and Eastern European cultures. Her art is unpredictable and uniquely attractive. Padlowski's paintings sometimes express sadness and despair, while at other times they are bursting with happiness and colors. She calls her art a "symbolic fantasy". Each painting contains a certain symbolic meaning. Her paintings while contemporary and often non-conformist, are also influenced by classical literature and art.

While visiting South Carolina, she was charmed by the beauty of its nature and found inspiration everywhere: majestic mountains, enchanting forests, flowers and gifts from the garden often became a subject matter for her paintings.

After permanently relocating to South Carolina from the NY metropolitan area, she became an actively exhibiting member of Waccamaw Arts & Crafts Guild, Charleston Artist Guild and Seacoast Artist Guild.

Presently she resides in Conway, SC with her husband and little cat Lin.

Work by Ben Owen III of Ben Owen Pottery

This exhibit will offer a range of pottery from everyday contemporary utilitarian ware and one of a kind vessels, to sculptural creations, folk art and historical forms of the past. History is embedded in this community going back several generations when clay was dug out of the hills surrounding Seagrove and processed for use. This is still the case today individually and through the assistance of the Ceramic Supply Shop at Starworks in Star, North Carolina.

Join us for our exciting show, and in the future, make a plan to spend a day or two discovering Seagrove and experience the diversity of these amazing accomplished North Carolina potters.

Experience Seagrove's pottery tradition on a self-guided tour of over 50 working studios in the Handmade Pottery Capital of the United States. For information visit (www.DiscoverSeagrove.com).

For further information check our SC Institutional Gallery listings, call the Center at 843/900-3225 or visit (<https://publicworksartcenter.org/>).

The deadline each month to submit articles, photos and ads is the 24th of the month prior to the next issue. This will be Feb. 24th, at 5pm for the March 2025 issue (don't be late for this one) and Mar. 24, at 5pm for the April 2024 issue. After that, it's too late unless your exhibit runs into the next month. But don't wait for the last minute - send your info now. And where do you send that info? # Charleston Crafts Co-op in Charleston, SC, Offers Exhibition Focused on Romance

Charleston Crafts Co-op in Charleston, SC, will present Sweet Nothings: Romance at the Gallery, on view from Feb. 7 - 28, 2025. A reception will be held on Feb. 7, from 5-8pm.

The month of February brings time to appreciate and adore our loved ones. The iconic heart and dominance of red and pink resonates with crafts people this time of year. Whether you are reminding someone how special they are, or lighting a new spark, the gallery artists feed on emotion and make exquisitely crafted works of art that will be cherished for years to come.

Work by Selma Andrews

Inspired by red, Selma Andrews incorporates this bold color into her handmade polymer beads creating unique pieces to wear! Aimee Fitzgerald uses the heart as a symbol of love in her mosaic works. Hand Knit wearables by Nancy Warren, are a sure way to melt hearts.

Work by Nancy Warren

While these members are in the spotlight, the work of all the Gallery's members is on display and available for purchase, including jewelry, wood puzzles, encaustic paintings, mixed media collages, fiber art, apparel and accessories, as well as functional and decorative objects in wood, ceramic and glass.

Charleston's destination for Fine Craft since 1989, the gallery is located on East Bay Street, in the heart of the French Quarter in downtown Charleston. The gallery is staffed by its member-artisans. Charleston Crafts Cooperative Gallery is a dynamic community of more than two dozen jury-selected artisans, all from South Carolina, making this the city's only exclusively local craft gallery.

Editorial Commentary

on the path from Charleston to Columbia and then Charlotte. Here at the headquarters of Shoestring Publishing, on the eastern shore of Lake Moultrie - 50 miles from the coast, we were hit badly. It took almost a year to recover.

Now, after Hurricane Helene did its damage, traveling through Florida and Georgia to hit Western North Carolina and Upstate South Carolina - along comes the California fires. And all attention turns once again to the West Coast.

I'm not saying that's not a disaster too, but could the country deal with two disasters at a time? And soon the disaster taking place over the next four years will take all the attention away from everything.

All I'm saying is, lets don't forget about all the victims of Hurricane Helene. California is just one disaster after another. It will hopefully recover in time for the next one.

USC-Beaufort in Beaufort, SC, Features Works by John W. Jones and Margaret Seidler

The University of South Carolina at Beaufort in Beaufort, SC, is presenting "Payne-ful" Business: Charleston's Journey to Truth, a powerful art exhibit of works by John W. Jones and author Margaret Seidler, on view through Feb. 20, 2025. A Conversation with the artist will be offered on Feb. 5, from 1-3pm. Hosted by the CFA and OLLI at the USCB Center for the Arts.

This exhibit is a collaborative effort between Charlestonian author Margaret Seidler and Columbia-based artist John W. Jones. It features over 40 striking paintings created by Jones using oils, acrylics, and watercolors. The works are inspired by Seidler's historical research into her family history, which uncovered her connection to William Payne, her great-grandfather and a domestic slave trading auctioneer.

Jones draws upon Payne-era newspaper ads that promoted the sale of enslaved individuals skilled in trades such as blacksmithing, cooking, child nursing, and brick masonry. Through his art, Jones transforms these ads into a compelling visual narrative that honors the vast and often overlooked contributions of enslaved people, while highlighting the magnitude of their labor. Each piece is accompanied by the text of the original newspaper advertisements, providing an important historical context.

before and during the American Civil War. Banknotes of the era often depicted slaves as happy workers on the cotton plantations. Jones has said he intended to demonstrate that banknotes served a propaganda purpose in depicting slavery as a natural state of affairs and one on which the Southern states' economies rested. Jones recreated these scenes in large color paintings, using models and posing them as in the original etched images. He exhibited his paintings next to the banknote with the original etching.

Society of Bluffton Artists in Bluffton, SC, Features Works by Local School Students

The Society of Bluffton Artists in Bluffton, SC, will present its annual High School Art Show, featuring works by emerging talent from Local Schools, on view from Feb. 3 - 28, 2025. A reception will be held on Feb. 8, from 3-5pm, at the SOBA Gallery.

This much-anticipated exhibition showcases the creative works of talented students from Bluffton High School, Cross High School, and May River High School.

"SOBA's mission is to provide art education and art appreciation to the local community," said Lynn Newsom, SOBA event organizer. "With this annual high school art show, we're able to give students an opportunity for public recognition for their talents and achievements, the same that is given to student athletes, science projects, and music concerts."

The exhibit provides students with a platform to display their creativity in a professional gallery setting while offering the community a chance to appreciate the next generation of artists. Participating students have created works across a variety of mediums, reflecting their unique voices and artistic growth.

Kristen Munroe, Visual Arts Teacher at Bluffton High School, emphasized the value of this event for her students. "This yearly show is a big event for us, especially as a means of exposing students to the real-world gallery experience of the professional artist," she said. Bluffton High's diverse program includes Ceramics, Drawing, Media Arts, Painting, and Photography, giving students the opportunity to explore and refine their creative talents.

Elizabeth Schlieger, AP Studio Art and Visual Art Educator and Fine Arts Department Chair at May River High School, highlighted her students' commitment to artistic exploration. "Our visual art department strives to develop a strong foundation in art and design while giving students opportunities to refine their skills as they develop their voices as young artists," she said. A student participating in the exhibit shared, "Ceramics is a great outlet for my creative energy. Creating the stamps for these mugs was a real learning experience, and I was really happy with the final results."

Cross School's growing arts program will showcase a range of works in photography, digital painting, and traditional media. "We are excited to participate again this year and appreciate the opportunity to showcase our work in the community," said a Cross School representative. This year's exhibition demonstrates the school's commitment to fostering creativity and artistic expression among its students.

The reception on Feb. 8 will be an opportunity for the public to meet these talented young artists, view their work, and learn more about the vibrant art education programs offered at their schools.

The Society of Bluffton Artists (SOBA) is Bluffton's flourishing art hub located in the heart of the historic district at the corner of Church and Calhoun Streets. The nonprofit organization is dedicated to providing art education and appreciation to the community through regular art classes, exhibitions, and featured artist shows.

Greenville Center for Creative Arts in Greenville, SC, Features Works by Carrie Creech and Gerri Green

The Greenville Center for Creative Arts in Greenville, SC, is presenting, In Motion, an exhibition of works by Carrie Creech and Gerri Green, on view in their Community Gallery, through Feb. 26, 2025.

In Motion features the artworks of Carrie Creech and Gerri Green, whose practices explore movement and memory in painting and ceramics. Creech presents a series of ceramic vessels that capture fleeting gestures and fluidity within clay. Creech's forms explore the dichotomy of space and surface, punctuated by curves and seams that embody a sense of captured motion.

Gerri Green's paintings celebrate the tranquility and ever-changing landscapes of the Blue Ridge Mountains. Green's work captures the subtle motion of wind through trees, water, and clouds, offering glimpses of the natural beauty within national and state parks. Together, Creech & Green evoke the dynamics of nature and form.

Gerri Greene, a Canadian artist based in the United States, draws inspiration from the modern and abstract landscape movements of the 1920s. With a foundation in versatility across mediums.

Much of Greene's subject matter focuses on the striking natural beauty of South Carolina, capturing the essence of its diverse landscapes - from the tranquil marshes to the majestic mountains - with depth and artistic vibrancy.

Carrie Creech was raised in the curiosity of sound and shape. From there she explored various materials and methods but found her grounding in clay.

She secured her undergraduate degree from Clemson University in ceramics under Mike Vatalaro and Sue Grier. Following, she continued her studies through various residencies (The Bascom & Starworks), assisting a wealth of ceramic artists (such as Suze Lindsay, Akira Sitake, Lindsay Oesteritter, and Kevin Snipes, etc.) and most recently - an apprenticeship with Penland based potter, Micheal Kline.

The events of 2020 brought Creech back to her hometown of Greenville, SC, which she translated into an opportunity to establish her studio, build her brand and share her passion of ceramics with the surrounding community.

Spoonbill Gallery in Greenville, SC, Features Works by Michelle Radford

Spoonbill Gallery in Greenville, SC, will present, Life, Labor, Laundry, Lace: Collaborating with Women of the Past, a solo exhibition by local artist Michelle Radford, on view from Feb. 7 through Mar. 1, 2025. A reception will be held on Feb. 7, from 6-9pm.

The exhibition explores the intersection of landscape painting and domestic textiles, highlighting the overlooked artistry of women's domestic work throughout history.

For centuries, women have expressed their creativity and skill through textiles, often in private spaces, their labor undervalued as an art form. Radford honors these anonymous makers by weaving their handmade lace doilies and vintage textiles into her landscape paintings, giving their work a new stage.

"I begin these pieces by sourcing vintage textiles," Radford shares. "Often, they are entrusted to me by women who have received them as heirlooms. These doily donors know each piece represents countless hours of careful work by an ancestor, and they want the objects to be enjoyed and appreciated. When I incorporate one of these textiles into my artwork, I am putting on display the creative work of an anonymous woman. I rarely know who the maker is, but I can imagine she was a woman not unlike myself."

Work by Michelle Radford

my domestic efforts seem to vanish in the wind, but the accumulated stitches in these doilies remind me that domestic repetitions accumulate as well. The results of my labors can be seen in the lives of the loved ones I care for over time."

Each piece in this exhibition is a collaboration across time, space, and generations. By incorporating heirloom textiles, Radford reactivates forgotten labor, ensuring that the beauty and skill of women's work continue to inspire and delight.

Radford's Life, Labor, Laundry, Lace: Collaborating with Women of the Past offers a poignant reflection on the artistry of women, the legacy of domestic labor, and the power of memory.

Michelle Radford is a multi-disciplinary artist living in Greenville, SC. She holds an MFA in Painting from the Savannah College of Art and Design. Radford began her studio practice as a landscape painter; however, after becoming a mother of three she began making work about the meaning of motherhood and domestic spaces through her mixed media assemblages and collages. Her most recent work explores combining landscape with textiles usually associated with women and domesticity. Combining fine art and craft has become a metaphor for weaving together her callings as an artist and mother.

Work by Michelle Radford

Radford's practice is deeply personal, rooted in her experiences as both an artist and a mother. "I began my studio practice as a landscape painter, but after becoming a mother of three, I found that textiles were more forgiving than oils while caring for babies. I returned to the sewing and crafting techniques I had learned from my mother and grandmother and made conceptual work about domestic life and my experience of motherhood."

Radford's current work merges her two passions, reflecting the "countless repetitions of women in the home" and the beauty born from those cycles of labor.

"The countless crochet knots in a doily echo the endless cycles of laundry, the ongoing labor to bring order to chaos, and the daily liturgy of meal preparation," she explains. "I have lamented that

Art & Light Gallery and the Anchorage Exhibition Series in Greenville, SC, Features Works by Josh Jensen

The first installment of the 2025 Anchorage Exhibition Series, in partnership with Art & Light Gallery, in Greenville, SC, is presenting a solo exhibition by Josh Jensen (Charlotte, NC). Jensen's work will be on view at the Anchorage in the Village of West Greenville, through - Apr. 8, 2025.

Join Jensen for a ticketed artist meet and greet and artist talk on Feb. 13, from 5-6:30pm, to learn more about the artist and the inspiration behind his new collection. During the event, a signature cocktail will be served along with small bites, making for the perfect pairing of fine art and fine food. Visit (<https://www.theanchoragerestaurant.com/>) to purchase tickets for the event.

In recent work, Jensen expands his abstract painting vocabulary by varying and building mark making, developing bold color pairings, and diversifying composition. In his painting practice, Jensen seeks to strike a balance between exploration of accidental movements and planned technique and outcomes.

While Jensen's exhibition is on view at The Anchorage restaurant, work included in the show is available for purchase through Art & Light Gallery.

Artists Collective | Spartanburg, SC, Offers Works by WNC Artists

Artists Collective | Spartanburg, SC, will present Come Hell AND High Water: Surviving the 2024 Flood with Resilience and Purpose, featuring works by more than a dozen impacted artists from 310 ART and Friends in Asheville, NC, impacted by Hurricane Helene, on view in Gallery II and Gallery III, from Feb. 4 through Mar. 29, 2025. Receptions will be held from 5 to 8pm, on Feb. 20, and Mar. 20, as part of Spartanburg ArtWalk

An artist's life is a creative and rewarding journey that involves hard work, dedication and passion. Sometimes, it also means overcoming unimaginable hardships, such as those experienced in September 2024 by Western North Carolina artists impacted by Hurricane Helene.

The art in the show will be offered for purchase with prices ranging from $45 to $3,000.

"We hope to convey to everyone that

We have come together in this first group show of 2025 to proclaim our resilience and perseverance as we continue to create, teach and spread the joy of creativity.”

The group was invited by the Artists Collective | Spartanburg.

“We answered a call for this show shortly after the flood,” continues Monaghan. “The artists of 310 ART gallery were determined to not give up, and we appreciate this first group exhibit of 2025 for us and some of our neighbors at Riverview Station.”

Monaghan says the group hopes to convey that artists will persevere through hardship and loss. “We will persist regardless of difficulties or obstacles. We have all been through hell both personally and professionally, and the title of the show reflects both hardship and the high waters that hit us so hard and of unexpected wrath Sept. 27, 2024. We will continue to teach, make art and show our art even in difficult times.”

The artists represent their community as well as their friendships, she adds. “Both our close friendships, our beloved community of artists and a generous invitation from the Spartanburg Art Collective inspired us to come together and show work.”

On exhibit will be a variety of original art in different media, sizes and styles. “All work will be professionally presented and ready to hang, and we will also offer some lower cost unframed original and reproductions,” Monaghan says. “We all hope the art will show that creativity lives and flourishes through all difficult times. We are delighted and honored to be exhibiting together, and we thank the Artists Collective | Spartanburg for this

Good Art Co. in Greenville, SC, Features Works by Joseph Smolin

The Good Art Co. in Greenville, SC, will present Sinkhole, SC, a must-see solo exhibition with apocalyptic themes from the South’s breakout contemporary artist, Joseph Smolin, on view from Feb. 7 through Mar. 2, 2025. An opening reception will be held on Feb. 7, from 6-9pm and a closing reception, with an Artist Talk, will be held on Feb. 27, from 6-9pm.

The show approaches sinkholes both as literal collapses in the earth and as a metaphor for communal and psychological catastrophe. Smolin lost his home to Hurricane Helene in September.

Work by Joseph Smolin

Through paintings, sculpture, and experimental film, Sinkhole is an immersive art experience that presents a deeply personal look at how communities in Southern towns and cities increasingly suffer from gentrification, displacement, and climate disaster. Images of melting cities and immanent angels abound, all with an eye toward an absurdist view of the apocalypse. Cheers to the end!

Joseph Smolin, born in Birmingham, AL, is a painter and multimedia artist. He has shown work at Echo Contemporary in Atlanta and Satellite Art Fair in NYC, among others. His duo show with Virginia Russo, Invisible Planet, was created for the main gallery at the Greenville Center for Creative Arts. He also worked with Griffin Cordell to create NO SLEEP THEME PARK, an interactive and immersive art exhibition that debuted in the Metropolitan Arts Council Gallery.

Smolin co-founded and contributes to the nonprofit art magazine Rattlesnake, which aims to highlight a diverse set of voices living in the South. Smolin is also a member of the national art collective Tiger Strikes Asteroid. When he’s not painting, he takes pride in building community as a curator, live painter, and teacher. He currently lives and works in Greenville, SC.

Every once in a while I feel like just filling one of these spaces with a kind on nothingness. You know as if nobody reads what’s in these spaces anyway. So if one time I said something like the first person to read this and sends me an e-mail to (info@carolinaarts.com) during the month of January they’ll get a free 1/4 ad in our March 2025 issue or the month that is most useful for them. But who reads these space fillers anyway? Not many I bet.

Davidson College in Davidson, NC, Offers Works by Elizabeth Bradford

Davidson College in Davidson, NC, will present Warp Weft Water Weeds, featuring works by Elizabeth Bradford, on view in the Van Every/Smith Galleries, in the Belk Visual Arts Center, from Feb. 13 through Apr. 9, 2025. A reception will be held on Feb. 13, from 5:30-7:30pm. Kindly RSVP by Feb. 7, 2025

The exhibition highlights the talent of an artist who has spent fifty years diligently working within our own community, capturing the evolving landscapes she holds dear. Bradford draws inspiration from a profound connection to nature through direct observations while hiking or kayaking primarily in the Southeastern United States where she resides. While her works are predominantly representational, they also maintain a relationship with abstraction.

The exhibition's accompanying catalogue includes essays by Dr. Emily Stamey, Curator of Academic Programming & Head of Exhibitions at Weatherspoon Art Museum; Dr. Leo Mazow, Louise B. and J. Harwood Cochrane Curator of American Art, Virginia Museum of Fine Arts; and an interview between Bradford and Tyler Green, award-winning historian and critic who has produced and hosted The Modern Art Notes Podcast since 2011.

Exhibition, programming, and publication are made possible through the generous support of the Wells Fargo Foundation.

Elizabeth Bradford is a native Carolinian, with deep roots in the rural landscape. Her work often centers on images drawn from her rural community and her family's century farm in north Mecklenburg County. In recent years she has used her passion for backpacking as inspiration for large scale paintings of the wild.

Bradford studied art at Randolph Macon Woman's College, the Universities of North Carolina, and at Davidson College, and has had residencies at the Virginia Center for the Creative Art; Moulin à Nef in Auvillar, France; Skopart Foundation in Skopelos, Greece; and, The School of the Art Institute of Chicago.

Bradford is represented in museum, corporate and private collections all over the United States. She was included in the US State Department's Art in Embassies Program, which places representative work by American artists in embassies around the world.

Bradford has had many solo exhibitions, including shows at the Cameron Museum, the Blowing Rock Museum, The University of North Carolina at Charlotte, Davidson College and Hood College. Her work focuses on intricate formal patterns found in nature, and on the experience of color. Though representational, her paintings have a strong connection to the traditions of abstraction, Pop Art, and the Pattern and Decoration Movement. Bradford's paintings reveal a continuing investigation of landscape and the notion of place.

The City of Matthews, NC, Features Works by Ellen Lee Klein

The City of Matthews, NC, will present Transformed, featuring works by Ellen Lee Klein, on view at the Matthews Town Hall, from Feb. 4 through Mar. 26, 2025.

This exhibition of bold and inventive nature inspired works includes oil and acrylic paintings on canvas and on paper. Klein interprets, while transforming, the mundane contemporary natural world in her North Carolina back yard, daily vistas and environs.

Skillfully and generously employing the formal elements to evoke physical and emotional responses in the viewer, she reflects her tongue in cheek responses to contemporary life around her.

In the artist's words, "The merging of my training and the processes involved in the making of each and every work combined express and inspire their structure and form."

Work by Ellen Lee Klein

adds Klein.

These deeply reflective works celebrate the artist's awe of the abundant splendor modified by the ravages of nature and the disharmonious yet familiar imprint of contemporary humankind.

Ellen Lee Klein was born, raised, and educated in New York City, earning a BA from City College of New York and an MFA from Pratt Institute. Her long career in the visual arts has included work as an educator, arts administrator, art critic, and writer, as well as numerous group and solo exhibitions throughout the east coast and in North Carolina where the artist has lived for a decade. Her work is included in private and public collections.

The Matthews Town Hall is located at 232 Matthews Station Street in Matthews, NC. The exhibit will be on view to the public from Mon.-Fri., from 8am to 5pm.

For further information check our NC Institutional Gallery listings or call 704/847-4411.

Work by Ellen Lee Klein

"I remain faithful to the essence of what has continued to fascinate and drive me through the years - the searching yet delusive lines, color resonance, spatial ambiguity, and layers of delicious pigment revealing the unmistakable transitory splendor, sensations, clutter and vestiges of the natural world and contemporary life."

You can contact us by calling 843/693-1306 or by e-mail at - info@carolinaarts.com but do it before the 24th of the month, at 5pm, prior to our next issue or you may be left out.

Harvey B. Gantt Center for African-American Arts + Culture in Charlotte, NC, Features Works by YoYo Lander

The Harvey B. Gantt Center for African-American Arts + Culture in Charlotte, NC, is presenting YoYo Lander: Between the Quiet, Selected Works from 2019-2024, on view through May 11, 2025.

Known for her portraits of solitary African diasporic subjects, contemporary artist YoYo Lander captures visual form via a psychological and empathetic drive to understand her subjects, not only through the features of their physical bodies but also through moments in which introspection prompts them to most fully reveal themselves. As a self-taught painter and collagist, Lander highlights the multifacetedness of Black identity while also exploring the expressive aspects of the human figure through which gesture, line, posture, and color convey meaning.

Her first mid-career retrospective, YoYo Lander: Between the Quiet, Selected Works from 2019-2024, presents a curated selection of figurative and experimental abstract collages from private and public collections around the country. The exhibition invites viewers to reflect on vulnerability and the concept of presence while showcasing the ideological depth with which Lander approaches image-making.

Lander is a Los Angeles-based artist whose work explores the complexity of the human body, exploring its beauty, strength, and vulnerability through intricately crafted collages. Her art is a dynamic meditation on movement and form, where she captures the subtle details of posture and expression with a keen sense of observation.

Lander's signature technique combines layers of hand-cut stained watercolor paper on top of stained watercolor backgrounds, creating rich, textural "bodyscapes" that convey both emotional depth and visual energy. The result is a striking series of multi-hued compositions that evoke a profound sense of presence and resilience. Through her evocative and layered approach to collage, she creates a compelling dialogue about identity, the body, and the human experience, captivating viewers worldwide with her distinctive visual language.

Lander's work has garnered both national and international acclaim, with exhibitions in New York, Los Angeles, Miami, Stockholm, Brussels, Singapore, Paris, Switzerland, South Africa, and Dubai. Her works are part of prestigious public collections, including the Museum of Fine Arts Houston, the International African American Museum in Charleston, SC, the Artistic Museum of Contemporary Art in Wales, the California African American Museum, and the Raclin Murphy Museum of Art at the University of Notre Dame. Additionally, her work is held in private collections, including DeWoody's Bunker Art Space and the Petrucci Art Foundation.

This exhibition was organized by Harvey B. Gantt Center for African-American Arts + Culture.

Harvey B. Gantt Center for African-American Arts + Culture in Charlotte, NC, Offers Works by Khalif Tahir Thompson

The Harvey B. Gantt Center for African-American Arts + Culture in Charlotte, NC, is presenting Cherry, Khalif Tahir Thompson, on view through Aug. 17, 2025.

This is the first institutional solo exhibition in the United States, features eight large-scale paintings that explore themes related to identity, memory, and emotion. Imbued with a sense of nostalgia yet charged with a contemporary energy that bridges the tangible and the imagined, Thompson creates layered compositions that invite viewers into intimate spaces, drawing from the artist's personal experiences, family archives, and broader cultural narratives.

Cherry invites viewers to explore how identity is remembered, shared, and reimagined, celebrating the complex layers of human experience.

This exhibition weaves together personal and historical narratives, from the vibrant influence of African textiles to the rich history of Harlem, into an ever-evolving mélange of meaning.

Best recognized for his powerful portraiture and figurative work, Khalif Tahir Thompson (b. 1995, lives in New York) incorporates painting, drawing, collage, printmaking, and papermaking into his practice while exploring notions of self through the scopes of race, sexuality, and spirituality. He earned an MFA in Painting/Printmaking from Yale University School of Art, following a Bachelor of Fine Arts from Purchase College, and completed a fellowship at the EFA Robert Blackburn Printmaking Workshop in NYC, the Vermont Studio Center, and the Jerome Emerging Artist residency at The Anderson Center. He is a 2022 resident of Black Rock Senegal, founded by Kehinde Wiley.

Thompson is represented by Zidoun-Bossuyt Gallery, where he presented his first solo exhibition in Europe at Zidoun-Bossuyt Luxembourg in September 2023, a solo exhibition in Dubai in 2023, and Paris in 2024. His work is on view at Saint Louis Art Museum, Pérez Art Museum Miami, Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art (Kansas City), The Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, Kalamazoo Institute of Arts, Virginia Museum of Fine Arts (Richmond), and Indianapolis Museum of Art at Newfields. After participating at The Royal Drawing School at Dumfries House, Scotland, Thompson joined the AAF/Seebacher Prize for Fine Arts, Austria (2023). In 2024, the Zidoun-Bossuyt Gallery edited the artist's first monograph with Skira editions. As part of his gallery's participation at The Armory Show 2024, Khalif Tahir Thompson presented his first solo exhibition in New York City.

This exhibition was organized by Harvey B. Gantt Center for African-American Arts + Culture.

701 Center for Contemporary Art in Columbia, SC, Features Works by Masud Olufani

701 Center for Contemporary Art in Columbia, SC, will present A Sorcery of Sustenance, featuring works by Masud Olufani, on view from Feb. 20 through Mar. 23, 2025. A reception will be held on Feb. 27, from 6-8pm. During the reception, Olufani will give a special performance.

Masud Olufani's exhibition was curated by Floyd Hall and previously exhibited at Atlanta Contemporary.

Olufani offered the following exhibition statement, "A Sorcery of Sustenance is a collection of recently completed sculptures that trace the cultural retentions of the African Diaspora through food. Inspired in part by the popular Netflix series "High on the Hog", this diverse gathering of mixed media works examines food production within the Black community as an alchemy that satiates the body as well as the spirit. In this context, nourishment or sustenance, has a double meaning that refers both to the corporeal and the incorporeal—to this world and to "other" worlds.

In this exhibition, traditional African American food sources such as grain, yams, black eye peas, okra, rice, and others, are reinterpreted in sculptural forms inspired by my travels through west Africa. The connection between the physical and the metaphysical is a belief deeply imbedded within many indigenous cultures around the world. Food carries the promise of life as well as the seeds of multi-generational memory and cultural identity. It is a mediator of meaning, connecting the past to the present—the world of the living to the world of the ancestors.

Masud Olufani, is an Atlanta based multi-disciplinary artist, and writer whose studio practice is rooted in the discipline of sculpture. He is a graduate of Morehouse College, and The Savannah College of Art and Design where he earned an MFA in sculpture in 2013.

Masud has exhibited his work in group and solo shows nationally and internationally. He is a featured artist in the 2024 Dakar Biennale in Senegal. The artist has completed residencies at The Vermont Studio Center; The Hambidge Center for Arts and Sciences; and Creative Currents in Portobello, Panama. He is a 2020 South Arts Cross Sector Grant recipient for Elder, a site specific installation created to coincide with the redevelopment of the historic David T. Howard School in Atlanta.

Masud is a 2018 Southern Arts Prize State Fellow; a recipient of a 2015 and 2018 Idea Capital Grant; a Southwest Airlines Art and Social Engagement grant; and a recipient of 2015-16' MOCA GA Working Artist Project Grant.

This non-juried exhibition showcases the works of artists from the Helene-affected Appalachia region, celebrating their resilience, creativity, and strength while highlighting the power of art to inspire and bring communities together.

The Museum issued an open call for artist submissions, collaborating with local and regional arts networks to reach artists from the Southern Appalachian community impacted by Hurricane Helene. The response was overwhelmingly positive, with over 150 submissions showcasing a diverse range of works.

"Hurricane Helene was devastating for everyone, and as a public-serving arts institution, we really wanted to recognize the impact the storm had on artists," said Jessica Orzulak, Associate Curator and Manager of Curatorial Affairs.

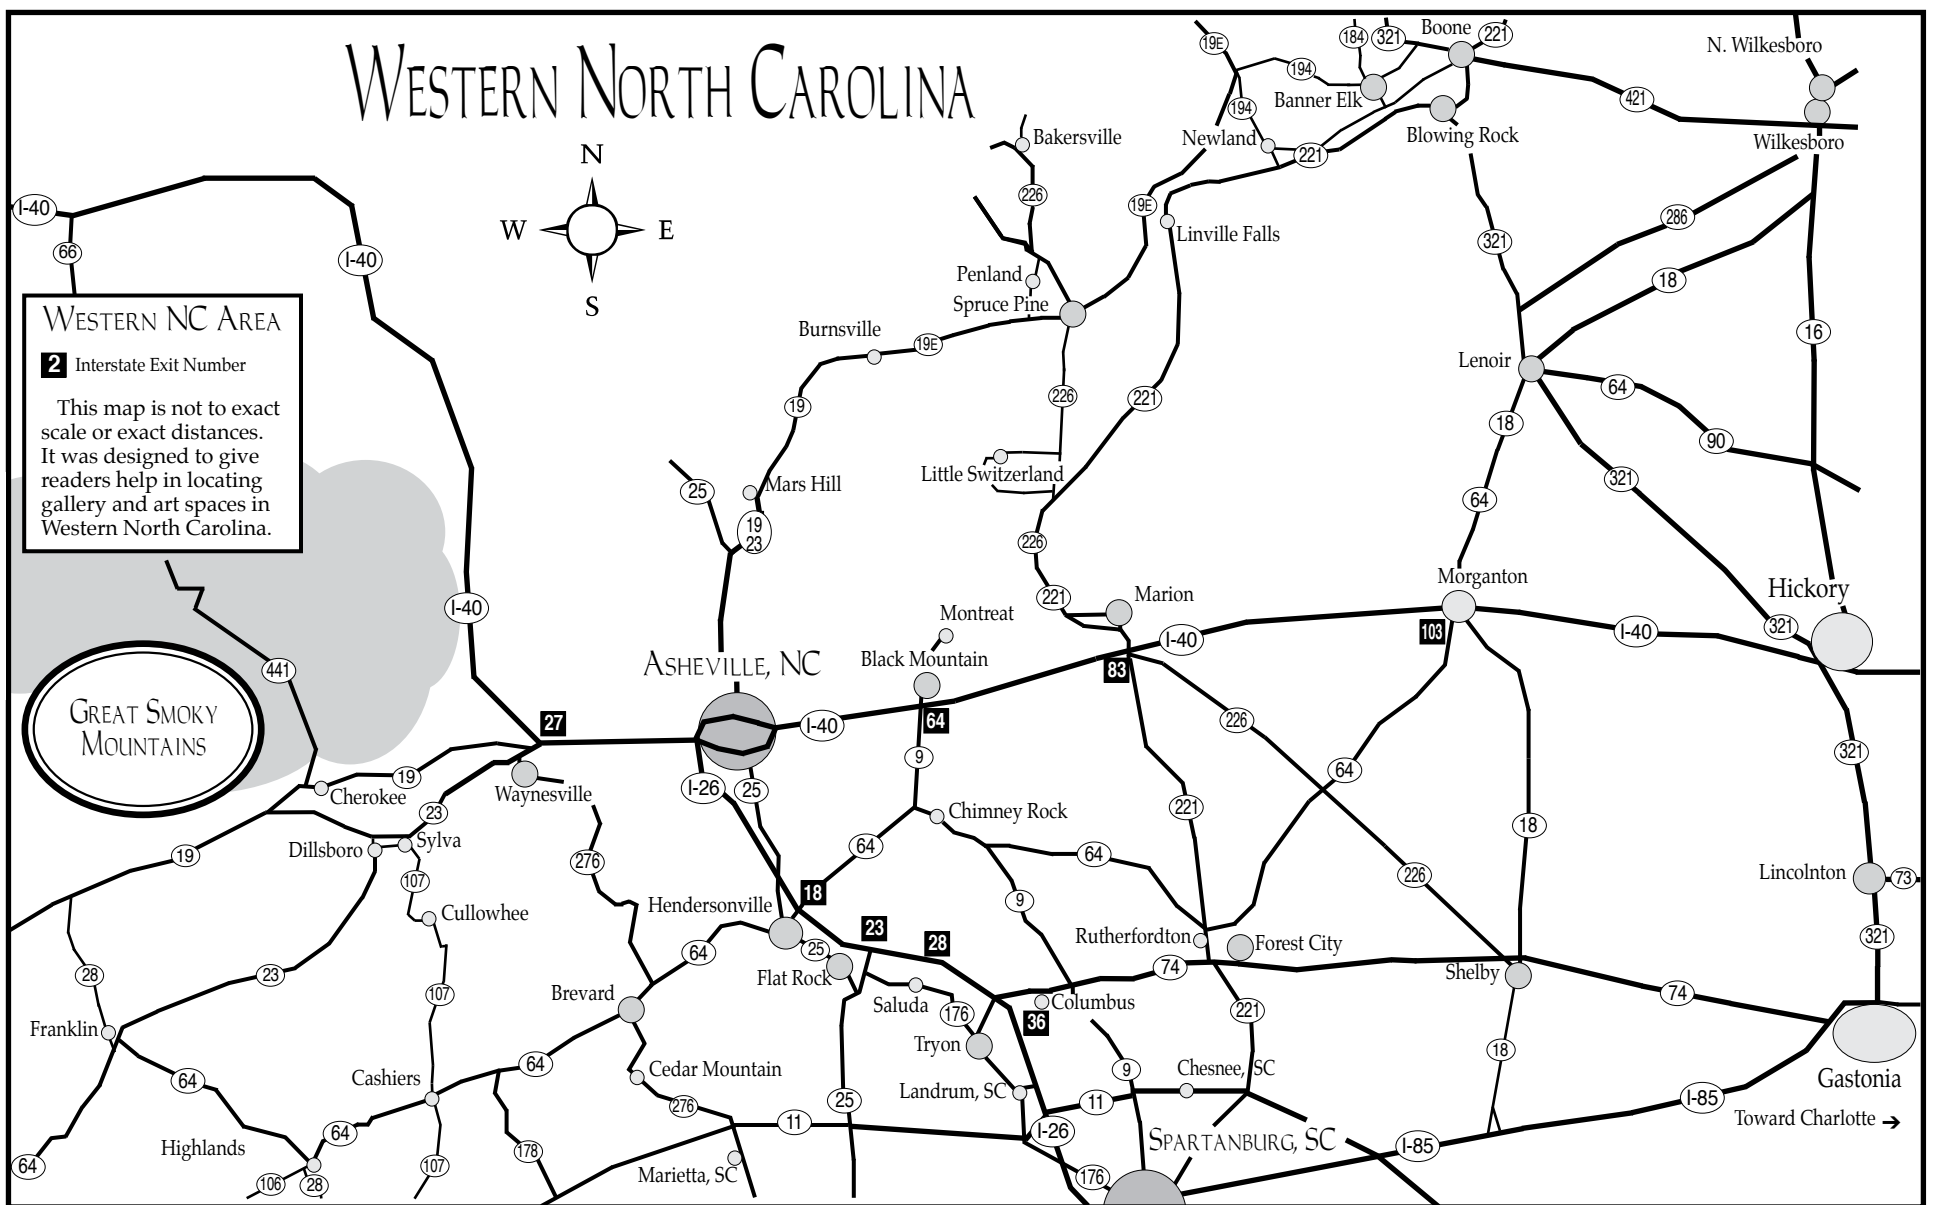

"Artists are an integral to the bedrock of our communities in WNC. Our goal has been to create space for impacted artists to showcase their work to a broad public, us all to join together in a collective act of resilience.”

Asheville Strong features a variety of mediums, including painting, drawing, printmaking, sculpture, ceramics, and photography. Each work is accompanied by the artist’s information, allowing viewers to connect and learn more about the creators.

“The Asheville Art Museum, since 1948, has celebrated artists and art of the region,” says Pam Myers, Executive Director. “Asheville Strong continues this tradition and will provide a needed place for gathering, contemplation, inspiration, remembrance, and celebration as our region continues on the path to recovery.”

This exhibition has been made possible through the generous support of The Americana Foundation, with additional support from ArtsAVL.

Pay-what-you-wish admission: In response to Tropical Storm Helene, the Museum is pleased to offer pay-what-you-wish admission for residents of affected counties. This initiative aims to provide a welcoming space for those impacted by the storm, inviting community members to experience art as a source of solace, inspiration, and recovery.

Established by artists and incorporated in 1948, the Asheville Art Museum is committed to being a vital force in community and individual development and to providing lifelong opportunities for education and enrichment through the visual arts. The Museum’s mission is to engage, enlighten, and inspire individuals and enrich the community through dynamic experiences in American art of the 20th and 21st centuries. The Museum is dedicated to advancing diversity, equity, access, and inclusion - now and in the future - and we welcome all visitors without discrimination.

The Museum acknowledges that it is situated upon the ancient, southern Appalachian ancestral homeland of the Cherokee Tribe and that this region is still the home of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians today. The Museum is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization accredited by the American Alliance of Museums.

Southern Highland Craft Guild in Asheville, NC, Features Works by Member Artists

The Southern Highland Craft Guild in Asheville, NC, will present A Natural Influence, the first member-focused exhibition of the year, on view in the Focus Gallery at the Folk Art Center, from Feb. 8 through Apr. 20, 2025.

The exhibition features a stunning collection of traditional and contemporary craft by seven talented Guild members, each interpreting the theme of nature in their work.

The exhibition highlights a diverse range of materials and techniques, including paper, metal, wood, fiber, and jewelry, offering a unique perspective on how nature influences the creative process. Featured artists include: Peggy DeBell, Katrina and Joe Miller, Neil Carroll, Daniel Shipman Baron, and Wendy and Joe Edwards.

Peggy DeBell is a fiber artist from Hot Springs, NC, whose work blends photography, fabric, and recycled materials into vibrant, textured creations.

Katrina and Joe Miller, a collaborative duo whose metalwork reflects both natural forms and industrial techniques.

Neil Carroll is a wood artist whose finely crafted pieces reflect the elegance of nature influences the creative process.

natural materials and traditional methods.

Daniel Shipman Baron is a fiber artist specializing in needle felting, known for his lifelike and intricate bird sculptures that capture the essence of the avian world in wool.

Wendy and Joe Edwards are jewelry artists whose work integrates organic textures and colors, highlighting the beauty of their materials.

Peggy DeBell explains her artistic approach: “I enjoy creating the unexpected from familiar scenes and everyday objects. A simple pasture or an old building can become a canvas of colors and textures, printed onto fabric, stitched, and embellished. I combine recycled items like aluminum pull-off lids with hand-dyed threads to create something new and meaningful.”

West Asheville Library in Asheville, NC, Features Works by Kira Bursky

The West Asheville Library in Asheville, NC, part of the Buncombe County Public Libraries, is presenting, Hurricane Helene Exhibition, featuring works by Kira Bursky, on view through Feb. 27, 2025.

Artist Kira Bursky says, "After Hurricane Helene came through my town, I drew to process my feelings. The 31 drawings were created once a day during October. These drawings are dedicated to all those affected by Hurricane Helene and those who have gone through other experiences that have shaken up the world they know. I am inspired by art's power to give us space to process, reflect, and heal. Thank you for taking the time to sit with these artworks. I send out my love and gratitude."

Multidisciplinary artist and filmmaker Kira Bursky (aka All Around Artsy) is inspired by mental health, creativity, and magic. An award-winning creator, Bursky has produced more than 60 short films that have screened globally. She's gone viral with over 25 million views across her films, art, and fashion work on platforms like Reddit and YouTube. In addition to her cinematic accomplishments, she sold 2,500 art NFTs and developed an immersive projection-based installation.

Bursky expanded her artistic repertoire with the launch of All Around Artsy Fashion, a wearable art brand that reflects her passion for dopamine dressing: wearing what makes you feel good. She is now planning the 2025 gallery exhibition tour of her Hurricane Helene art collection with scheduled stops in NC towns including Asheville, Lansing, and Murphy to name a few.

John Sperry and Sonya Clemons!

Twenty-five years ago, John Sperry quit his corporate job because he knew he just had to paint. Using oil pastels & acrylics, he brings his bright and whimsical characters to life on wooden panels. As Sperry likes to say: without humor, life would be oh-so-dull! His healthy sense of humor has a starring role in much of his work, and his quirky scenes & funky critters never fail to bring out a smile.

Sonya Clemons connects to her audience with a familiar touchstone that reaches us all: those hardworking hands that brought us up. She will often sit with her mother as she snaps beans or prepares biscuit dough, and those loving, capable hands are the feature of Clemons's paintings. There is a beautiful nostalgia in the dishcloth patterns depicted or the types of kitchen tools being used that reminds us that the woman in these paintings could be anyone's mother, or grandmother.

The 21st Annual Miniatures Show debuts on our website at 11am on Feb. 5, and you will have a full hour to preview the entire show before phone sales begin at noon sharp!

And don't forget! You're invited to join us in celebrating this cherished show

Gallery Mélange in Asheville, NC, Offers Works in Its Winter Showcase

The Gallery Mélange in Asheville, NC, is presenting An Arctic Soirée: A Celebration of New Work, on view through Feb. 28, 2025.

This immersive event features the newest creations of Mark Bettis, Victoria Pinney, and Jeffrey Burroughs, complemented by the captivating sounds of AVL. XLR & Phantom Pantone.

An Arctic Soirée invites attendees to break free from the winter gloom and discover the season's understated charm. This carefully curated selection of paintings, sculptures, and jewelry spotlights each artist's personal interpretation of winter's crisp tranquility. From abstract landscapes and delicate transformations to shimmering, ice-inspired jewelry, the exhibit offers a visual journey through the subtle hues, textures, and gentle mystique of the colder months.

Mark Bettis is a masterful painter whose work embraces bold color and texture, evoking both energy and reflection in creating a series of figurative paintings for this event.

Victoria Pinney is known for her dynamic abstractions and focus on the natural world's subtle details.

Jeffrey Burroughs is a fine jeweler whose iconic luxury creations fuse ancient tradition and innovation with a touch of rebellion.

Transylvania Community Arts Center Gallery in Brevard, NC, Offers Works by WNC Artists Affected by Hurricane Helene

The Transylvania Community Arts Center Gallery in Brevard, NC, is presenting two exhibits including: Community: an open exhibition of fine art & craft and Hurricane Helene Exhibition, featuring works by Kira Bursky, both on view through Feb. 15, 2025.

The year 2024, and particularly Hurricane Helene, showed Western North Carolina the importance of "Community." Our community can provide us with support, a sense of belonging, and many other benefits, but the theme of "Community" is intentionally broad and open to many interpretations. How do you as an artist envision community? How is "Community" visually evident in Transylvania County or in other areas?

Work by Kira Bursky

Art prints and the full art collection book are available for purchase. 20% of profits will be donated to BeLoved Asheville and ArtsAVL towards Hurricane Helene relief efforts. You can view the full collection in Kira's shop at (<https://allaroundartsyfashion.com/.../hurricane-helene>...).

Bursky says, "After Hurricane Helene came through my town, I drew to process my feelings. The 31 drawings were created once a day during October. These drawings are dedicated to all those affected by Hurricane Helene and those who have gone through other experiences that have shaken up the world they know. I am inspired by art's power to give us space to process, reflect, and heal. Thank you for taking the time to sit with these artworks. I send out my love and gratitude"

Blowing Rock Art and History Museum in Blowing Rock, NC, Features Works by Sarah Vaughn

The Blowing Rock Art and History Museum (BRAHM) in Blowing Rock, NC, will present Considerations: An Installation by Sarah Vaughn, on view in the Museum's Atwell Gallery, from Feb. 15 through Aug. 10, 2025. A reception will be held on Feb. 20, with the Curator Talk at 6 - 7pm, in the gallery.

Sarah Vaughn's Considerations invites visitors to step into a landscape of thousands of carefully crafted glass river rocks. Made using techniques like blowing, flame-working, casting, and laminating, these fragile stones are stacked and arranged to create an immersive installation that explores how we experience and remember the world around us. Each glass rock represents a moment in time - some tied to personal memories, others shaped from reclaimed glass, blending stories of loss and creation.

Rocks are ordinary objects, but they often carry extraordinary meaning. Many of us have picked up, collected, and treasured a favorite rock, drawn to its weight, texture, or beauty. Vaughn's glass rocks amplify these familiar associations

while asking us to reflect on their delicate, untouchable surfaces. Like rocks in a riverbed, changing and smoothing over time, memories tumble through our minds over years and decades. They can become smoother, but they can also sharpen, grow indelible, or fade until they disappear entirely.

This installation is envisioned as the first of many, evolving to respond to the architecture of each new space it inhabits. By blending the personal and the collective, Vaughn invites us to reflect on how simple objects can stir deep, lasting memories. She sees these glass rocks as symbols of resilience - fragile yet enduring - which capture the layers of individual and shared memory that shape who we are. Through her work, she transforms something seemingly simple into a profound meditation on time, connection, and the stories we carry.

Ian Gabriel Wilson, Curator at BRAHM notes, "We're thrilled to present Considerations: An Installation by Sarah Vaughn. Over the past three years, I've had the privilege of working closely with Sarah to develop this thought-provoking installation. Her technical skill with the medium of glass is astonishing, matched only by the physically and emotionally immersive environment she constructs with thousands of these discrete sculptures. The larger work is at once precarious and disarming, inviting viewers to engage with themes that are both acutely personal and universally relatable. This exhibition epitomizes BRAHM's commitment to showcasing artists who challenge us to see the world - and ourselves - through a transformative lens."

The exhibition is supported through a Project Support Grant of The North Carolina Arts Council, a division of the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources. Project Support is designed to help organizations that are producing and/or presenting specific arts programs

Blowing Rock Art & History Museum in Blowing Rock, NC, Features Children's Book Illustrations

The Blowing Rock Art & History Museum (BRAHM) in Blowing Rock, NC, is presenting Storyboard to Storybook: The Beulah Campbell Collection at Appalachian State University, an exhibition celebrating the creativity behind mid-20th-century children's literature, on view in the Rankin West and East Galleries, through June 8, 2025.

Featuring more than 30 original illustrations, collages and preparatory drawings, Storyboard to Storybook offers a behind-the-scenes look at how artists crafted iconic children's stories. Spanning the 1950s to the 1980s, the collection explores themes of identity, heritage and imagination, reflecting the shifting cultural landscape of the time.

The works are drawn from the Beulah Campbell Collection at Appalachian State University's Belk Library Special Collections, a rich archive of children's literature and illustration. Visitors will rediscover beloved stories while gaining a deeper appreciation for the artistic process behind them.

The exhibition delves into the intricate stages of book creation, showcasing manuscript mock-ups and printer's proofs, which reveal the collaboration between authors and illustrators. At the gallery's interactive Storyboard Station, visitors can craft their own narratives and explore the steps to building a compelling story arc.

Youth aged 12-18 are invited to join us at BRAHM every second Saturday from 11am until 1pm this winter and spring for directed studio time inspired by famous artists. Explore new styles and processes for making art. Free for the community. Reservations encouraged due to limited space. Visit (blowingrockmuseum.org/calendar/studio-saturday).

Many believe that literature serves as a window to the world for children, and Beulah Campbell embodied that belief throughout her life. As a professor of elementary education at Appalachian State University, she understood the vital connection between illustrations and text in children's books. Over her 40-year career, Campbell built a collection of original artwork by renowned children's book illustrators, while also fostering a deep appreciation for children's literature in her students. Speakers Margaret Gregor and Jackie Eagleson will discuss Campbell's legacy and the art she collected.

Beulah Campbell, an influential educator at Appalachian State Teachers College, championed the artistic value of children's book illustrations. In the 1970s, she began curating a personal collection to enhance her teaching, focusing on works by Caldecott and Kate Greenaway medalists.

The collection reflects a transformative era in children's publishing, as illustrators embraced themes of social equality and cultural diversity. Campbell's vision captured the evolving narrative power of illustrations and their role in shaping young minds. Today, her collection serves as an invaluable resource for exploring the intersection of art, storytelling and education.

The Special Collections Research Center at Appalachian State University formed with the opening of the Carol Grotnes Belk Library and Information Commons in 2005. The formation united three signature collections (W. L. Eury Appalachian Collection, Stock Car Racing Collection, and University Archives & Records) and began the development of the Rare Books & Manuscripts Collection.

The core mission of the Special Collections Research Center is to collect, preserve and provide access to original materials related to our primary collecting areas. We promote the use of our collections through exhibits, instruction, public programming, digitization and social media. In addition, we house thoughtfully curated research collections consisting of secondary source material related to the Appalachian region and stock car racing. ## North Carolina Museum of Art, Winston-Salem, NC, Features Works by David LaChapelle

The North Carolina Museum of Art, Winston-Salem in Winston-Salem, NC, will present David LaChapelle: Dear Sonja, on view from Feb. 27 through July 20, 2025. An opening reception will be held on Feb. 27, from 6-8pm. An Artist Talk with David LaChapelle will be offered on Feb. 28, from 6-7:30pm. Enjoy a special artist talk with exhibiting artist David LaChapelle and curator Maya Brooks, followed by a Q&A and book signing. Tickets: Included with exhibition admission.

This is a special retrospective exhibition featuring more than 80 works spanning 40 years of the artist's career.

David LaChapelle was born in Connecticut in 1963 and attended high school at the North Carolina School of the Arts in Winston-Salem. Originally enrolled as a painting student with a reverence for art history, he developed his analog photograph-editing technique by hand painting negatives to achieve an abstract spectrum of color before processing his film.

At age 17 LaChapelle moved to New York City. Following his first photography show at 303 Gallery, he was hired by Andy Warhol to work at Interview magazine. Through his mastery of color, unique composition, and imaginative narratives, LaChapelle began to expand the genre of photography. By 1997 the New York Times predicted he "is certain to influence the work of a new generation ... in the same way that Mr. [Richard] Avedon pioneered so much of what is familiar today" in portrait and fashion photography.

In the decades since, LaChapelle has become one of the most published photographers globally, and many of his works have become iconic archetypes of America in the twenty-first century. Featuring over 80 prints, drawings, and videos across the NCMA's two campuses, David LaChapelle: Picture Show (NCMA in Raleigh) and Dear Sonja (NCMA Winston-Salem) honor the artist's journey over the past four decades. This section of the artist's retrospective surveys many of his iconic, staged tableau works and interpretive series, including Deluge and Jesus Is My Homeboy.

The Art Gallery at Congdon Yard in High Point, NC, Features WNC Artists Impacted by Hurricane Helene

The Art Gallery at Congdon Yard in High Point, NC, is presenting Soul of Appalachia – Perspectives from Western North Carolina, featuring the work of 18 Western North Carolina Artists, on view through Mar. 21, 2025.

Small communities across Appalachia have served as havens for artists for generations. From the traditional crafts of Penland to the avant-garde art of Black Mountain College and the murals and makers of Asheville's River Arts District, artists gathered and flourished. In the wake of Hurricane Helene, Western North Carolina demonstrated a generosity, resilience, and creativity that inspired many across the region and beyond. Those who have roots in the area understand it is the Appalachian way. Artists, craftspeople, makers, and families are the Soul of Appalachia.

Join The Art Gallery at Congdon Yards as we celebrate the spirit of Appalachia and honor Western North Carolina-based artists impacted by Helene. Participating artists include: Tyler-James Anderson (Asheville, NC), Wade Asa (Weaverville, NC), Anna Bryant (Asheville, NC), Anna Buckner (Valle Crucis, NC), Christa Capua (Asheville, NC), Daniel Coffey (Asheville, NC), Lauren Crowe (Boone, NC), Sarah Jones Decker (Marshall, NC), Neil Goss (Asheville, NC), Asher Holman (Asheville, NC), Jane Jaskevich (Weaverville, NC), Chris Jehly (Asheville, NC), Lori Brook Johnson (Bakersville, NC), Kenn Kotara (Asheville, NC), Joseph Pearson (Asheville, NC), Peter Roux (Asheville, NC), Akira Satake (Asheville, NC), and Ricardo Tejada (Asheville, NC).

NC), Anna Bryant (Asheville, NC), Anna Buckner (Valle Crucis, NC), Christa Capua (Asheville, NC), Daniel Coffey (Asheville, NC), Lauren Crowe (Boone, NC), Sarah Jones Decker (Marshall, NC), Neil Goss (Asheville, NC), Asher Holman (Asheville, NC), Jane Jaskevich (Weaverville, NC), Chris Jehly (Asheville, NC), Lori Brook Johnson (Bakersville, NC), Kenn Kotara (Asheville, NC), Joseph Pearson (Asheville, NC), Peter Roux (Asheville, NC), Akira Satake (Asheville, NC), and Ricardo Tejada (Asheville, NC).

Tyler-James Anderson (Asheville, NC). Anderson creates functional porcelain ceramics that push the boundaries of traditional pottery. Inspired by nature, science, architecture, and mythology, Anderson combines wheel-thrown and slip-cast techniques with modular molds and slipwork to bring his dynamic forms to life. Working under the moniker Moon Hand Pottery, he uses a vibrant, prismatic color palette to craft pieces that are both functional and visually striking.

Wade Asa (Weaverville, NC). Asa's work exists in the subterranean spaces between memory, dreams, and imagination. There is an architecture that connects these territories - a collective subconscious of creativity, which the artist explores by way of symbolism and mythology. Following this process, Asa often finds both personal and universal meaning and resonance in a finished piece begun with simple inspiration, unrestrained by elaborate intention.

Anna Bryant (Asheville, NC). Bryant is an abstract, figurative artist focusing on relief printmaking. Her work explores themes of human connection, drawing inspiration from moments of spiritual and physical synergy. Through this exploration, Bryant captures the essence of acceptance, empathy, and healing, reflecting the beauty and complexity of relationships.

Anna Buckner (Valle Crucis, NC). Buckner is an interdisciplinary artist and educator exploring the boundaries of painting, language, textile patterning, new media, and emerging modes of teaching and learning.

The works in this exhibition reflect Buckner's deep interest in textiles and quilting traditions. Her focus centers on a single quilt pattern known by a wide range of names, including log cabin, log house, rail fence, and chevron log cabin. All of these names describe the same pattern which begins with a small piece of fabric in the center and grows in a spiral as fabric strips are added.

Christa Capua (Asheville, NC). Capua brings her background in mixed-media art and career as a therapist to her work in digital collage. These dual paths allow her to explore themes of narrative, memory, and the sacred, bridging the organic with the unconscious. Capua uses the malleability of the digital medium to create worlds that feel both microscopic and vast, reflecting the sacred geometry found in both dust particles and galaxies—each containing multitudes.

Daniel Coffey (Asheville, NC). Coffey's bonsai work blends traditional Japanese aesthetics, rugged American forms, and whimsical styles into an avant-garde interpretation of the traditional plant-based art form.

Coffey trained during a multi-year apprenticeship under Junichiro Tanaka, fourth-generation owner of Aichien Bonsai Nursery in Nagoya, Japan. Upon returning to the US, he interned at the National Bonsai & Penjing Museum in Washington, DC, under former curator Jack Sustic.

Lauren Crowe (Boone, NC). Crowe draws inspiration from the rural landscapes of her western North Carolina home capturing fleeting moments that reflect the region's beauty. Her deliberate printmaking process embraces mindfulness, inviting both planned intention and unexpected outcomes. This slower, handmade approach creates textures and imperfections that lend each piece its own character.

Crowe's work serves as a bridge between the natural world and personal experience. Each print invites viewers to reconnect with nature and explore their own memories and stories. By capturing the ephemeral - moments of light, shadow, and quiet beauty - Crowe creates works that encourage reflection and connection.

The Art Gallery at Congdon Yard

Sarah Jones Decker (Marshall, NC). Decker says, "A week before the storm, our community felt vibrant and alive."

Marshall, NC, was forever changed by Hurricane Helene, as the river's relentless floodwaters destroyed buildings, businesses, and treasured spaces. For weeks, residents dug out their town from the muck while documenting the devastation in real time. Photographer Sarah Jones Decker turned to the wet plate collodion process, building a makeshift darkroom in her Subaru and creating a series of tintype portraits - a historical technique also used during the 1916 flood.

The black-and-white images form a time capsule of resilience, documenting artists, workers, and dreamers who embody the heart of Marshall. Each portrait was created collaboratively, free of charge, as Jones Decker invited subjects to choose their locations and share their stories. The resulting work serves as both a collective memory and a tangible symbol of hope, reflecting the quiet strength of a town navigating its rebuilding and reimagining.

Neil Goss (Asheville, NC). Goss's practice blurs the boundaries of art, craft, and design. His work centers on traditional backstrap weaving - a method used since the Bronze Age - tying his art to ancient processes and Indigenous American cultures. Viewing the Earth as the ultimate art supply store, Goss responsibly forages materials like barks, nuts, food waste, and rusted objects for natural dyes. Sustainability is central to his practice; his materials are designed to be biodegradable and leave no toxic trace.

Asher Holman (Asheville, NC). Holman grew up in San Francisco and discovered glassblowing at 16 through Public Glass, a local arts nonprofit. Drawn in by the dynamic community of artists, the physicality of the medium, and a fascination with the mesmerizing molten material, he began pursuing a career as a glass artist. He earned his BA in studio art with a focus in glass from Centre College in Kentucky.

After graduating, Holman relocated to Asheville, where he worked as a professional glass artist for six years, collaborating with studios and independent artists while developing his own work. In 2022, he began the process of opening his own studio, Small Batch Glass, which became publicly operational in February 2023.

Jane Jaskevich (Weaverville, NC). Jaskevich's mystical stone sculptures explore the balance between the conscious and subconscious, the ancient and modern, and the symbolic and literal. As a direct carver, Jaskevich draws directly onto the stone, allowing her hands and tools to follow the creative process as it unfolds.

Jaskevich's inspiration often begins with the human form. A piece of wood may suggest drapery, or a broken stone might resemble a silhouette, sparking an exploration of shape and gesture. Her intuitive process embraces discovery, blending deliberate thought with unconscious creativity.

Chris Jehly (Asheville, NC). Jehly was born in Santa Rosa, CA. He received his BA in printmaking at Sonoma State University in 2006 and MFA in printmaking from Columbia University in 2011.

He currently works primarily in watercolor though his practice encompasses acrylic and spray paint as well as mixed media. He takes inspiration from the surrounding landscapes throughout Western North Carolina. These paintings confront the devastation wrought by Hurricane Helene in Asheville, NC.

The work documents the ravaged and now unfamiliar landscape through firsthand observations, photographs, and memories. Objects and landmarks transform into menacing heaps, swooning trees adorned with plastic and metal detritus, vehicles rendered into muddied, skeletal remains. The painted images emerge like the rubble itself, both recognizable and falling into visual limbo.

Lori Brook Johnson (Bakersville, NC). Johnson's work reflects her deep ties to her Appalachian roots and the dualities of her upbringing. Her art explores themes of generational trauma, healing, and memory, rooted in the complex realities of coal mining communities.

Johnson's mark-making process is rhythmic and meditative, uncovering the beauty and individuality of lives often misunderstood. By holding space for grief and healing, her work invites viewers to see beyond stereotypes and honor the unspoken stories of Appalachian communities.

Kenn Kotara (Asheville, NC). Kotara's mixed-media practice explores the manipulation and interpretation of space. Rooted in a fascination with structure, networks, and abstraction, Kotara creates works that engage both two- and three-dimensional space. Layers of forms, symbols, and visual elements challenge viewers to find connections within complexity.

Kotara's work pushes traditional boundaries, activating both real and illusionary depths of field. His compositions weave personal interpretations, vague stimuli, and visual entanglements into dynamic narratives that encourage deeper engagement.

Joseph Pearson (Asheville, NC). Pearson believes art is a powerful tool for healing. In his work juxtaposing the devastation of Hurricane Helene with depictions of children at play, he explores themes of resilience, joy, and hope. Children represent a potential for a brighter future.

Pearson is an award-winning artist with over 45 years of professional experience. His artistic journey began at age 4, eventually leading him to Jackson State College (BS, 1969) and professional training at the Art Students League of New York, where he studied under a full scholarship for five years. After serving in the Army as an Illustrator, he worked at Stennis Space Center in Mississippi while further refining his skills. Pearson later earned a Master of Education from William Carey College, also under full scholarship, and has since received numerous grants.

Peter Roux (Asheville, NC). Roux works primarily in oils but also creates drawings and monotypes. Using nature as his subject, he explores not only natural forms but also how we experience the world around us. In an era where we encounter more images daily than at any other time in history, Roux examines how the language of imagery influences our perception of the natural world. He views all images as windows - with predetermined edges, sizes, and layers of information - and seeks to explore these parameters within his work.

Recently, Roux has focused on landscapes, clouds, water, and trees, combining representational approaches with elements of abstraction. Areas of marks and flourishes serve as reminders that his pieces are not the things they depict but instead reflections of the experience of seeing them.

Akira Satake (Asheville, NC). Born in Osaka, Japan, Satake moved to the US in 1981 and established himself as both a musician and a potter. After relocating to North Carolina in 2003, Satake founded Akira Satake Ceramics and embraced pottery as his primary artistic passion.

For Satake, creating pottery is a collaboration between artist, clay, and fire. He draws inspiration from natural forces - wind-sculpted sands, weathered rocks, and patinated walls - seeking to reveal the beauty inherent in randomness. Fire plays a critical role, transforming the clay in unpredictable ways that Satake both embraces and celebrates.

Through his work, Satake honors the natural world and the imperfect beauty of the handmade. Each vessel reflects a dialogue between intention and chance, inviting viewers to appreciate the simplicity - continued above on next column to the right ity and depth found in forms shaped by both human hands and natural forces.

Ricardo Tejada (Asheville, NC). At age 20, with no prior experience, Tejada began working for a small print and design firm in Fort Lauderdale, FL. Immersing himself in the tactile nature of print, he spent eight years as a pre-press technician before shifting his focus to design and photography. In 2021, after years of freelancing and a role as Senior Production Artist at an Asheville print firm, Tejada launched Show and Tale Creative.

Through Show and Tale Creative,

Tejada is recognized for ethereal, dreamlike landscape photography. Often drawing inspiration from his favorite films, his images embody a cinematic quality while calling for environmental conservation. For Tejada, photographing nature is both a personal exploration and a vision of a world where humans exist harmoniously with the environment, leaving it better for future generations.

Florence County Museum in Florence, SC, Features Works by William H. Johnson

The Florence County Museum in Florence, SC, has partnered with the Smithsonian American Art Museum to bring Fighters for Freedom: William H. Johnson Picturing Justice, starting Feb. 4, and continuing through Aug. 10, 2025. A reception will be held on Feb. 13, beginning at 6pm. Both the exhibition and reception are free for the public to attend.

This exhibition marks the first national tour of the magnum opus by William Henry Johnson (Florence, SC) entitled Fighters for Freedom. Johnson painted the series in the mid-1940s, creating a pantheon of historic and contemporary leaders who fought for the freedom of individuals worldwide. The exhibition of 25 works showcasing Johnson's later iconographic style is on loan from the Smithsonian American Art Museum and features works rarely exhibited outside our nation's capital.

According to the Smithsonian, "By almost any standard, William H. Johnson (1901-1970) can be considered a major American artist. He produced hundreds of works in a virtuosic, eclectic career that spanned several decades and continents. It was not until very recently, however, that his work began to receive the attention it deserves."

Stephen Motte, the Curator of Interpretations & Collections at the Florence County Museum, holds Johnson's contributions to 20th-century American Art in high regard saying, "William H. Johnson can fairly be considered South Carolina's most significant 20th-century artist. Many art historians may be tempted to give that credit to Jasper Johns, who is certainly better known, but there's a big difference. The subject matter and vision of Johnson's mature art in the 1940s were connected directly to South Carolina, whereas Johns' was not."

"The artworks in this exhibition are not just among Johnson's best, they encapsulate what separates great art from good art... that they are so intrinsic to the moment and circumstances of their creation that they could never be expressed better in another media or in a different way at a different time, by any another person," adds Motte.

"Harriet Tubman" ca. 1945, oil on paperboard by William H. Johnson, born Florence, SC 1901-died Central Islip, NY 1970. Smithsonian American Art Museum, Gift of the Harmon Foundation, 1967.59.1146

Fighters for Freedom: William H. Johnson Picturing Justice was organized by the Smithsonian American Art Museum. Generous support for this project is provided by Art Bridges, with additional support provided by Trustees of the Florence Museum, Florence County Museum Foundation, and Eastern Carolina Community Foundation Florence County Museum Civil Justice Fund.

The Florence County Museum exists to provide a dynamic sanctuary for the preservation, interpretation, and exhibition of objects of scientific, historical, and artistic significance that are unique or of special interest to the people of Florence County and the Pee Dee region of South Carolina.

Francis Marion University in Florence, SC, Features Works by Katherine Rumminger & Haleigh Lennox Brewer

Francis Marion University in Florence, SC, is presenting two exhibitions including: Common Ground, featuring works by Katherine Rumminger, and Dueling Identities: An Exploration Within and Beyond Twinship by Haleigh Lennox Brewer, both on view in the Kassab Gallery of the Hyman Fine Arts Center, through Feb. 20, 2025.

Katherine Rumminger grew up in Piedmont, SC, and attended Wren High School. Her passion for art and creating grew throughout her primary and secondary school years. She earned her Bachelor of Fine Art degree in May 2021 and her Master of Fine Art degree in May 2024, both from Lander University.

Rumminger specializes in sculpture and continues to create artwork that involves commonplace, representational forms constructed out of steel. She loves to teach and has taught Art Foundations classes at Lander University. When she is not creating in the studio or teaching, she enjoys traveling, spending time in nature, and going to cultural events.

Rumminger says, "Common Ground is a collection of handmade steel and mixed media sculptures depicting familiar imagery in uncanny ways. Objects such as a clock, a compass, a pillow, and a teacup are surrealistically configured, forming metaphors about interpersonal relationships and day-to-day life. Through Common Ground I seek to better understand myself and relate to others. Through common objects I seek common ground."

Haleigh Brewer is a North Carolina based photographer who uses her medium to explore narratives through visual stories. Her work delves into the intersections of personal and collective experiences, capturing the nuances of human emotion, interactions, and relationships through her lens. Her most recent work, Dueling Identities: An Exploration Within and Beyond Twinship, explores the relationship with her identical twin sister.

Brewer graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 2020 with a BFA in Studio Art and a minor in Global Cinema. She received her MFA in Studio Art with an emphasis in Photography from East Carolina University in 2024. Currently, Brewer shares her passion for photography as a teaching instructor at East Carolina University and Pitt Community College.

Brewer says, "Being an identical twin, I struggle to find my individuality outside of my twinship. The bond I have with my sister is unmatched to any relationship in this life. People often neglect to view me as a separate person within my twin relationship. I feel conflicted about possessing aspects that pertain to me that are not within my twinship. I have faced many challenges on my own which has helped me to understand and accept that I am strong enough to navigate this world independently."

"While I love being an identical twin and sharing the same interests in many things, at the same time, I want to be my own person," adds Brewer. "I explore these tensions by making photographs with the use of still-life to symbolize aspects of our relationship. My research explores how twins are depicted and treated in society and how the challenges of being a twin are overlooked. Our relationship is far more intricate than many choose to understand. Growing up as identical twins, we were expected to be the same and independence was not encouraged."

"This body of work aims to confront these issues and bring awareness to the complexities of twin identity and twin relationships; and to expand the conversation of this underrepresented topic. These photographs speak to the broader challenges of defining oneself."

Arts Council of Fayetteville | Cumberland County in Fayetteville, NC, Celebrates Black History Month

The Arts Council of Fayetteville | Cumberland County in Fayetteville, NC, is presenting, The Seed and The Sower, curated by Teresa Bone, on view at The Arts Center, through Feb. 28, 2025.

In celebration of Black History Month, this exhibit speaks to the strength of connectivity found in black female, familial relationships.

The Seed and The Sower explores the concept that a piece of us, no matter how microscopic, has been with our ancestral mothers for generations. We all go from being "seeds" of our ancestors to the "sowers" as we pass along familial traits, beliefs, and dispositions. The work included in this exhibition speaks to each artist's chosen timeframe - whether the past, present, future, or a combination of the three; and how they view the transference that occurs between ancestor and descendent.

"The theme of The Seed and The Sower came to me after having some reflective moments following the passing of my paternal Grandmother a few years ago," expressed Bone. "I built my feelings into an exhibition concept because I knew that what I was feeling was a very human experience that so many others would be able to empathize with."

Though focused on Black female narratives, the themes of legacy and lineage found in this exhibit are relevant to all genders and races- and will be a talking point for all people in the community and beyond.

Cameron Art Museum in Wilmington, NC, Features Works by Elisabeth Chant

The Cameron Art Museum in Wilmington, NC, will present, Elisabeth Chant, on view from Feb. 7 through Apr. 27, 2025.

North Carolina artist Elisabeth Chant (1865-1947) made an indelible mark on Wilmington's art community. Born in England, she emigrated to the United States, eventually settling in Wilmington around 1922.

Chant studied art in Minneapolis and Paris and was influenced by the Art Nouveau and Arts and Crafts movements. In Wilmington, she became known for her vibrant landscapes and scenes of the North Carolina coast. Chant also created decorative designs and explored mysticism and spiritual themes, which informed her artistic style. She was instrumental in developing Wilmington's cultural landscape, founding art classes, mentoring young artists, and establishing a community art association.

Elisabeth Chant (American b. England, 1865 – 1947), "Live Oak, Pelican Point", 1925, Oil on canvas. Collection of Cameron Art Museum. Gift of Hester Donnelly.

This exhibition, curated by CAM's former Executive Director Anne Brennan, explores the people and landscapes of Chant's world.

view range in size from 4 x 6 inches to 1 x 1.5 inches, delightfully miniature, a theme which has fascinated the artist for decades.

A graduate of Peace College and UNC-CH, Rippy has studied with artists Wolf Kahn, Burton Silverman and others. Her work is in the collections of Cameron Art Museum, William Peace University, Bank of America, private collectors, and others.

Copies of The Cape Fear Painted: The Art of Jodie Rippy will be available for purchase in CAM's Museum Shop.

Jodie Rippy is an artist who thrives on finding a myriad of ways to make her marks. At her core she is a representational oil painter. Art and the making of art has been an integral part of her life since childhood. Her earliest memory of sharing her art with others was her portrait of young Caroline Kennedy, which she promptly sent to the President himself (for which she received a warm thank you from the White House...she was age 10).

Rippy was featured artist in the October issue of OUR STATE Magazine in 2008 as well as the May 2018 issue of SALT Magazine. She has been recognized with regional awards and appears in private as well as corporate collections. She has exhibited at St. John's Museum of Art (now Cameron Art Museum in Wilmington, NC), Fayetteville Museum of Art in Fayetteville, NC, Davidson County Museum of Art in Lexington, NC, and is in permanent collections of The Cameron Art Museum, UNC Wilmington and William Peace University in Raleigh, NC, as well as Port City Capital Bank of Wilmington, Bald Head Island Corporation, Bank of America, movie producer Ms. Dino De Laurentis, Oscar award winning actress Louise Fletcher and North Carolina's own "Cheap Joe" Joe Miller. She has a permanent exhibit with First Union Securities in Atlanta, GA.

Rippy holds degrees from Peace College and a BS in art education from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She has studied with nationally renowned artists such as Wolf Kahn, Ted Goerschner, John Poon and Burton Silverman as well as many others. She has painted on location in Greece, France, Portugal, Spain, the Virgin Islands, Bermuda, Costa Rica, Mexico, the American Southwest as well as her local areas of Wilmington, Bald Head Island and the North Carolina mountains.

Rippy's work has been influenced by painters of the Impressionist period and abstract expressionists. She feels God has blessed her with a wonderful gift that allows her to have fun creating and making art using the mediums of oil paint, collage, gouache and watercolor. Not to mention the 9 grandchildren that keep her creative juices going with art projects ranging from painting, to making "fairies" from silk flowers and special landscapes using found objects as well as fashionable "Fascinators" and hair adornments. There is never a dull moment!! Paul Cezanne said "A work of art which did not begin in emotion is not art." I agree. Making art nourishes the soul.

Cameron Art Museum provides a cultural gathering place that enriches the lives of museum visitors and the community through high-quality exhibitions, lifelong learning in the arts, dynamic public programs, and stewardship and interpretation of the collection. CAM's four core values: commitment to community, to lifelong learning in the arts, to support of artists, and to collecting, preserving, documenting and interpreting a permanent collection of art. The museum has been a collecting institution since inception, with approximately 4,000 objects in the permanent collection, with a primary and growing focus on modern art. The collection includes work by artists of national and international significance, used in changing thematic exhibitions, loan exhibitions, and for educational purposes. Cameron Art Museum is a non-profit fully reliant on the generosity of its donors.

Sunset River Gallery in Calabash, NC, Offers Exhibit of Art Focused on Indigo

Sunset River Gallery in Calabash, NC, will present Mood Indigo, featuring 2D and 3D work by 25 of the gallery’s exhibiting artists focused on Indigo, on view from Feb. 1 through Mar. 8, 2025. A reception will be held on Feb. 1, from 2-4pm.

For this much awaited show, artists are exploring the evocative power of indigo in its many forms – color, mood, and metaphor. The show features a range of style and media including oil, watercolor, acrylic, fused glass, and mixed media.

In her figural painting for Mood Indigo, Myrtle Beach artist Rachel Jones focused on aspects of wisdom, tranquility and harmony, saying “Our protagonist here, has chosen to relinquish slights, fear, and other dark experiences that have weighed heavy upon their spirit in order to attain a level of quietude and stoicism.” Yuriy Petrov, who lives and paints in Myrtle Beach, finds and depicts the joy of existence in his abstracted landscape, “Ocean View.”

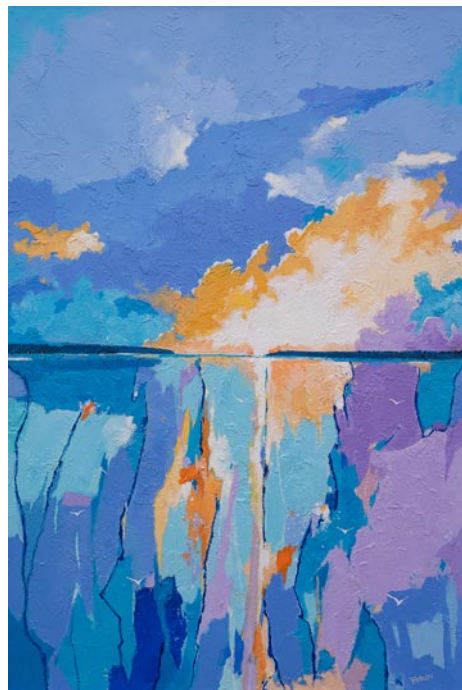

Landscape artist Rachel Sunnell connects emotion and history in her painting of North Carolina cotton fields at dusk. This dynamic tapestry of past and present interweaves individual and societal histories with light and shadow bridging eras and ideas.

Work by Rachel Sunnell

Whether through dreamlike blues, quiet solitude of evening shadows, or rich textures of indigo dye, works in this insightful show capture moods that range from serene to mysterious, rage-filled to peaceful. Mood Indigo is a thread that weaves together memory, emotion, and imagination, offering viewers a window into complex, layered states of being.

Located in coastal Brunswick County, NC, Sunset River Gallery caters to both area visitors and a growing local community of full-time residents seeking fine art for their homes and businesses. Featuring works by over 100 fine regional artists including Betty Anglin Smith, Marcus McClanahan, Janet Sessoms, and Richard Staat, among others, the gallery is well known in the area for its selection of oil paintings; watermedia; pastels; photography; hand-blown, stained, and fused glass; pottery and clay sculpture; turned and carved wood; unique home décor items; and artisan jewelry.

There are two onsite kilns and five wheels used by the gallery’s pottery students. The gallery also offers ongoing oil/acrylic and watercolor classes as well as workshops by nationally known instructors.

The gallery’s carefully curated selection of investment-grade 20th century fine art is one of the largest in the Carolinas. Current inventory can be found in the gallery website’s 20th Century Artists section. It includes works by Wolf Kahn (1927-2020), Raimonds Staprans (1926), Angel Botello (1913-1986), Vladimir Cora (1951), Fritz Scholder (1937-2005), Ginny Crouch Stanford (1950), and two bronze sculptures by Milton Hebard (1930 - 2010).

In 2023, Sunset River Gallery acquired Cordier Auctions, a premier auction house, which regularly holds estate and consignment auctions of fine and decorative art; coins, sterling, and fine jewelry; real estate; antiques, firearms and militaria, and more. Information about appraisal to auction can be obtained by emailing appraisal@sunsetrivergallery.com.

Sunset River Gallery is located on Beach Drive SW (NC179) in Calabash, NC.

Duke University in Durham, NC, Offers Exhibit Focused on the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Voting Rights Act of 1965

Duke University in Durham, NC, is presenting By dawn’s early light, on view at the Nasher Museum of Art, through May 11, 2025.

The years 2024 and 2025 mark the sixtieth anniversaries of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Voting Rights Act of 1965. The two Acts transformed life in the United States for many marginalized individuals, including people of color, women, people with disabilities, elders, and others who had not had equal rights in the nation’s history. This legislation was the culmination of nearly a century of work by activists and advocates.

By dawn’s early light, reflects on the historical context against which these Acts came into being: the US Constitution’s Preamble and the rights outlined in the First, Second, and Fourteenth Amendments. Each gallery features selections from the Nasher’s permanent collection that speak to these documents, questioning what it means to form a nation, to have a right to assemble, to own weapons, to pursue the American dream, and to define who “we the people” are.

This exhibition invites us to ask ourselves: what do we hold dear and how are we using our voices to protect those things - our values - when we go to the polls in each election? The exhibition’s title is not only a quotation from the national anthem but also a metaphor for the start of a new day, the hope for fresh possibilities to collectively imagine new futures.

Participating artists include: Kathryn Andrews, Adrián Balseca, Bill Bamberger, Roger Brown, Diego Camposeco, Kennedy Carter, Mel Chin, Dario Escobar, Leonard Freed, Genevieve Gaignard, Scherezade Garcia, Titus Brooks Heagins, Barkley L. Hendricks, Ken Heyman, Henry Horenstein, Dapper Bruce Lafitte, Michelangelo Lovelace, Danny Lyon, Mary Ellen Mark, Vik Muniz, Kambui Olujimi, Bill Owens, Gordon Parks, Fahamu Pecou, Ad Reinhardt, Gary Simmons, Jaune Quick-To-See Smith, Erika Stone, Lou Stouman, Sage Sohier, Sarah Sudhoff, Hank Willis Thomas, Burk Uzzle, Nari Ward, Antoine Williams, Fred Wilson, Purvis Young, and George Zimbel.

This exhibition was organized by Xuxa Rodríguez, Patsy R. and Raymond D. Nasher Curator of Contemporary Art, with support from Julianne Miao, Curatorial Assistant.

By dawn’s early light is made possible by the Nancy A. Nasher and David J. Haemisegger Family Fund for Exhibitions, the A. Courtney Shives Endowment Fund, the Frank Edward Hanscom Endowment, and the Janine and J. Tomilson Hill Family Fund.

Craven Allen Gallery in Durham, NC, Features Works by MJ Sharp

Craven Allen Gallery in Durham, NC, will present MJ Sharp: Nightscapes, on view from Feb. 8 through Mar. 1, 2025. A reception will be held on Feb. 8, from MJ Sharp's fascination with preserving the human relationship to night and darkness.

As a Fulbright Scholar to the UK, MJ Sharp collaborated with a nocturnal ecologist who is also concerned about escalating light pollution and our loss of night and darkness. Archaeologists in Cornwall have newly discovered evidence that prehistoric peoples visited ancient megalithic sites in low light or at night. Sharp was intrigued and set out to photograph these ancient sites at night, hoping that it "might be restorative for present-day people who have lost access to their evolutionary birthright of experiencing darkness and night."

Craven Allen is pleased to show and offer the first printed work from this important body of images, which up to now have only been seen as projections, most recently in her solo show at the College of Wooster Art Museum in Ohio. Also on display for the first time will be still lifes from the past from the past five years, and select night landscapes that have not been previously shown.

In the two decades that MJ Sharp has been exploring "the dark and the liminal" in her photography, the increasing effects of light pollution have only strengthened her connection to this unique photographic approach. "A vanishingly small percentage of our evolutionary time as human beings has been spent in artificial light" she explains, "now, for a large percentage of the world's population, the experience of night is quickly becoming a boutique and exceptional one."

This is MJ Sharp's second solo exhibition at Craven Allen Gallery.

Work by MJ Sharp

they inspire is, in fact, quite similar," adds Sharp. "Long looking and the resultant long exposures produce a kind of intermediate reality that is not available in real time. I experience most of my subjects as dark and undifferentiated monochromes, but when I'm lucky, the alchemy of photography turns them into luscious and detailed scenes that invite immersion and contemplation."

An East Tennessee native, photographer MJ Sharp has been happily based in Durham, NC, for most of her adult life. She worked closely with writers and reporters on both short and longform journalism stories as the staff photographer and photography editor at the Independent in Durham for most of the 1990's. During much of that time she also freelanced regionally for the New York Times, the New York Times Magazine, PBS's Frontline, the Columbia Journalism Review, and the Ford Foundation, among others. She taught at the Center for Documentary Studies at Duke University from 2012 — 2022 and helped found the Duke Faculty Union. She has done personal art and documentary photography for the past twenty years, culminating in a Fulbright Scholar Award in 2021/2022 to the University of Exeter, UK, where she collaborated with nocturnal ecologist Dr. Kevin Gaston to explore the effects of light pollution.

Sharp's artwork is included in the collections of the Akron Art Museum, the Asheville Museum of Art, the Cassilhaus Collection, The Henry-Copeland Art Collection at UNC-Chapel Hill, the Nasher Museum of Art at Duke University, the North Carolina Museum of Art, and the US-UK Fulbright Commission Art Collection (London), as well as many private collections.

Work by MJ Sharp

MJ Sharp offered the following statement, "I started photographing exclusively at night just over 20 years ago, and the drive to spend time in quiet, dark places and wait for them to reveal themselves feels even more relevant today. The "attention economy" is a concept that goes back over 50 years. Psychologist and economist Herbert Simon went on to posit that "a wealth of information creates a poverty of attention," a societal ill that has exploded in the years since."

"While a moonlit prehistoric quoit in Cornwall and a dimly illuminated botanical study in Durham would seem to have little in common, the focused attention

Town of Cary, NC, Presents Several New Exhibits at the Cary Arts Center

The Town of Cary, NC, is presenting several exhibitions on view at the Cary Arts Center, located on Dry Avenue in downtown Cary.

On view in the Cary Arts Center Gallery, through Mar. 21, 2025, will be works by Jo-Ann Morgan. The wall-mounted hangings are constructed in layered cotton fabric. Because they resemble quilted comforters, which are familiar and approachable, the medium is ideal for addressing provocative topics related to social justice and inequality. Despite the unsettling themes, these stitched fabric pictures offer a soothing counterpoint to the harsh events of contemporary reality.

If there is a message running throughout this work is "seeking comfort in a fraught world." Art can be a way to process events and experiences that are almost too much to bear.

On view in the Cary Arts Center Principal's Hall, through Mar. 23, 2025, are works by Lisa Carl. Carl says, "My paintings celebrate color, organic movement, inorganic stasis, and objects left behind. Encaustic paint is the perfect medium for these celebrations: its lush, translucent colors, the organic liquid and accretion patterns it creates, and the endless possibilities it offers for layering, incision, and incorporating objects."

“These works explore color and movement in numerous ways,” adds Carl. “Many are re-visions of photographs I’ve taken. Abstracted from their familiar figurative contexts, these pieces highlight the many ways in which human-made structures interact with and inform the organic landscape. Similarly, other works isolate found objects (rusted metal, wood, shells, stones), inviting the viewer to contemplate the singularity of the humble and mundane.”

And finally on view in the Cary Arts Center Display Cases, through Mar. 23, 2025, will be works by Annabelle Stein. Stein says, “Color, texture and pattern have been key components of my artist toolbox, and these elements have always informed my work, whether fabric printing and design, and now cement sculpture. These latest pieces are playful experiments with forms inspired by natural objects, botanicals, light, formations.”

The Cary Arts Center is the downtown hub of arts activity for Cary. Its historic legacy of education began in the 1870s when

Gallery C in Raleigh, NC, Features Works by Harry DeMaine

Gallery C in Raleigh, NC, is presenting Works from the Estate of Harry DeMaine (1880-1952), on view through Feb. 28, 2025.

Harry DeMaine was born in Liverpool, England in 1880 and grew up in Bolton Abbey, Yorkshire. His formal arts education began at the Liverpool City Art School, which then brought him to study painting and printmaking in London. This experience led DeMaine to continue his education at the Académie Julian in Paris, where he began to exhibit in salons, initiating his career as an artist.

During the first World War, DeMaine volunteered with the American Field Service, an ambulatory force of youths that aided the French Army. His service continued when he joined the British Expeditionary Force and fought with the King’s Royal Rifle Corps. Upon being discharged from active service near the end of the war, Harry DeMaine made America his home and became a naturalized citizen. In 1926, he re-met Lucy MacDonald (whom he had previously known from the Field Service), and they married soon after in 1928.

Settling in New York, he began to exhibit widely in both individual and group shows, receiving prizes for watercolors and oil paintings alike.

Additionally, Harry DeMaine became a member to a number of organizations; among them were the New York Watercolor Society and the American Watercolor Society, for which he held leadership positions, as well as the Salmagundi Club, the National Academy of Design and the Rockport Art Association.

Although DeMaine was based in New York, much of his subject matter and inspiration came from time spent at Cape Ann and The Rocky Neck Art Colony in Gloucester and Rockport, MA.

Work by Harry DeMaine (1880-1953)

Harry DeMaine devoted his summers to those picturesque rocky shores, and was passionate about depicting their rugged mystique. With broad strokes and luscious earthy colors, he brought the environs of the Northeastern US to life. American Art News (now the publication ARTnews) once described his watercolors as having the ability to “exhale the atmosphere of the locale.” The synergy between industrialization of the harbor and the strong personality of the adjacent natural environment provided DeMaine plenty to explore through his work, and he captured the region’s charm beautifully. According to a Washington Post review, he “transferred to America...the lyrical quality of the English landscape.”

Harry DeMaine died in 1952. In addition to Gallery C, Harry DeMaine’s work can be found in the permanent collections of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, the Bevier Collection at the Rochester Institute of Technology, and the Cape Ann Museum in Gloucester, MA.

Gallery C in Raleigh, NC, Features Works by Bert Sult

Gallery C in Raleigh, NC, will present A MAN OUT OF TIME: Bert Sult’s Watercolor Interpretations of Historic Architecture, on view from Feb. 5 through Mar. 4, 2025. A reception will be held on Feb. 7, from 6-8pm.

Bert Sult was born in Wytheville, VA, and grew up in Kinston, NC. His two loves were art and architecture, and he made a career of both. As a successful architect, Sult continued to make art in various mediums. In 2009 he decided that watercolor would be his chosen specialty. The spontaneity and the speed appealed to him. The possibilities were endless.

Sult’s watercolors show his impressionist and atmospheric style. His ex-

Hillsborough Gallery of Arts in Hillsborough, NC, Offers Annual Story Exhibition

The Hillsborough Gallery of Arts in Hillsborough, NC, will present, IT’S ALL ABOUT THE STORY, Vol. XI: Jeffery Beam, on view from Feb. 11 through Mar. 23, 2025. A reception will be held on Feb. 28, from 6-9pm. Jeffery Beam will read from his poetry in the gallery Feb. 23, from 4-6pm.

In 2013, the Hillsborough Gallery of Arts began an annual show highlighting the work of a local writer by responding visually to his or her work. In the past, this show has been inspired by the work of writers with local ties: Michael Malone, Lee Smith, Allan Gurganus, Jill McCorkle, Nancy Peacock, John Bemis, Elizabeth Keckly, composer Billy Strayhorn, poet Jaki Shelton Green, and singer/songwriter Mary Rocab.

The work of North Carolina poet, Jeffery Beam, will be the focus of this year’s show. The gallery’s 20 artists have each chosen a poem from Beam’s body of work as inspiration for a piece of art in their chosen medium.

Sculptor Lynn Wartski has based her piece, Dryad Slumber, on Beam’s poem, “The Green Man’s Man,” published in 2010 in the collection “From Gospel Earth.” Most of her recent sculptural work has dealt with animal forms, so this was a welcome opportunity to create a figurative piece; in Dryad Slumber, Wartski represents a figure who blurs the lines between plant and animal, giving the viewer a peek at the inner life of a forest nymph. Wartski writes, “For me, it is usually a turn of phrase that catches my attention.” She found inspiration in the following lines from “The Green Man’s Man”:

*Finding under the oak:
Majesty in a creeping snail deliberation seriousness shyness and yet
What absolute trust
The deeply slumbering spirit within*

Scratchboard artist, Sally Terrell, was inspired by Jeffery Beam’s poem, “Credo.” Terrell was especially drawn to Beam’s idea of communicating through unspoken words rather than the ones that are said. The truth of this message, as well as the addition of a chickadee in the last stanza, confirmed Terrell’s choice of this poem for her beautiful piece, “The Periwinkle and the Chickadee.” As Beam writes:

*Now, when I talk
It is not just to say this or that.
But it is to say what is in between.*

Glass artist, Pringle Teeter, chose the poem, “Paracelsus: Concerning the Iris in the Vase,” which includes a line about “The glass-blower’s tincture.” Teeter focused on the lines of the poem that include inspiring colors to create her two glass pieces. The sparkling green of her vessel, Luna Moth, and the undulating purple sides of her piece, Purple Petals, are both nods to the following lines in Beam’s poem:

*Until their purple petals consume your cloaked
Distances. The Luna moth will
Lay down her green shawl tonight,
Iridescently white*

Nancy Smith created a portrait inspired by Jeffery Beam’s poem, “Ars Poetica: the Queen.” Her portrait, Following the Goddess, Jewel of the Hive, was created using a variety of media, including bees wax. In describing her inspiration from the poem, Smith writes, “I was reminded that, like the queen bee, we exist in a world of our own creation. And like her, our creation is built not by us alone, but always in collaboration with others. I think her message is that there is a great responsibility in discerning guidance from other beings in our lives.”

The Hillsborough Gallery of Arts is owned and operated by 20 local artists and represents these established artists exhibiting contemporary fine art and fine craft. The Gallery’s offerings include painting, sculpture, scratchboard, ceramics, jewelry, glass, metals, encaustic, enamel, fiber art, weaving, gourd sculptures, and wood.

She is an Associate Professor of Art - Ceramics & A.D. Gallery Director at the University of North Carolina at Pembroke.

The handcrafted exhibit is open to all US artists ages 18 or older working in ceramics, fiber, glass, metal, wood, paper, or any combination of craft medias. The following prizes are awarded: $1000 Acquisition Award, $300 First Place, $200 Second Place, and $100 Third Place. The announcements of winners will be on Feb. 9, 2025, and posted to our website.

Mike’s Metal Madness is a sculpture exhibit that will feature the works of self-taught visual artist, Mike Winstead.

The artist uses repurposed metals and other materials to create beautiful works of sculpture. He was also Best in Show winner of our 2023 Juried National Art Exhibit and his piece, Steam Locomotive, is now part of the Maria V. Howard Arts Center Permanent Collection. He also has works in private collections throughout Eastern North Carolina.

Also, on display in our galleries, Registrar, Stephan Daniels has curated the exhibit, A Human Experience.

This reflects emotion, influences, culture, and more from human experience. The Maria V. Howard Arts Center Permanent Collection features works, gifts or acquired, for our permanent collection. This particular exhibit includes pottery, sculpture, paintings, collage, and more.

Mount Parks and Recreation Department through the Maria V. Howard Arts Center each year. The winner of our sculpture show will be announced on Feb. 9, and posted to our website. Our juror for the exhibit is sculptor, Jim Gallucci.

Gallucci, a graduate of LeMoyne College (BA, English 1973) and Syracuse University (BFA, Art 1974 and MFA, Sculpture 1976), has been a sculptor for over 30 years. He has worked as an art instructor at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and the University of Alabama at Huntsville. He was also an Exhibit Designer for the North Carolina Zoological Park in Asheboro, NC. Gallucci is a national and international artist with work in a number of permanent collections including the Maria V. Howard Permanent Collection.

This year’s Sculpture Salmagundi features works by artists: Thomas Happel, Hanna Jubran, Jordan Parah, Jonathan Bowling, Glenn Zwegardt, Lee Badger, TJ Christiansen, Sam Spiczka, John Ross, Jessica Bradsher, Ethan Morrow, Bob Doster, Vandorn Hinnant, and Marc Chicoine.

These and other permanent works of art are on display throughout the City of Rocky Mount. For more information, contact the Imperial Centre for the Arts and Sciences. Guided tours are available through the Imperial Centre as well as an app, Otocast which provides visitors with gps coordinates and recordings of the artists speaking about their work. Maps are also available upon request.

We invite everyone to view these beautiful exhibitions. Admission to the galleries is free. We are located at the Imperial Centre for Arts and Sciences, located on Gay Street, Rocky Mount, NC 27804.

So you’re the Marketing Director of a visual arts organization, art museum, arts center, arts council or artist guild and you’re wondering why you never see the exhibits presented at your facility included here. Maybe you’re the owner of a commercial art gallery and you’ve never seen your exhibits included with others presented in your area. You might even be an individual artist who is having an exhibit in a non-profit space or commercial space and you don’t see your exhibits included. My question to you is - How long will you put up with that before you ask someone, “Why that is the case?” If you’re not included - it’s your fault. Send your info about exhibits to “Carolina Arts” by e-mail to (info@carolinaarts.com). Our deadline is the 24th of the month, at 5pm “prior” to the month your exhibit starts.

Some Exhibits That Are Still On View

Dr. Portia Maria, “Tears for Ta-tas”

Appalachian State University in Boone, NC, is presenting The Clothes I Wear, featuring works by Portia Marie York, on view in the Mayer Gallery, at the Turchin Center for the Visual Arts, through May 3, 2025. Dr. Portia Maria York offers the following artist statement, “Bras of Beauty explores the profound beauty and spiritual resilience found within the real and metaphorical scars of breast cancer warriors. Through intricately crafted crocheted bras, this collection seeks to impart a sense of lightness continued above on next column to the right and to lift the veil of shame associated with the loss of breasts, hair, nails, and changes in skin tone – challenges often mistakenly viewed as a loss of femininity. These visually captivating, crocheted artworks advocate for awareness and support of breast cancer’s impact on 1 in 8 women in the United States. The bras symbolize hope and celebrate the strength of women who have triumphed over breast cancer as well as those currently facing its challenges. The visual presentation invites conversations about cancer, breasts, image, femininity, beauty, and the impact of breast cancer on all women through a clothing item that women wear.” For further information call the Center at 828/262-3017 or e-mail to (turchincenter@appstate.edu).

“Processing Systems: Bonding” by Sherrill Roland. Photograph by Alex Maness Photography

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, NC, is presenting Processing Systems: Bonding by Sherrill Roland, on view in the Ackland Art Museum, through July 13, 2025. In Processing Systems: Bonding by Sherrill Roland, monumental square grids of multi-colored numbers dominate the exhibition space like giant sudoku puzzles. To create them, artist Sherrill Roland reclaims United States Federal and State Correctional Identification Numbers and repurposes them through what he considers to be a systematized portraiture making technique. The grids on view act as logic exercises that scramble and rework the former correctional IDs of the artist and his father. The resulting wall drawings create theoretical portraits of the two subjects. The shared system employed to create the two works emphasizes the various bonds shared by these family members at the same time that the formal qualities of the drawings evoke lone figures bound by cells. For further information call the Museum at 919/966-5736 or visit (www.ackland.org).

Greenville Technical College in Greer, SC, is presenting Landscape Now, featuring works by Todd Anderson, Brittany Gilbert, Julie Mixon, Amanda Musick, Patrick Owens, and Anderson Wrangle, on view in the Benson Campus Galleries, through Feb. 7, 2025. Throughout history we have been awed by the power and permanence of the landscape, its bucolic balm, and its bounty of resources. Artists have recorded this beauty and bounty across time. Our industrialization has slowly challenged landscapes’ permanence and bounty through misuse and misunderstanding. Now even mountains, rivers, seas are no longer permanent. The bucolic woodlands are subdivisions or landfills. Our once bountiful earth and its climate is becoming inhospitable and fragile. The artists in Landscape Now are addressing our landscapes and in turn, climate’s hostility toward supporting our industrialized life and culture. Each artist has an individual focus, but the sum of their singular visions is a view of desolation and fragility. For further information call Pat Owens, Gallery Assistant at 864/250-3051, e-mail Fleming Markel, Gallery Director at (fleming.markel@gvltec.edu) or visit (www.gvltec.edu/dva).

Works by Michael Webster

Columbia College in Columbia, SC, is presenting PULSE, Reaction, featuring works by Michael Webster, on view in the Goodall Gallery, through Feb. 27, 2025. Michael Webster offers the following Artist Statement, “Through projects that span sculpture, installation, and lens-based media, I respond to the becomings and undoings of space. My work begins with a social conception of space, where shifting territorial boundaries form strata between people. I seek moments where boundaries become permeable – a place where architecture dissolves into raw matter or the surveyor’s tools encode a digital artifact. By finding residues where systems are revealed, I question the processes of demarcation and displacement that inscribe sites of contention on the land.” For further information contact Brittany M. Francis Marion University in Florence, SC, is presenting Blue, featuring works by Heather Evans Smith, on view in the Steven F. Gately Gallery, located in downtown Florence, through Mar. 6, 2025. Heather Evans Smith, an acclaimed photo-based artist known for her evocative portrayals of memory, family, and loss, will exhibit Blue at Gately Gallery, a body of work that delves deeply into her own experiences of grief and depression. Through symbolic compositions drenched in blue - the color historically linked to melancholy - Smith navigates the emotional complexities of midlife and profound personal loss. “For some, my dad’s death might be seen as the

Charleston

Work by Jim Killen - SEWE

Throughout downtown Charleston, Feb. 14 - 16, 2025 - "43rd annual Southeastern Wildlife Exposition 2024". Now in its 43rd year, the Southeastern Wildlife Exposition has grown to be the largest event of its kind in the nation, attracting over 500 artists and exhibitors from around the globe who present their offerings to over 40,000 attendees. A 3-day celebration of nature that has earned a reputation for excellence, SEWE now hosts the world's foremost experts in wildlife and nature art, as well as conservation research and environmental education. The Expo showcases everything visitors love about wildlife and nature. It brings together people of all ages, men and women, sportsmen and conservationists, artists and artisans, fans and families. Through an incredible lineup of events - from fine art exhibits, conservation education, sporting demonstrations and parties, SEWE invites us all to explore our "wild" side and pay tribute to our naturally beautiful world. For further info about tickets and schedule of events visit (<https://sewe.com/>).

Avery Research Center for African History and Culture, at the College of Charleston, 125 Bull St., Charleston. Ongoing - Exhibits on view include: "Since 1920: Zeta Phi Beta Centennial". The Gamma Zeta chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Incorporated presents a centennial exhibit filled with the rich history of the sorority in print and paraphernalia. Visitors can see in-depth the programming, philanthropy and reach of Zeta Phi Beta during their 100 years. "The Water Keeps Rising" Hip-hop artist and activist Benny Starr has created an interactive exhibit based on data from the Avery's State of Racial Disparities Report in Charleston County. This exhibit will create an immersive experience for visitors. In the areas of civic engagement, racial disparities, the environment and performance art/music, this exhibit will aim to connect the dots from historical data and archival information up to the present conditions of the Lowcountry. "Resilient". Local artist Chris "Kolpeace" Johnson will highlight the power of being resilient with this work that recognizes African Americans who have shown strength through adversity including the late local activist Muhiyidin D'baha and Cyntoia Brown, who faced life in prison after being convicted of homicide as a juvenile. These pieces are tributes to memorialize the impactful strength of an unsung hero in the community, engaging the soul and spirit. "The African Origins of Mathematics". Charleston resident and artist Robert "King David" Ross highlights the direct impact Africa has had on modern mathematics in this exhibit. Showcasing the first math instrument, the Ishango bone, the exhibit allows visitors to see the influence Africa has had on every aspect of life. Admission: Free. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 10am-5pm, with guided tours at 10:30am, 11:30am, 1:30pm, 2:30pm, and 3:30pm. Contact: 843/805-5507 or visit (www.cofc.edu/avery).

City Gallery at Joseph P. Riley, Jr. Waterfront Park, 34 Prioleau Street, Charleston. Through Feb. 9 - "Calling Me Home: A Visual Ode to the Low-Country," featuring works by Marcus Middleton and "Children of Indigo" featuring works by Caroline Gutman. An artist's talk with Marcus Middleton will be held on Feb. 9, at 2pm. All events are free and open to the public. "Children of Indigo" is a documentary project that explores the plant's painful history in South Carolina and spotlights women in the Lowcountry today who have revived indigo cultivation and dyeing, building a flourishing community of textile artists and homesteaders. "Calling Me Home: A Visual Ode to the Low-Country" is a tribute to Wadmalaw Island and its environs. "Calling Me Home: A Visual Ode to the Low-Country" is photographer Marcus Middleton's tribute to Wadmalaw Island, or what he likes to call a "living museum." "The American South is both turbulent and beautiful, and my hope is to share that dynamic and sometimes contradictory experience with the audience; to capture Wadmalaw as it is, unspoiled by progress," says Middleton. In "Children of Indigo," Caroline Gutman explores how the commodity and its dye fueled slavery in the American colonies. Her body of work shows the remaining historical sites in contrast with contemporary textile artists and farmers confronting indigo's difficult past and reclaiming it. Indigo in America is haunted by a painful past. Like cotton, indigo carries inseparable links to centuries of American chattel slavery. Hours: Wed.-Sun., noon-5pm. Contact: 843/958-6484 or (www.charleston-sc.gov/citygallery).

Gibbes Museum of Art, 135 Meeting Street, Charleston. Galleries 1, 2, and 3, Through Apr. 27 - "Beeple". In collaboration with Beeple Studios, led by Mike Winkelmann, aka Beeple, the Gibbes Museum of Art will feature three of Beeple's latest kinetic sculptures. Beeple, a trailblazer in digital art, gained worldwide recognition after his NFT artwork "EVERYDAYS: THE FIRST 5000 DAYS" sold for a record-breaking price at Christie's in 2021. His work, particularly the generative sculpture "HUMAN ONE", has been showcased in several prestigious museums, including the Crystal Bridges Museum of American Art in Arkansas - the first US institution to display this piece. Galleries 8 & 9, Through Apr. 27 - "Statement Pieces: Contemporary Fashion Design and the Gibbes Collection". Produced in conjunction with Barrett Barrera Projects, this exhibition juxtaposes dynamic works of fine art from the Gibbes permanent collection with contemporary fashion objects. Extraordinary garments by Alexander McQueen, Dapper Dan, Gucci, and beyond will be presented alongside fashion forward figures in paintings from the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, abstract works of the mid-twentieth century, and contemporary sculpture and mixed media works of today. The exhibition will introduce innovative fashion to museum audiences and demonstrate the importance of design in a visual arts context. Galleries 4, and 5, Permanent Exhibition - "18th and 19th Century American Paintings and Sculpture". American paintings, from colonial portraits to Civil War-era landscapes, occupy the Gibbes Main Gallery. Portraits of leading political, social, and military figures include works by Jeremiah Theus, Henry Benbridge, Benjamin West, Gilbert Stuart, Thomas Sully and Samuel F.B. Morse. The gallery also features landscape and genre scenes by Angelica Kaufmann, Louis Mignot, Eastman Johnson, Conrad Wise Chapman, and William Aiken Walker. The paintings collection is complemented by examples of neoclassical sculpture on view in the Campbell Rotunda, and decorative art objects on loan from the Rivers Collection. Gallery 5, Permanent Exhibition - "Miniature Portraits". The first American miniature portraits were painted in Charleston, and today the Gibbes is home to one of the most prestigious portrait miniature collections in the United States. Containing more than six hundred objects, the collection spans nearly two hundred years and represents the work of over a hundred artists. Small enough to fit in the palm of the hand, these tiny portraits were treasured remembrances of loved ones in the age before photography. Presented in state-of-the-art display cases, and in viewable storage drawers featured miniatures include works by Mary Roberts, Jeremiah Theus, Henry Benbridge, Charles Wilson Peale, Pierre Henri, Edward Greene Malbone, George Engleheart, and Charles Fraser. Gallery 6, Permanent Exhibition - "20th Century American Regionalism and the Charleston Renaissance". At the turn of the twentieth century, American artists looked to their European counterparts and beyond as they developed identifiably American artistic movements. Two particularly strong influences during this time period were French Impressionism and Japanese woodblock prints. Another prevailing theme during this period was the growing interest in American subject matter. American regionalism and social realism played important roles in the development of art in Charleston, which flourished as a destination for artists, particularly during the years of 1915 to 1945 a period now known as the Charleston Renaissance. Gallery 7, Permanent Exhibition - "Modern and Contemporary". Modern and contemporary art in America encompasses a wide range of styles, subject matter, and media. As a whole, the diversity of modern and contemporary art reflects the rich and varied heritage of our nation and the lowcountry region. Works in this gallery were created over the past forty years by artists who are native to the area, who have worked here, or who have created objects that reflect the complex story of the region. The works are grouped to reflect several themes including the southern landscape, the human figure, abstraction, and the legacy of slavery in America. Museum Shop - Now offering the inventory of the Tradd Street Press, reproductions of works by Elizabeth O'Neill Verner among other exhibit related art objects. Hours: Mon.-Thur., 10am-5pm & Sun.,

Redux Contemporary Art Center, featuring Redux Studios, 1056 King Street, Charleston. Main Gallery, Feb. 7 - Mar. 15 - "Charzewski: The Sword of Damocles," a solo site specific installation. A reception will be held on Feb. 7, from 5-8pm. is a site-specific installation that examines humanity's delicate and often futile attempts to control the natural forces surrounding us. Visitors can expect to see objects found after a flood, suspended off the gallery floor, hovering in a dream-like state, existing both within and beyond our reality. Referencing the Greek myth of Damocles, the tension of the suspension symbolizes binding and restraint controlling the objects, as much as a fear of losing and having them fall. Gallery 1056, Feb. 7 - Mar. 15 - "Warrior Queens in Time," featuring works by Kris Hanson. The will focus on the feminine archetype of a Warrior Queen; embodying courage, strength, and persistence throughout time. This feminist solo exhibition will incorporate the use of found objects in the creation of three-dimensional objects. The black

Columbia Area

Columbia Museum of Art, Main & Hampton Streets, Columbia. Through Feb. 2 - "Constantine Manos: A Greek Portfolio". Born in Columbia to Greek immigrant parents in 1934, Constantine Manos traveled to Greece in the early 1960s, where he photographed the everyday lives of villagers over a period of three years. The resulting body of work, first published in 1972 as A Greek Portfolio, solidified the photographer's reputation and quickly earned international recognition. In 1978, he donated 50 of those prints to the Columbia Museum of Art, a selection of which is on view in this exhibition. Manos' account captures the beauty, simplicity, and hardships of rural Greek life with the sensitivity of one with familial ties to that country. In intimate images exploring love, loss, faith, and family, the artist prompts reflection on the nature of human relationships and the connections between land and labor. Galleries 5 & 6, Ongoing - "Modern & Contemporary Art from the Collection". Celebrating some of the CMA's greatest hits, this exhibition features over 30 paintings, drawings, photographs and sculptures from the Museum's collection that have not been on view recently. It offers the visitor experiences both serious and sensual and is designed to both entertain and enlighten. Notable works included are by Jasper Johns, Howard Thomas, Sally Mann and Edward Ruscha, whose famous image of the Hollywood Hills (on view) has become a staple of the art world. Ray Taylor Fair Gallery, Ongoing - Featuring a new and permanent installation of its ancient art collection. The installation includes approximately 50 objects that introduce the major ancient civilizations from the Mediterranean and Near East. Examples of the earliest form of writing from 12th century B.C. Mesopotamia, are shown next to Egyptian scarabs and Greek painted vessels. The world of the ancient Romans is represented by 2nd century glass and bronze items and portrait sculpture. Many of these works have not been seen since the Museum moved to its location on Main Street in 1998. The collection has grown over the last several years with the donation of 12 fine Roman sculptures in 2002 from Pennsylvania collector Dr. Robert Y. Turner. Admission: Yes, but there is no admission charge on Sun. Free admission through Labor Day - The Columbia Museum of Art has been selected to participate in Art Bridges Foundation's Access for All program, a transformative, three-year funding initiative aimed at increasing access to museums across America and fostering engagement with local audiences. Through this generous support, the CMA is launching Free Summer at the CMA, a new endeavor that offers all residents of South Carolina free general admission to the museum from. Mill District Public Art Trail (MDPAT), throughout the Whaley, Olympia and Granby neighborhoods, known as Columbia, SC's Mill District, Columbia. Ongoing - The MDPAT was conceived as a project in 2017 by 701 Center for Contemporary Art board and staff to connect the three neighborhoods through a creative endeavor. The inaugural works on the trail were created by 11 South Carolina artists - collaborators David Cianni (Aiken) and Anna Redwine (Columbia), Diana Farfán (Greenville), Flavia Lovatelli (Columbia), Susan Lenz (Columbia), Robert Lyon (Columbia), Doug McAbee (Greenwood), Philip Moody (Rock Hill), Carey Morton (Charleston), Jordan Sheridan (Columbia), Brittany Watkins (Columbia), and Fletcher Williams III (Charleston). The works on the Mill District Public Art Trail invite us to explore the art and highlight the unique character of the distinctive neighborhoods within the Mill District. Part of this journey is discovering art in unexpected and surprising spaces. It is also an indication of the ongoing transformation taking place in this historically important community. Hours: normal daylight hours. For further information call 803/238-2351 or visit (<https://www.701cca.org/mill-distict-public-art-trail-rfq-questions-answers>).

701 Center for Contemporary Art, 701 Whaley St., Columbia. Main Gallery, Feb. 20 - Mar. 23 - "A Sorcery of Sustenance," featuring works by Masud Olufani. A reception will be held on Feb. 27, from 6-8pm. Masud Olufani's exhibition, "A Sorcery of Sustenance" was curated by Floyd Hall and previously exhibited at Atlanta Contemporary. During the Opening Reception, Olufani will give a special performance. "A Sorcery of Sustenance" is a collection of recently completed sculptures that trace the cultural retentions of the African Diaspora through food. Inspired in part by the popular Netflix series "High on the Hog", this diverse gathering of mixed media works examines food production within the Black community as an alchemy that satiates the body as well as the spirit. Hours: Thur.-Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: call Caitlin Bright at 803/238-2351 or at (www.701cca.org).

SC State Museum, 301 Gervais St., Columbia. Ongoing - The South Carolina State Museum, the state's largest and most comprehensive museum, is located along the banks of the beautiful Congaree River in downtown Columbia, South Carolina. Founded in 1988, the State Museum is the primary storyteller of the history of South Carolina. Through rich and diverse collections displayed through interactive and engaging exhibitions, the State Museum strives to honor the groundbreaking nature of its setting, providing both residents and visitors an in-depth picture of the state's past, present and future. There is much to see and do every day at the State Museum through a variety of exhibitions and educational programs both offered at the museum and through distance learning programs, as well as through entertaining community events of all kind. The Crescent Café, second floor mezzanine of the Museum. The house menu offers a variety of baked goods, juices, coffee, hot chocolate and tea. Spears Music/Art Center, Columbia College, 1301 Columbia College Drive, Columbia. Goodall Gallery, Through Feb. 27 - "PULSE, Reaction," featuring works by Michael Webster. Webster says, "Through projects that span sculpture, installation, and lens-based media, I respond to the becomings and undoings of space. My work begins with a social conception of space, where shifting territorial boundaries form strata between people. I seek moments where boundaries become permeable - a place where architecture dissolves into raw matter or the surveyor's tools encode a digital artifact." Loft Gallery, Through Feb. 27 - "you told me once but i forgot," featuring works by Grey Eckert. Nellie Grey Eckert (she/her) was born in Durham, NC, where she spent her childhood convincing others to call her by her middle name. After graduating from Coastal Carolina University with dual-BAs and academic minors in studio art, graphic design, art history, and photography, Grey attended the University of South Carolina, where she earned an MFA in studio art. She currently teaches at Coastal Carolina University. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 10am-5pm. Contact: contact Brittany M. ## Florence

Florence County Museum, 111 West Cheves Street, across the street from the Francis Marion

"Harriet Tubman" ca. 1945, oil on paperboard by William H. Johnson, born Florence, SC 1901-died Central Islip, NY 1970. Smithsonian American Art Museum, Gift of the Harmon Foundation, 1967.59.1146

University Performing Arts Center, Florence. Feb. 4 - Aug. 19 - "Fighters for Freedom: William H. Johnson Picturing Justice". The Florence County Museum has partnered with the Smithsonian American Art Museum to bring "Fighters for Freedom: William H. Johnson Picturing Justice". This exhibition marks the first national tour of the magnum opus by William Henry Johnson (Florence, South Carolina). Johnson painted the series in the mid-1940s, creating a pantheon of historic and contemporary leaders who fought for the freedom of individuals worldwide. The exhibition of 25 works showcasing Johnson's later iconographic style is on loan from the Smithsonian American Art Museum and features works rarely exhibited outside our nation's capital. Special Exhibit Gallery, Through Feb. 23 - "Edward Gay: An American Landscape Painter". New York based artist Edward Gay (1837 - 1928) began visiting and painting in South Carolina after his daughter Vivien, an architecture student at Cornell University, was married to James Lide Coker, Jr., of Hartsville. Years later, the artist's son Duncan married James Coker's sister, Jennie. Because of these intermarriages, many of Gay's paintings entered Southern collections. "There's a story to be told here," said museum curator Stephen W. Motte, "This is an exhibition we have been looking forward to for a long time." The museum worked with descendants of the Gay family, as well as several art institutions and representatives from Coker University in order to bring the artworks together. Community Gallery, Ongoing - This exhibit introduces visitors to the history of the museum and its formative collections. This gallery also exhibits the histories and diversity of the City of Florence, and the incorporated municipalities of Florence County. Additionally, the Community Gallery communicates the lives, stories and accomplishments of significant past and present citizens of Florence County and members of its communities. This gallery is one of two permanent exhibit spaces designed by award winning exhibit design firm, HaleySharpe Design. Pee Dee History Gallery, Ongoing - This is the largest gallery space in the facility, comprising 3,300 sq. ft. of exhibit space. This permanent collections gallery occupies the entire second floor, east wing of the building. Artifacts are supported by historical images and narrative interpretation, giving a comprehensive introduction to the Pee Dee region from prehistory to the present. This gallery is one of two permanent exhibit spaces designed by award winning exhibit design firm, HaleySharpe Design. Admission: Free. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun. 2-5pm. Work by Heather Evans Smith

Steven F. Gately Gallery, Francis Marion University, 142 North Dargan Street, Florence. Through Mar. 6 - "Blue," featuring works by photo-based artist Heather Evans-Smith as she confronts midlife and loss. Heather Evans Smith, an acclaimed photo-based artist known for her evocative portrayals of memory, family, and loss, will exhibit a body of work that delves deeply into her own experiences of grief and depression. Through symbolic compositions drenched in blue—the color historically linked to melancholy—Smith navigates the emotional complexities of midlife and profound personal loss. Ongoing - The Steven F. Gately Gallery is a visual arts gallery located on the first floor of Francis Marion University's charmingly renovated University Place building on N. Dargan Street, Florence, SC. The gallery hosts rotating exhibitions from a variety of artists. Named for the late Steven F. Gately, a long time art professor at Francis Marion University. The Gately Gallery is an extension of Francis Marion University. The gallery's mission is to provide the community with a venue to experience a wide range of culturally diverse regional, national, and international visual artwork from emerging and established artists. Contact: call 864/735-3948 or at (www.artcentergreenville.org).

Greenville County Museum of Art, 420 College Street, Greenville. Through Feb. 16 - "Jamie Wyeth: Unsettled." The exhibition traces a persistent vein of intriguing, often disconcerting imagery over the career of renowned artist Jamie Wyeth (b. 1946). This major exhibition—organized by the Brandywine Museum of Art (Chadds Ford, PA) and five years in the making—features more than 50 works drawn from museum and private collections across the country that focus on the artist's arresting, visceral imagery, revealing fascinating insight into Wyeth and the art of visual storytelling. A celebrated figure in contemporary art and fiercely independent in the face of prevailing art world trends, Jamie Wyeth stands apart in a shadowy and strange world of his own creation. While frequently countered and even hidden by the artist's fuller body of work—particularly his well-known coastal views, farmscapes, and portraits—an unsettled mood. Ongoing - "Three Mighty Gamecocks," features works in various media by Corrie McCallum (1914 – 2009), Jasper Johns (born 1930), and Grainger McKoy (born 1947), all of whom graduated from high school in Sumter, SC. McCallum, a Sumter native, graduated in 1932 from Sumter High School, after which she enrolled at the University of South Carolina, and later studied at the Boston Museum School of Art. In addition to sustaining her career as a painter and printmaker, McCallum pioneered art education in the South, teaching at the Gibbes Art Gallery, Telfair Academy in Savannah, Newberry College, and the College of Charleston. In 1960, she became the first professional Curator of Art Education at the Gibbes. Johns graduated as the valedictorian of his 1947 class at Edmunds High School, which was known as Sumter High School until the 1939-1940 school year. After attending the University of South Carolina, he relocated to New York City, where he gained prominence in the mid-1950s for his paintings of American flags, targets, alphabets, and numerals ("things the mind already knows," as Johns famously said). He is considered one of the most influential painters of the Post-World War era and America's preeminent living artist. McKoy graduated in 1965 from Edmunds High and has spent most of his life in Sumter. After studying architecture and biology at Clemson University, he joined his knowledge of the sciences with his uncanny skills as a carver, draftsman, and painter to achieve unique sculptures that fool the eye and defy gravity. His works are found in major public and private collections, most notably at Brookgreen Gardens and the Greenville County Museum of Art. Ongoing - Watermedia in the Age of Wyeth. When he was only 20, Andrew Wyeth (1917 – 2009) enjoyed a sold-out exhibition of his watercolors at New York City's Macbeth Gallery in 1937. The young artist was heralded for revitalizing the medium, and his career was launched. Over the next 72 years, as his methods evolved from broad abstracted washes of color to the intricate hatching of his signature drybrush technique, Wyeth firmly established his mastery of modern watermedia, which may include watercolor, gouache, tempera, acrylic, or ink (and combinations thereof). Selected from the GCMA permanent collection, this exhibition offers the opportunity to witness Andrew Wyeth's artistic evolution over time and invites comparison with other accomplished watermedia luminaries who worked during Wyeth's life.

Ongoing - "Art and Artists of South Carolina: For Real". The GCMA's newest exhibition is drawn from the Museum's permanent collection. Celebrate the Palmetto State with a diverse selection of watercolors by Mary Whyte and Stephen Scott Young, sculptures carved by Grainger McKoy, and varied South Carolina landscapes. Ongoing - "Collection Highlights: African-American Art," features 17 works by as many artists. At the forefront of the exhibition is a realistic sculpture by John Wilson, whose monumental bronze head of Martin Luther King, Jr. captures the dignity and strength of the civil rights leader. Post-World War II non-objective painting is reflected in works by Beauford Delaney, Hale Woodruff, and Frank Wimberly. A lighter, but no less powerful, touch is embodied in a brilliant Color Field painting by Thomas Sills. The exhibition also includes evocative examples by Romare Bearden, Frederick Brown, Jacob Lawrence, Betye Saar, Meriton Simpson, and Bob Thompson. Ongoing - "Andrew Wyeth: Running with the Land". This stunning retrospective showcases 59 works on paper, capturing Wyeth's preference for painting intimate subjects that were tied to the homes established by his father in both Chadds Ford, Pennsylvania, and Cushing, Maine. Wyeth drew inspiration from the distinctive characteristics and denizens of these locations, revealing universal traits in his depictions of landscapes, objects, and people. Ongoing - "All in the Family (Connections)," which assembles work by three generations of Wyeths--the first family of American painting--taking advantage of several rarely exhibited loans from a private collection and complementing the exhibition "Andrew Wyeth: Running with the Land". Admission: Free. Hours: Wed.-Sat., 10am-6pm and Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 864/271-7570 or at (www.gcma.org).

Lipscomb Gallery, at South Carolina Governor's School for the Arts and Humanities, 15 University St., Greenville. Ongoing - We feature several exhibitions throughout each year - our own students and faculty, plus many guest artists. Through this special comparative display, the unique presentation serves as an engaging tool for all viewers interested in understanding the many facets of art, culture, and thought. Ongoing - Permanent exhibition of the finest collection of religious art in America, including works by Rubens, Botticelli, and Van Dyck. Offering visitors a 60-minute audio-guided tour of over 40 favored works for a modest fee. Hours: Tue.-Sun., 2-5pm. Contact: 864/242-5100, Ext. 1050 or at (www.bjmg.org).

Work by Derek Reese - Furman University

Thompson Gallery, Thomas Anderson Roe Art Building, Furman University, Greenville. Through Feb 7 - "After You," featuring works by William Paul Thomas. Filled with enigmatic family portraits and other personal mementos, "After You" is a living archive created by Thomas for his young daughter to one day explore the visible and unseen aspects of her genetic inheritance. The show is curated in partnership with the students of Furman's ART 340, who have created a participatory and multi-media experience that prompts questions into the broader ways we come to know family history, seek our heritage and establish human connection. Feb. 17 - Mar. 28 - "True Inspiration," featuring works by Artist in Residence Derek Reese. Reese has been selected for the artist teaching fellowship at Furman University for spring semester 2025. He will collaborate with Furman's Shi Institute for Sustainable Communities, LiveWell Greenville and underserved Greenville County residents to create a new body of interdisciplinary artwork that aims to amplify the efforts of organizations addressing food insecurity in rural South Carolina. The exhibition features mixed media and found object sculpture, photography, video installations and performance art. Hours: M-F, 9am-5pm. Contact: Stephen Mandravelis by e-mail at (stephen.mandravelis@furman.edu), or call 864/294-2282.

New Location

Tiger Strikes Asteroid Greenville, 201 Smythe Street, Greenville. Feb. 15 - Mar. 22 - "Beyond the Surface," featuring a juried group exhibition. Water is a shared resource that is necessary for all life. TSA Greenville and Water Chats Partners; SC Sea Grant Consortium, Clemson Extension, SC Water Resources Center, are collaborating to host "Beyond the Surface". This exhibition invites artists to raise awareness, inspire collaborative innovation, and foster dialogue around challenges related to water resources in South Carolina or shared with the Southeastern region. Hours: Fri., 4-8pm; Sat., noon-6pm or by appt. Contact: e-mail to (greenville@tigerstrikesasteroid.com).

Visual Arts Institute, on the Greer Campus of Greenville Technical College about 4 miles north of Greer on Highway 290, Locust Hill Road, Taylors. Benson Campus Galleries, Through Feb. 7 - "Landscape Now," featuring works by Todd Anderson, Brittany Gilbert, Julie Mixon, Amanda Musick, Patrick Owens, and Anderson Wrangle. Throughout history we have been awed by the power and permanence of the landscape, its bucolic balm, and its bounty of resources. Artists have recorded this beauty and bounty across time. Our industrialization has slowly challenged landscapes' permanence and bounty through misuse and misunderstanding. Now even mountains, rivers, seas are no longer permanent. The bucolic woodlands are subdivisions or landfills. Our once bountiful earth and its climate is becoming inhospitable and fragile. The artists in Landscapes Now are addressing our landscapes and in turn climate's hostility toward supporting our industrialized life and culture. Each artist has an individual focus, but the sum of their singular visions is a view of desolation and fragility. Hours: Mon.-Thur., 9am-7pm & Fri., 9am-2pm. ## Myrtle Beach / Grand Strand

Franklin G. Burroughs • Simeon B. Chapin Art Museum, 3100 South Ocean Blvd., beside Springmaid Beach, Myrtle Beach. Through Feb. 23 - "Paul Yanko: Primary Structures". Combining architectural and organic shapes, then layering them with varying densities of vividly colored paint, abstract artist Paul Yanko creates intricately detailed compositions that draw the viewer in like a maze and invite a closer inspection. Yanko's work has focused on developing a response to abstraction that addresses nuances of color and surface along with the representation of flat and illusionistic space. He has described his work as "an ongoing exploration in the development of disparate and complex surface qualities reconciled through various means of paint application." Through May 18 - "Mary Edna Fraser I Awakening". Artists find inspiration in many places. For artist and environmental activist Mary Edna Fraser, it's the bird's-eye views of North and South Carolina coastlines and waterways seen from her grandfather's vintage 1946 Ercoupe plane. This is an exhibition of her awe-inspiring images of these views in batiks and oils. Fraser's half a century of producing batiks on silk (an ancient process using wax and dye on cloth), oil paintings, short documentaries, exhibitions and events have had a single aim: to overcome apathy and educate her viewers about our fragile environment. With her stunning batiks installed to look like draped silk sculptures, as well as both large and intimate-sized oils, the artist seeks to inspire an awe of and a protective affection toward the planet. Ongoing - Myrtle Beach's Franklin G. Burroughs-Simeon B. Chapin Art Museum strives to be one of the finest visual arts museums in the Carolinas. With 11 galleries that change throughout the year, Myrtle Beach's only art museum offers exhibitions featuring paintings, textiles, sculpture, photography, video, ceramics, assemblage, collage and more. ## North Charleston

Park Circle Community Building, 4800 Park Circle, North Charleston. Feb. 1 - 28 - "Beyond Time," curated by Austin G. Reynolds & Kela, featuring creations that consider moving into an intentional future. A closing reception will be held on Feb. 28, from 5-8pm. An African American group exhibition featuring works by artists based in South Carolina. On Feb. 25, at 6:30pm - Lecture: "Threads of the Divine with Ty Davis of Tiguer Contemporary". Experience a world where art and spirituality weave together across cultures and centuries. Threads of the Divine invites you to explore how humanity has used creativity to connect with the sacred - from the vibrant symbols of African and Asian traditions to the intricate designs of Hispanic and European cultures. This immersive presentation is more than a lecture, it's an experience. Participants will discover the stories behind these artistic traditions while viewing a curated selection of Ty Davis' abstract works, created with vivid dyes and inks that echo the themes of spiritual expression. The presentation will also feature artwork and insight from artists Kolpeace and Christine Johnson. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 9am-5pm. Contact: 843/740-5854, or at (<https://www.northcharleston.org/residents/arts-and-culture/>).

Park Circle Gallery, formerly the Olde Village Community Building, 4820 Jenkins Avenue, in the bustling Park Circle neighborhood of North Charleston. Through Feb. 1 - "In Spaces: In Spaces," North Charleston based PhD student and artist Ella Kokinda presents an intimate view of three important spaces in her life, showcased through tufted rugs. Rather than constraining creativity to a single theme, this exhibition celebrates the rich diversity of inspiration found in her sewing and crafting room, her kitchen, and garden. Through this trilogy of mini exhibitions, Ella explores how artistic practice is not limited to one style, theme, or idea and embraces how every aspect of our lives can be inspiring to make and create. Through Feb. 1 - Elizabeth Kalman's "Liminal Places: Stories in Glass," is a compilation of mosaic works that are the essence of her life on the edge of Noisette Creek. Kalman has found tremendous creative energy in places that are thresholds, both as essayist and visual artist, and "Liminal Places" is an exploration of the tension she finds in a neighborhood on the edge of revitalization, in the flowers of the pandemic, on the shore, and beyond to the sea. Ongoing - In addition to the monthly exhibitions, the "gift shop" at the North Charleston City Gallery, which features a variety of items by local artists, will also be moved to PCG. Cultural Arts will also continue to host art workshops and recurring meetings for art groups and guilds in the space once gatherings are safe to resume. Admission: Free. Hours: Wed.-Fri., 11am-6pm & Sat., noon-4pm. Contact: 843/740-5854, or at (<https://www.northcharleston.org/residents/arts-and-culture/>).

ALTERNATE ART SPACES - North Charleston North Charleston Riverfront Park, 1001 Everglades Dr., The Navy Yard at Noisette (former Charleston Naval Base), North Charleston. Through Mar. 16 - "18th Annual National Outdoor Sculpture 2024/2025 Exhibition, juried by Lauren Nye, Associate Curator at the Hunter Museum of American Art in Chattanooga, TN.

Sculpture artists from across the nation were invited to enter their work. Twelve sculptures by artists from 5 different states were juried into the 2024/25 exhibit. Once installed, awards for Best in Show, Outstanding Merit, and Honorable Mentions will be selected by the juror, Lauren Nye. Participating sculptors include: Ann Melanie of Anderson, SC (HONORABLE MENTION); Adam Walls of Hope Mills, NC; Bob Doster of Lancaster, SC; Beau Lyday of Valdese, NC; Carl Billingsley of Ayden, NC; Corrina Sephora of Atlanta, GA; Doug McAbee of Laurens, SC (HONORABLE MENTION); Hanna Jubran of Grimesland, NC (BEST IN SHOW); Joni Younkings-Herzog of Athens, GA (HONORABLE MENTION); Mark Chatterley of Williamston, MI (OUTSTANDING MERIT); and Matthew Newman of Damascus, VA. Organized by the City of North Charleston Cultural Arts Department and presented as a component of the annual North Charleston Arts Fest, this unique exhibition offers established and emerging artists the opportunity to display their inspiring and extraordinary sculptures throughout the picturesque North Charleston Riverfront Park, set along the banks of the Cooper River. An estimated 50,000 people visit this public park annually to enjoy the amenities located in the heart of the city's arts community. Hours: daylight hours. ## Orangeburg

Cecil Williams Civil Rights Museum, 1865 Lake Drive, Orangeburg. Ongoing - Established in 2019, the exquisite ultra-modern facility displays 1000 images of the Civil Rights Movement, but from the perspective of The Epochal South Carolina Events That Changed America. The massive archives comprise the largest collection of images of this type among all museums in the United States; including the Atlanta based High Museum which archives 300 images. The images were created by the founder, Cecil Williams, who began photography at age 9 and covered almost all historically significant events in South Carolina; from 1950 Briggs v. Elliot in Summerton, thru the 1969 Charleston Hospital Workers' Strike...and Beyond. From 1955 through 1969, Williams was a freelance journalist for "JET" magazine. His images have appeared in thousands of magazines, newspapers, historical publications, and motion picture productions. The museum design itself is part of the founders' DNA because; upon graduating from high school, Williams wanted to attend Clemson University to study architecture but denied because of his race. He then purchased a drafting board and through the years, designed three residences; including one featured in "EBONY", and the museum's design which has evolved into a living history facility. Hours: call ahead for hours. Contact: call 803-531-1662 or at (www.cecilwilliams.com).

Spartanburg

Throughout downtown Spartanburg, 3rd Thursday, from 5-8pm - "Spartanburg ArtWalk," a free self-guided tour through participating galleries across Spartanburg's Cultural District. Contact: visit (www.chapmanculturalcenter.org).

Throughout downtown Spartanburg's Cultural District, Ongoing - The Creative Crosswalk Project is a public art initiative in which local artists and designers design and paint a series of crosswalk murals, transforming the crosswalks into works of art, on Main Street in Spartanburg, SC. The downtown cultural district area is often bustling with events and pedestrians, and the pedestrians rely heavily on a multitude of crosswalks to safely traverse the downtown Spartanburg area. The problem is that crosswalks are incredibly easy to overlook, they are rarely visually appealing, and they can even be quite dangerous. In an effort to remedy these issues, Chapman Cultural Center, the City of Spartanburg, and the Spartanburg Area Chamber of Commerce came together to organize the Creative Crosswalk Project. For more info visit (<https://www.chapmanculturalcenter.org/pages/blog/detail/article/c0/a1555/>).

Work by Heather Clements

Artists Collective I Spartanburg, 578 West Main St., Spartanburg. Galleries II & III, Through Feb. 1 - "In the Wood ... From the Earth," features works by six new ACS members. "The Artists Collective I Spartanburg is a welcoming and collaborative environment that inspires creativity for its members and visitors alike," says Cassandra Stephens-Johnson, who is coordinating the exhibit. "We look forward to visitors seeing the beautiful and varied works by these talented new ACS members." The participating artists will be Darryl Jones, Garry Turpin, Tipton Jones-Boiter, Mariam Tucker-Jones, Karina Manukyan and Christine Blackburn. Feb. 4 - Mar. 29 - "Come Hell AND High Water: Surviving the 2024 Flood with Resilience and Purpose," showcases work of 310 ART artists. Receptions will be held on Feb. 20 and Mar. 20, from 5-8pm, as part of Spartanburg ArtWalk. An artist's life is a creative and rewarding journey that involves hard work, dedication and passion. Sometimes, it also means overcoming unimaginable hardships, such as those experienced in September 2024 by Western North Carolina artists impacted by Hurricane Helene. More than a dozen impacted artists with 310 ART and Friends in Asheville, NC, will have works in this exhibition. "We hope to convey to everyone that artists will persevere through hardship and loss," says Fleta Monaghan, founder of 301 ART and Friends and one of the 14 exhibitors. "The artists of 310 ART and Friends in this exhibit lost a vast amount of work in the flood of 2024 caused by Hurricane Helene. Our studios, art and art materials were lost over night. We have come together in this first group show of 2025 to proclaim our resilience and perseverance as we continue to create, teach and spread the joy of creativity." Solomon Gallery, Through Feb. 22 - "Push & Pull: New Work," featuring works by Robert Urban. Spartanburg artist Robert Urban's latest mixed media works use trees "as a metaphor for family and the relationships we all hold dear within the family circle and beyond." The 30-plus pieces in the show will be offered for purchase with prices ranging from $150 to $5,000. "Nature, and specifically trees, are used as metaphors to represent the passage of time, within nature itself, of course, but also within our human relationships - our family, friends and communities," says Urban, originally from Wisconsin. "The exhibition title refers to the many different forces and ways that we experience either a 'push' or a 'pull' - our interactions within nature, relationships and our communities." Ongoing - The Collective features a twenty thousand square foot facility

His ties to the Spartanburg community originate from his longtime employment at Milliken and Company. Tait was born in Old Town, Maine in 1917 and graduated from the New Hampshire Institute of Arts and Science. In the late 1940s, he moved to New York City where he designed an exclusive line of ladies' handkerchiefs for the department store B. Altman, now considered vintage, collectible items. He also became associated with the American Artist Group designing Christmas cards, an occupation which he kept up throughout the majority of his artistic career. Krisel was a distinguished artist, architect, and teacher as well as a loving father and husband. Though Krisel may not be a household name among Spartanburg residents, he has made a significant artistic contribution to the Spartanburg community. Born in Brooklyn, NY in 1920, Krisel's interest in art and design started at a young age. He attended the American Artist School in New York city as a teenager where he met renowned modern artists, including Piet Mondrian, who greatly influenced his abstract style. After studying architecture at the New Bauhaus in Chicago from 1946-1949, he received his graduate degree from Illinois Institute of Technology in 1952. The following year, he began working for architectural firm Skidmore, Owings and Merrill when Roger Milliken hired them to design Milliken's new research facility in Spartanburg. Upon realizing Krisel was also a sculptor, Milliken hired him to design the spray fountain outside of the facility which functions as a recycler of air conditioning water. He then went on to design the Trident Fountain located outside of the Papadopoulos building on Wofford College's campus. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 10am-7pm & Sat, 9am-3pm. Work by Aimee Fitzgerald

Charleston Crafts Cooperative Gallery, 140 East Bay Street, Charleston. Feb. 7 - 28 - "Sweet Nothings: Romance at the Gallery". A reception will be held on Feb. 7, from 5-8pm. The month of February brings time to appreciate and adore our loved ones. The iconic heart and dominance of red and pink resonates with crafts people this time of year. Whether you are reminding someone how special they are, or lighting a new spark, the gallery artists feed on emotion and make exquisitely crafted works of art that will be cherished for years to come. Inspired by red, Selma Andrews incorporates this bold color into her handmade polymer beads creating unique pieces to wear! Aimee Fitzgerald uses the heart as a symbol of love in her mosaic works. Hand Knit wearables by Nancy Warren, are a sure way to melt hearts. Ongoing - Established in 1989, Charleston Crafts Cooperative Gallery is a dynamic community of nearly 30 jury-selected artisans. All are residents of South Carolina, making this the city's only exclusively local craft gallery. Enjoy a multitude of Hand-made art to enliven your home, enhance your style and inspire one-of-a-kind gift giving. Hours: daily, 10am-6pm. Work by Michelle Radford

Spoonbill Gallery, 1292 Pendleton Street in the Village of West Greenville. Through Feb. 1 - "Nature Deconstructed," featuring works by Becca Splawn and Shelley Cade. A bold new joint exhibition explores the essence of nature through personal & artistic transformation, reimagining and reconnecting with one's experiences. The exhibit features a collection of artworks featuring Becca Splawn and Shelley Cade reinterprets the natural world in abstract and dynamic ways, inviting viewers to consider the fundamental shapes, colors, and forms that compose the landscapes around us. This collaboration between two of Greenville, South Carolina's highly acclaimed artists. Both Splawn and Cade take their exploration of nature to new depths in "Nature Deconstructed." This series is about breaking down what we see in the natural world and reassembling it into something unexpected. Feb. 7 - Mar. 1 - "Life, Labor, Laundry, Lace: Collaborating with Women of the Past," features a solo exhibition by local artist Michelle Radford. A reception will be held on Feb. 7, from 6-9pm. The exhibition explores the intersection of landscape painting and domestic textiles, highlighting the overlooked artistry of women's domestic work throughout history. For centuries, women have expressed their creativity and skill through textiles, often in private spaces, their labor undervalued as an art form. Radford honors these anonymous makers by weaving their handmade lace doilies and vintage textiles into her landscape paintings, giving their work a new stage. "I begin these pieces by sourcing vintage textiles," Radford shares. "Often, they are entrusted to me by women who have received them as heirlooms. These doily donors know each piece represents countless hours of careful work by an ancestor, and they want the objects to be enjoyed and appreciated." Ongoing - The gallery's collection features a variety of national artists complemented by a showcase of rising talents. Spoonbill Gallery is dedicated to fostering a deeper appreciation for art and culture, serving as a hub for artistic expression and creativity in the southeast. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 10am-5pm & Sat., 10am-4pm. Contact: 864/735-7879 or visit (www.spoonbillgallery.com).

Asheville Area

Jaime Byrd, "The Soaked Earth", 2024, oil on wood, 18x24x2 inches. Courtesy of the artist.

Asheville Art Museum, 2 South Pack Square at Pack Place, Asheville. Explore Asheville Exhibition Hall, Through Feb. 20 - "American Made: Paintings and Sculpture from the DeMell Jacobsen Collection". The exhibition features over 80 paintings and sculptures. Though many objects in the exhibition have been on view at other museums, ranging from the Metropolitan Museum of Art to the Smithsonian American Art Museum, this exhibition showcases the best of the DeMell Jacobsen Collection brought together in one location. "American Made" provides an in-depth look at the evolution of American creativity from the Colonial era to the early 20th century. The highlights include portraits by masters like Benjamin West, Thomas Sully, and Sarah Miriam Peale. There are sweeping landscapes by Thomas Cole, Asher B. Durand, and Jasper Francis Cropsey, and still lifes by Severin Rosen, Charles Ethan Porter, and Adelaide Coburn Palmer. The exhibition also features captivating genre scenes and the work of American artists who traveled to Europe, such as Mary Cassatt, John Singer Sargent, and Childe Hassam.

Appleby Foundation Exhibition Hall, Feb. 13 - May 5 - "Asheville Strong: Celebrating Art and Community After Hurricane Helene," will showcase work from artists who live and work in the Helene-affected Appalachia region. Asheville Strong features a variety of mediums, including painting, drawing, printmaking, sculpture, ceramics, and photography. Each work is accompanied by the artist's information, allowing viewers to connect and learn more about the creators. A reception and member preview will be held on Feb. 13, from 3:30-6pm. A special afternoon honoring artists and their families. A special afternoon honoring artists and their families will be held on Feb. 14, opening day (Included with Museum admission). On Mar. 15, from noon to 5pm: Community Day—Free community event celebrating the artists and the exhibition, featuring related tours, activities and entertainment for all ages. The Van Winkle Law Firm Gallery, Through May 31 - "Anti Form: Robert Morris's Earth Projects". The Asheville Art Museum presents Anti Form: Robert Morris's Earth Projects. The suite of lithographic drawings by Robert Morris presents a series of ideas for ten works of art shaped out of earth, atmospheric conditions, and built environments. Created in 1969, the series marks an important moment when artists began to reimagine what art could be. Morris was a pioneer in conceptual art working at the forefront of Minimalism, Process art, and Land art. He theorized and championed the work of art as an idea rather than a physical form, influencing generations of artists to come. This exhibition is organized by the Asheville Art Museum and Jessica Orzulak, Associate Curator and Curatorial Affairs Manager. Debra McClinton Gallery, Through Mar. 31 - "Forces of Nature: Ceramics from the Hayes Collection". Ceramic artists throughout history have become masters of all four elements - creating clay from a mixture of earth and water to shape their work, drying it in air, and hardening it in fire. Throughout this process, the artist decides which aspects of the work will be tightly controlled, and when the elements can step in to leave nature's mark. This exhibition traces the historical, stylistic, and conceptual origins of work that either embraces or refuses the element of chance in ceramics, looking at modern and contemporary work made in Western North Carolina. The ceramics in this exhibition are all drawn from the robust collection of Andrew and Hatha Hayes, who have been collecting important regional pottery and sculpture for decades. Through their close relationships with artists, they have brought together works that show not only the different aesthetics seen in the region, but also a picture of the ceramics community. Regional artists including Cynthia Bringle, Donna Craven, Mark Hewitt, Fred Johnston, Ben Owen III, and Norm Schulman will be on view, demonstrating the many different approaches to ceramics in this region. Ongoing - The Asheville Art Museum, the hub for 20th- and 21st-century American art in Western North Carolina, has re-opened to the public. The $24+ million, state-of-the-art facility encompasses 54,000 square feet and adds 70 percent more Collection gallery space. For the first time in the Museum's history, it has the capacity to host major traveling exhibitions from nationally recognized museums. The expansion increases its physical space and dramatically increases its role as a community center, educational resource, economic engine for WNC, and cultural concierge for the region's residents and visitors. Admission: Yes and Pay-What-You-Wish admission for visitors from areas affected by Hurricane Helene. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm; Fri. till 8pm & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 828/253-3227 or at (www.ashevilleart.org).

Asheville Gallery of Art, Ltd., 82 Patton Avenue, across from Pritchard Park opposite the old location, Asheville. Ongoing - Featuring original works of art by 31 local artists in oils, acrylics, watercolor, pastel, encaustic, and prints. Black Mountain College Museum + Arts Center, 120 College Street, Asheville. Through Mar. 15 - "The Farm at Black Mountain College". The story of Black Mountain College (BMC) has grown to mythical proportions since the liberal arts school officially closed its doors in 1957. Countless books, exhibitions, and artworks have been created to capture what it was like to live and learn at this singular college and to chart its unparalleled cultural legacy. But before this exhibition and accompanying book, nobody had written about the farm at BMC in any great detail. Built on more than a decade's worth of deep, original archival research, "The Farm at Black Mountain College" exhibition constitutes a deep new history of BMC. By focusing on the farm, the exhibition sidesteps the popular paradigm of approaching BMC through its famous faculty and students, and instead offers a new cast of characters, one that includes mostly students, women, and farmers. It spotlights the importance of collaboration, both on campus among students, faculty, and faculty families, and in the community with farmers and organizations in nearby cities and towns. Finally, the exhibition shows what happens when communal living is no longer communal, and offers a detailed account of the final dark days of the college, a dramatic and often dangerous story. Ongoing - An exhibition space dedicated to exploring the history and legacy of the world's most acclaimed experimental educational community, Black Mountain College. Hours: Wed.-Sat., noon-4pm or by appt. Contact: 828/350-8484 or at (www.blackmountaincollege.org).

West Asheville Library, 942 Haywood Road, Asheville. Through Feb. 27 - "Hurricane Helene Exhibition," featuring works by Kira Bursky. Bursky says, "After Hurricane Helene came through my town, I drew to process my feelings. The 31 drawings were created once a day during October. These drawings are dedicated to all those affected by Hurricane Helene and those who have gone through other experiences that have shaken up the world they know. I am inspired by art's power to give us space to process, reflect, and heal. Thank you for taking the time to sit with these artworks. I send out my love and gratitude." Ongoing - Part of the Buncombe County Public Libraries, the West Asheville Library originally opened in 1953, but moved to its current site in 1997. Not only does the library features a large selection of adult, teen, and children's literature, it also features a Hispanic outreach center, strong video collection, internet, Wi-Fi, branch newsletter, computer study areas, and many programs for adults and children. ## Blowing Rock

Blowing Rock Art and History Museum, corner of Chestnut and Main streets, downtown Blowing Rock. Rankin West and East Galleries, Through June 8 - "Storyboard to Storybook: The Beulah Campbell Collection at Appalachian State University," featuring an exhibition celebrating the creativity behind mid-20th-century children's literature. Featuring more than 30 original illustrations, collages and preparatory drawings, "Storyboard to Storybook" offers a behind-the-scenes look at how artists crafted iconic children's stories. Spanning the 1950s to the 1980s, the collection explores themes of identity, heritage and imagination, reflecting the shifting cultural landscape of the time. Cannon Gallery, Through Feb. 22 - "Anna Buckner: And other Myths". Buckner is a painter in the most expanded sense of the word, creating compositions at the intersection of design, textile, and painting. "And other Myths" features a body of work that leverages the storytelling potential of quilting within the context of painterly composition and design precision. She is interested in exploring the limits of existing structures within painting, language, textile patterning, new media, and emerging modes of teaching and learning. Fort Gallery, Through May 4 - "SHIP/SHAPE: Page Laughlin and David Finn". The exhibition features more than 20 paintings and sculptures that explore and delight in the various manifestations of ships as image, symbol and metaphor. The exhibition showcases two distinct, but inter-related, bodies of work presented side by side. Although at first glance the two artists' work might appear radically different—in medium, use of color, physicality—on closer examination strong parallels emerge. Both artists' works subvert expectations with layers of complexity and meaning. This marks the first time in over 30 years that the two artists, who are a couple, have developed an exhibition together. For Laughlin and Finn, one could understand both these bodies of work as portraiture of a sort: studies of seemingly familiar subjects. Atwell Gallery, Feb. 15 - Aug.

10 - "Considerations: An Installation by Sarah Vaughn". Vaughn's "Considerations" invites visitors to step into a landscape of thousands of carefully crafted glass river rocks. Made using techniques like blowing, flame-working, casting, and laminating, these fragile stones are stacked and arranged to create an immersive installation that explores how we experience and remember the world around us. Each glass rock represents a moment in time—some tied to personal memories, others shaped from reclaimed glass, blending stories of loss and creation. Ongoing - "Reimagined Ginny Stevens Gallery: Blowing Rock, A History Exhibition," features a diorama of the iconic Mayview Manor Hotel. This immersive exhibition celebrates the town of Blowing Rock's rich history and features an extraordinary new highlight: a 1-to-87 scale diorama of the Mayview Manor Hotel, crafted by renowned Charlotte-based realist painter and diorama artist Dan Nance. The reimagined exhibition is a collaboration between Ashlee Lanier, a freelance curator with a master's degree in public history from Appalachian State University and a bachelor's degree in osteoarchaeology from North Carolina State University, and Ian Gabriel Wilson curator of exhibitions and collections at BRAMH. Samantha Burnette, graduate student in the public history program at Appalachian State University, supported the project through extensive review of available historical materials and photographs in partnership with the Blowing Rock Historical Society and BRAMH. Ongoing - the BRAHM will host exhibits, educational programs and classes that promote the visual arts, history and heritage of the mountains of western North Carolina. Admission: Yes. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun., noon-4pm. Contact: 828/295-9099 or at (www.blowingrockmuseum.org).

Appalachian Cultural Museum, University Hall Drive, off Hwy. 321 (Blowing Rock Road), Boone. Ongoing - The permanent exhibit area includes, TIME AND CHANGE, featuring thousands of objects ranging from fossils to Winston Cup race cars to the Yellow Brick Road, a section of the now closed theme park, "The Land of Oz". Admission: Yes. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 828/262-3117.

Hands Gallery, 543 West King Street, Boone. Ongoing - What began as the dream of a small group of craftspeople in 1975 continues today in a very personal and continually-changing environment. The history of Hands Gallery Co-op is as varied and intriguing as the artists who have come and gone over the years. Dozens of artisans have explored the business opportunities Hands has given their work, while donating time and ideas to the growth and success of the gallery. Today, the co-op serves as a role model for arts and crafts co-ops throughout the Southeastern US. Hours: daily, 10am-6pm, except Thanksgiving & Christmas. Contact: 828-262-1970 of at (<http://www.handsgallery.org/>).

King Street Art Collective, Watauga Arts Council, 585 West King Street, (above Doe Ridge Pottery) Boone. Ongoing - A gallery and interactive art space with changing exhibits and activities celebrating the arts. Hours: Thur., 11am-5pm; Fri.-Sat., 10am-6pm; and Sun., 10am-2pm. Contact: 828-264-1789 or at (https://www.watauga-arts.org/kingstreetart.html#).

Turchin Center for the Visual Arts, Appalachian State University, 423 West King Street, Boone. Hodges and Community Gallery, Through May 24 - "OAK SPRING: Seeding Artists". The Turchin Center is pleased to host an exhibition of works showcasing the work of many of the resident artists supported by the Oak Spring Garden Foundation. Since 2018, the Foundation has hosted over 120 residents. Their programs include the Interdisciplinary Residency, Botanical Artist Residency, Plant Conservation Science Fellowship, Plant Science Research Fellowship, Stacy Lloyd Fellowship for Bibliographic Studies, and the Eliza Moore Fellowship for Artistic Excellence. As Sir Peter Crane, president of the OSGF has written, the mandate of the Foundation is "to use this remarkable legacy to serve the public interest—by facilitating scholarship, inspiring public dialogue, and encouraging meaningful engagement with the history and future of plants – including especially their contributions to human well-being and significance in the culture of gardens and landscapes." Mayer Gallery, Through May 3 - "The Clothes I Wear," featuring works by Dr. Portia Marie York and Dori Settles. "Bras of Beauty by Dr. Portia Maria York," explores the profound beauty and spiritual resilience found within the real and metaphorical scars of breast cancer warriors. Through intricately crafted crocheted bras, this collection seeks to impart a sense of lightness and to lift the veil of shame associated with the loss of breasts, hair, nails, and changes in skin tone – challenges often mistakenly viewed as a loss of femininity. "Shoes: Storytellers of our Lives," by Dori Settles is an exhibit of glass shoes accompanied with stories written by the shoe owners. These stories, translated into glass, represent our common humanity. Like people, glass is both forgiving and easily shattered. Gallery A, Through Apr. 5 - "Prints from the Permanent Collection: Celebrating the Generosity of Donors". Like so many small and medium-sized university art centers, the Turchin Center for the Visual Arts relies on the generosity of donors to support the permanent collection which is enjoyed both on and off-campus by students, alumni, staff, and faculty as well as visitors to the center's galleries. "Prints from the Permanent Collection: Celebrating the Generosity of Donors" showcases both a recent donation by Julia Rothschild Gidney in honor of her parents, Dr. Judith Rice Rothschild and Dr. Gerard Harry Rothschild, as well as the ongoing generosity of long-time donors Peter and Joni Webb Petschauer. Petti/Peiser Gallery, Through Apr. 5 - "Master Printer: Bill Lagattuta and Friends". In 2024, Master Printer, Bill Lagattuta generously made a significant donation of his professional artwork to Appalachian State University, his undergraduate alma mater. Thirty of Lagattuta's fine art prints, created in collaboration with such well-known artists as Suzi Davidoff, Lesley Dill, Jim Dine, Tony Fitzpatrick, Tom Joyce, Louise Nevelson, Lilianna Porter, Johnnie Winona Ross, May Stevens, and Hollis Sigler, among others, are now part of the permanent collection at the Turchin Center for the Visual Arts. A master printer works diligently behind-the-scenes to assist artists in realizing their vision for fine art prints. Hours: Mon.-Thur., 10am-6pm; Fri., noon-8pm; & Sat., 10am-6pm. Contact: 828/262-3017 or at (www.turchincenter.org).

ALTERNATE ART SPACES - Boone Throughout Appalachian State University campus, Boone. Through May 14, 2025 - "38th Rosen Sculpture Competition and Exhibition". This is a national juried competition presented annually by An Appalachian Summer Festival and the Turchin Center for the Visual Arts. Since its establishment by Martin and Doris Rosen in 1987, the Rosen Competition continues a tradition of showcasing contemporary American sculpture in outdoor settings across the beautiful campus of Appalachian State University. The competition, in its 38th year, has become firmly established as a cultural treasure and a significant point of pride for Appalachian State University and our entire region. The competition has garnered national praise for the free access to the "best of the best" in contemporary sculpture it offers for countless residents and visitors across North Carolina and beyond. The Rosen Family proudly continues the legacy of Martin and Doris by generously supporting this important program dedicated to sharing the power and joy of public art, creating a fascinating glimpse into the world of contemporary sculpture, and building new audiences for the visual arts. This program is made possible by the generous support of the Martin & Doris Rosen Giving Fund/Debbie Rosen Davidson and David Rosen and the Charles & Nancy Rosenblatt Foundation. Hours: daylight hours. Contact: For more information, please visit (tcva.org). Free guided tours for classes and groups are available upon request. Work by Joely Rogers

Bond Park Community Center, 150 Metro Park Drive, Cary. Through Apr. 27 - "Joely Rogers: Night Creatures". A reception will be held on Feb. 28, from 6-8pm. This collection of 10 images is part of a larger series called "Night Creatures" based on nighttime images captured by game cameras around our home on Rainbow Mountain in Montreat, North Carolina. All images were created using a combination of hand-drawn sketches and Adobe Illustrator/Photoshop. They are printed on Epson Hot Press Natural paper using archival ink and framed with archival framing components. My goals with this series are to raise awareness about the animals living in North Carolina, educate the public about the important roles these creatures play in its cove forest ecosystem, and inspire a sense of wonder at the beauty and diversity of our Appalachian wildlife. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 9am-10pm and Sat., 9am-6pm. Contact: 919/462-3970 or at (www.townofcary.org).

Work by Lisa Carl - Cary Arts Center Gallery

Work by Lisa Carl - Cary Arts Center PH

Cary Arts Center, 101 Dry Avenue, Cary. Cary Arts Center Gallery, Through Mar. 21 - "Jo-Ann Morgan". The wall-mounted hangings are constructed in layered cotton fabric. Because they resemble quilted comforters, which are familiar and approachable, the medium is ideal for addressing provocative topics related to social justice and inequality. Despite the unsettling themes, these stitched fabric pictures offer a soothing counterpoint to the harsh events of contemporary reality. If there is a message running throughout this work is "seeking comfort in a fraught world." Art can be a way to process events and experiences that are almost too much to bear. Cary Arts Center Principal's Hall, Through Mar. 23 - "Lisa Carl". Carl says, "My paintings celebrate color, organic movement, inorganic stasis, and objects left behind. Encaustic paint is the perfect medium for these celebrations: its lush, translucent colors, the organic liquid and accretion patterns it creates, and the endless possibilities it offers for layering, incision, and incorporating objects. These works explore color and movement in numerous ways. Many are re-visions of photographs I've taken. Abstracted from their familiar figurative contexts, these pieces highlight the many ways in which human-made structures interact with and inform the organic landscape. Similarly, other works isolate found objects (rusted metal, wood, shells, stones), inviting the viewer to contemplate the singularity of the humble and mundane. Cary Arts Center Display Cases, Through Mar. 23 - "Annabelle Stein". Stein says, "Color, texture and pattern have been key components of my artist toolbox, and these elements have always informed my work, whether fabric printing and design, and now cement sculpture. These latest pieces are playful experiments with forms inspired by natural objects, botanicals, light, formations." Hours: Mon.-Thur., 9am-10pm & Fri.-Sat., 9am-11pm. Contact: 919/469-4069 or at (www.townofcary.org).

Cary Gallery of Artists, 200 S Academy St, Ste 120, Ashworth Square, Cary. Ongoing - The gallery offers high quality art in a variety of styles. Paintings, pencil and colored pencil artwork varies from traditional still lifes and landscapes to abstracts. Portraits of people or animals are available. Photographic work captures magnificent landscapes, small moments in life, portraits, and far away places. The pottery and clay art includes edgy handbuilt pieces, thought-provoking sculpted masks, and decorative and functional pottery that captures images of nature. Our jewelry artists provide a wide range of hand-crafted necklaces, earrings, bracelets and other ornaments from metals, stones, beads and fused glass. Our glass artist creates stained glass hangings, custom stained glass windows and fused glass art. You can also find unusual hand-made books and hand-painted porcelain both antique and new. Hours: Wed.&Thur., 11am-3pm and Fri.&Sat., 11am-5:30pm. Contact: 919/462-2035 or at (www.carygalleryofartists.org).

Herbert Young Community Center, 101 Wilkinson Avenue, Cary. Through Feb. 9 - "Bonnie Brooks". Brooks is a visual & NFT artist doing detailed paintings to full abstraction. She has a Master of Fine Arts and has been an artist for over 40 years. She is a traditional artist, painting mostly in oil on canvas. She does detailed, realistic landscapes which take her 3 to 18 months to complete, painting an inch an hour. She also does acrylic abstracts that are more relaxed and freer. Her abstracts are her stress relief paintings using oil and water with acrylics with up to a gallon of paint using palette knives. Her abstract art moves and flows with unique qualities. The best art doesn't tell your mind what to think but frees your mind in new ways. Feb. 12 - Apr. 6 - "Seed of Hope". A reception will be held on Feb. 28, from 6-8pm. This group show is a diverse collection of visual art inspired by everlasting hope found in the Word of God. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 9am-10pm; and Sat., 9am-6pm. Contact: 919/4604965 or (www.townofcary.org).

Page-Walker Arts & History Center, 119 Ambassador Loop, Cary. Through Mar. 1 - "Eric McRay: Cultural Ambrosia". McRay, a Raleigh based artist, was born and raised in Washington, DC. McRay uses collage to explore visual storytelling while addressing the human figure as an entity of change in theatrical narratives. These chronicles are inspired by African American, Biblical, and art history, as well as pop culture. Yet, at the core are McRay's familial relationships. This continuum searches for personal and universal experiences. Hours: Mon.-Thur., 10am-9:30pm; Fri., 10am-5pm; & Sat., 10am-1pm. (It is strongly advised that you call ahead about hours this space will be open.) Contact: 919/460-4963.

Town Hall Gallery, City of Cary Town Hall, 316 North Academy Street, Cary. Through Feb. 7 - "Haruka Masuda". "The way I express my Art is called "KATAZOME", which is originally derived from the traditional technique of dyeing Japanese kimono. Using special carved paper called "KATAGAMI", I can express the intricate lines and patterns finely and repeatedly. Furthermore, KATAZOME allows me to dye fabric as if many layers were weaved on a single piece of cloth. Consequently, the figurative description and abstract expression are orchestrated on the screen," says Masuda. Feb. 12 - Apr. 4 - "Alexander Percy". Percy says, "We live in times of ambivalence daily, I take refuge in painting as a means of existential survival and a method of understanding. The oil paint and the palette knife become allies of my infinite artistic search and expression of ideas. Living the pandemic through painting has given me the opportunity to reconnect with feelings, emotions and uncertainties that we treasure for one reason or another. The time captured in each of the pieces reveals stages of uncertainty intrinsic to a state of mind hidden between colors. I am worthy and deserving of my sorrows, my joys, anger, sadness, unforgettable moments, every silent feeling and every lived experience that in turn allow me to explore the possibilities of color and its meaning, of the medium and its language, of expression and its domain". Hours: Mon.-Fri., 8am-5pm. Contact: 919/469-4061.

Chapel Hill - Carrboro

Ackland Art Museum, UNC - Chapel Hill, Columbia & Franklin Streets, Chapel Hill. Through May 11 - "Triple Take: Dialogues with the Terra Collection-in-Residence". The Ackland is fortunate to have American paintings on long-term loan from the Terra Foundation for American Art. These paintings are the centerpieces of the three sections of "Triple Take: Dialogues with the Terra Collection-in-Residence". Each section of about twenty objects has different curators, who have gathered works from the Ackland that connect in often unexpected ways with the Terra Foundation loans. This three-part exhibition begins with Lyonel Feininger's Denstedt (1917), a powerful and expressionistic view of a German village. This painting serves as the starting point for an exploration of the artist's achievements across his career, curated by Peter Nisbet. Dana Cowen explores themes of looking, the mirror, and privacy through Archibald Motley's Between Acts (1935). Ammi Phillips's Girl in a Red Dress (c. 1835) and Robert Henri's Sylvester (1914) anchor a selection of representations of children chosen by Lauren Turner and Carolyn Allmendinger. This final part of the exhibition explores how knowing or not knowing the names and biographical details of the people depicted can affect our experience of the artworks. Through July 13 - "Processing Systems: Bonding by Sherrill Roland". In the exhibition, monumental square grids of multi-colored numbers dominate the exhibition space like giant sudoku puzzles. To create them, artist Sherrill Roland reclaims United States Federal and State Correctional Identification Numbers and repurposes them through what he considers to be a systematized portraiture making technique. The grids on view act as logic exercises that scramble and rework the former correctional IDs of the artist and his father. The resulting wall drawings create theoretical portraits of the two subjects. The shared system employed to create the two works emphasizes the various bonds shared by these family members at the same time that the formal qualities of the drawings evoke lone figures bound by cells. Permanent Collection Galleries, Through Dec. 31, 2025 - At any one time, there are about 250 works of art from the Ackland's distinguished permanent collection on view. The displays cover many eras and cultures, including most of the Museum's collection areas: the Ancient Mediterranean, Africa, Asia, the Americas, and Europe. Occasional galleries present small selections of prints, drawings, photographs, and other light-sensitive works. You can search our online collection database and filter by works on view. Try saving your own collection of objects using the new "favorites" function! Museum Store Gallery (Franklin and Columbia Street), Store hours: Mon.-Sat., 10am-5:30pm & Sun., noon-5pm. Museum Hours: Wed.-Sat., 1-5pm. Contact: 919/966-5736 or at (www.ackland.org).

Charlotte Area

South End Art Gallery Crawl - From 5-8pm on the 1st Friday of each month.

View outside the Bechtler Museum of Modern Art

Bechtler Museum of Modern Art, Levine Center for the Arts, 420 South Tryon St., Charlotte. Through Mar. 3 - "Chance Encounters: Surrealism Then and Now." Surrealism was an artistic and literary movement formed in Paris in 1924 that emphasized the fantastical, dream imagery, and subconscious thought. Privileging experimentation and uninhibited modes of expression, Surrealism produced radical new techniques and visual forms that continue to inspire artists today. Celebrating the 100th anniversary of the publication of the Surrealist Manifesto, the Bechtler's new exhibition, Chance Encounters: Surrealism Then and Now, pairs examples of historical Surrealism from the museum's collection with works by contemporary artists whose practices extend the legacies of Surrealist exploration. Paying tribute to the inclusive and international scope of the movement, the exhibition includes Max Ernst, Meret Oppenheim, Rufino Tamayo, alongside Heri Dono and Naudline Pierre, and includes loans from local private and public collections. Ongoing - The Bechtler Museum of Modern Art is named after the family of Andreas Bechtler, a Charlotte resident and native of Switzerland who assembled and inherited a collection of more than 1,400 artworks created by major figures of 20th-century modernism and donated it to the public trust. The Bechtler collection comprises artworks by seminal figures such as Alberto Giacometti, Joan Miro, Jean Tinguely, Max Ernst, Andy Warhol, Alexander Calder, Le Corbusier, Sol LeWitt, Edgar Degas, Nicolas de Stael, Barbara Hepworth and Picasso. Only a handful of the artworks in the Bechtler collection have been on public view in the United States. Admission: Yes. Hours: Mon., Wed.-Sat., 10am-5pm; Sun. noon-5pm; and open until 9pm the 1st. and 3rd. Fri. of each month. Contact: 704/353-9200 or at (www.bechtler.org).

Davidson College, Belk Visual Arts Center, 315 North Main and Griffith Streets, Davidson. Van Every & Smith Galleries, Through Feb. 2 - "Catherine Opie: In Dialogue". Catherine Opie is one of the most important American photographers of our time. For more than three decades she has used her artistic practice to help us see people, places, and subcultures that are often overlooked. Opie has created seminal portraits of the LGBTQIA community, as well as images of high school football players, California surfers, protesters, and tender portraits of herself, friends, and family. She has also drawn our attention to both the natural and built environments, capturing domestic interiors, mini-malls, monuments, freeways, national parks, memorials, and swamps. In her role as a witness, Opie has equally presented back to us both the good and the bad, the losses and the gains, the constructive and the destructive. Feb. 13 - Apr. 9 - "Warp Weft Water Weeds," featuring works by Elizabeth Bradford. An opening reception will be held on Feb. 13, from 5:30-7:30, kindly RSVP at (<https://community.davidson.edu/elizabeth-bradford-reception>) by Feb. 7. The exhibition highlights the talent of an artist who has spent fifty years diligently working within our own community, capturing the evolving landscapes she holds dear. She draws inspiration from a profound connection to nature through direct observations while hiking or kayaking primarily in the Southeastern United States where she resides. While her works are predominantly representational, they also maintain a relationship with abstraction. The exhibition's accompanying catalogue includes essays by Dr. Emily Stamey, Curator of Academic Programming & Head of Exhibitions at Weatherspoon Art Museum; Dr. Leo Mazow, Louise B. and J. Harwood Cochrane Curator of American Art, Virginia Museum of Fine Arts; and an interview between Bradford and Tyler Green, award-winning historian and critic who has produced and hosted "The Modern Art Notes Podcast" since 2011. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 10am-5pm and Sat. & Sun., noon-4pm. Contact: 704/894-2519 or at (www.davidsoncollegeartgalleries.org).

Work by Yo Yo Lander

Harvey B. Gantt Center for African-American Arts & Culture, Levine Center for the Arts, 551 S. Tryon St., Charlotte. Through Aug. 17 - "Cherry, Khalif Tahir Thompson," is the first institutional solo exhibition in the United States, features eight large-scale paintings that explore themes related to identity, memory, and emotion. Imbued with a sense of nostalgia yet charged with a contemporary energy that bridges the tangible and the imagined, Thompson creates layered compositions that invite viewers into intimate spaces, drawing from the artist's personal experiences, family archives, and broader cultural narratives. "Cherry" invites viewers to explore how identity is remembered, shared, and reimagined, celebrating the complex layers of human experience. Through May 11 - "YoYo Lander: Between the Quiet, Selected Works from 2019-2024". Known for her portraits of solitary African diasporic subjects, contemporary artist YoYo Lander captures visual form via a psychological and empathetic drive to understand her subjects, not only through the features of their physical bodies but also through moments in which introspection prompts them to most fully reveal themselves. As a self-taught painter and collagist, Lander highlights the multifacetedness of Black identity while also exploring the expressive aspects of the human figure through which gesture, line, posture, and color convey meaning. Through Apr. 13 - "American Gurl," co-curated by Zehra Zehra and Kilo Kish. The exhibition is an ongoing curatorial project featuring work that explores all shades of American dreaming. This project's installment takes shape as a film exhibition that presents eight films by intergenerational artists with curiosity around the perspectives and nuances within the Black feminine experience and our relationships with beauty, success, freedom, and power in America. "American Gurl" is presented in collaboration with Womxn in Windows, a platform whose mission is to share the perspectives of women of color through video, art, film, and performance. Ongoing - Featuring selections from the John & Vivian Hewitt Collection of African-American Art, one of the nation's most important and comprehensive collections of African-American art. Hours: Thur. - Sat., noon-6pm & Sun., noon-6pm. Contact: 704/547-3700 or at (www.ganttcenter.org).

Hours: Mon.-Fri., 9am-5pm. Contact: 704/687-2397.

Latin American Contemporary Art Projects (LaCa), 1429 Bryant Street, in the heart of the revitalized FreeMoreWest neighborhood, Charlotte. Ongoing - LaCa Projects is a platform dedicated to the presentation, development, and promotion of Latin American art and culture within the United States. The gallery encourages cross-cultural dialogue by representing a small group of influential and thought-provoking contemporary, emerging and mid-career artists, as well as exhibiting a broader range of work by established and Master Latin American artists. The gallery, which has expertise in a number of different art media with a significant focus on paintings, will also be part of a larger planned expansion that includes open artist studios and a dining concept. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 1-5pm or by appt. Contact: Neely Verano at (neely@lacaprojects.com) or call 704/609-8487.

Levine Museum of the New South, 401 South Tryon Street, (former Wells Fargo Museum) Charlotte. Ongoing - "Charlotte: Moving Forward, Looking Back". To move forward and make the city a better place for everyone, we must look back and learn from choices made in the past. The exhibit tells the story of Charlotte from Native and early European settlement to today. The exhibition combines stories of people, places, and events in a foundational narrative of Charlotte history that answers thought-provoking questions about how we got here and where we are headed. Experience Charlotte stories through objects from the Levine Museum's collections, interactive media displays, and art by local creatives. Ongoing - Building a stronger, more equitable community by connecting people to Charlotte and to each other through history, culture, and celebration. Admission: Free. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 11am-5pm; Wed. till 9pm; Sat., 10am-5pm; & Sun., noon-5pm. Contact: 704/333-1887 or at (museumofthenewsouth.org).

Work by Ellen Lee Klein

Matthews Town Hall, 232 Matthews Station Street, Matthews. Feb. 4 - Mar. 26 - "Transformed - New Works by Ellen Lee Klein". This exhibition of bold and inventive nature inspired works includes oil and acrylic paintings on canvas and on paper. The artist interprets, while transforming, the mundane contemporary natural world in her North Carolina back yard, daily vistas and environs. Skillfully and generously employing the formal elements to evoke physical and emotional responses in the viewer, she reflects her tongue in cheek responses to contemporary life around her. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 8am-5pm. Contact: 704/847-4411.

Mint Hill Arts Gallery, 11205 Lawyers Road, Ste. A, Mint Hill. Ongoing - We are more than just a gallery; we are a vibrant hub of creativity, passionately committed to fostering a thriving arts community. Our gallery's mission is deeply rooted in our connection to the local community. From the moment you step through our doors, you'll be enveloped by the warmth and artistic spirit that defines our town. As artists ourselves, we understand the importance of cultivating an environment that nurtures and celebrates creativity in all its forms. Hours: Wed.-Sat., noon-3pm. Contact: 980/226-5532 or at (minthillarts.org).

Mint Museum Randolph, 2730 Randolph Road, Charlotte. Through Feb. 16 - "Objects of Affection: Jewelry by Robert Ebendorf From the Porter • Price Collection". This exhibition celebrates the work of artist Robert Ebendorf, one of the most influential artists in the studio jewelry movement, beginning in the 1960s to today. The exhibition features more than 180 works of jewelry, metalwork, drawings, and archival materials drawn from the Porter • Price Collection designed by Ebendorf, as well as faculty and graduates of the metal design program at East Carolina University. Ebendorf's work combines exceptional craftsmanship, acquired through traditional training in gold- and silversmithing, with the inventive use of found objects and other alternative materials such as acrylic and ColorCore. "Objects of Affection" follows the evolution of Ebendorf's designs from Scandinavian modernism of his early work to his first use of found objects, including tintype photographs in the 1960s; juxtapositions of colored acrylic and precious metals in the 1970s; use of found newspaper and other textual elements in the 1980s; his pivotal incorporation of animal parts in the 1990s; and the remixing and further development of many of these approaches in the 21st century. Delhom Gallery, Through June 8 - "The Delhom Service League: 50 Golden Years". The Delhom Service League (DSL) provided a half-century of generous support and impactful initiatives to The Mint Museum, helping to fund the acquisition of more than 200 works of art in the Mint's collection. The exhibition celebrates the Delhom Service League's enthusiastic support for the Mint by proudly displaying significant works funded or gifted by the affiliate group, plus selected publications, photographs and other memorabilia. In 2022, the Delhom Service League made the difficult decision to dissolve as a Mint affiliate. The league nevertheless remains an indelible part of the Mint's history, and its many contributions rightly deserve the museum's never-ending recognition and gratitude.

Ongoing - "The Cole Family: A Dynasty of North Carolina Potters". From crocks, jars, and jugs to pitchers, candleholders, and vases, "turning pots" is one of the oldest and richest craft traditions in North Carolina. For more than 200 years, members of the Cole family have been potting in central North Carolina — Randolph, Moore, Lee, and Montgomery counties. Six generations of Coles, and no fewer than 18 individuals, are represented in The Mint Museum's permanent collection. More than 60 highlights of their wares are included in the installation "The Cole Family: A Dynasty of North Carolina Potters". One reason for its long-term success is that making pottery has so often been a family tradition in the state. Fathers taught the art of forming, glazing, and firing clay objects to their sons, and in later generations also to daughters, who in turn taught their children, and so on through the decades. These family dynasties not only helped to keep the potting craft alive, but ensured continuity in techniques and craftsmanship, as well as introduced artistic innovations in succeeding generations. "The Cole Family: A Dynasty of North Carolina Potters" presents a visual history of "turned pots" and the family that helped turn North Carolina into one of America's centers for handmade, traditional pottery. Bridges and Levine Galleries, Ongoing - "Contemporary British Studio Ceramics: The Grainer Collection". Focused on the collection of Diane and Marc Grainer, this installation is a survey of contemporary British studio ceramics. Comprising functional and sculptural objects made between the 1980s and today, the show features work by artists either born or residing in Great Britain, including established "contemporary classics" like Gordon Baldwin and Rupert Spira, and cutting-edge ceramicists such as Julian Stair and Kate Malone. Several recently-gifted works from the Grainers are included. Alexander, Spangler, and Harris Galleries, Ongoing - "Portals to the Past: British Ceramics 1675 - 1825". The Mint Museum's collection of eighteenth-century British pottery and porcelain is widely respected for its scope and quality. The collection numbers over 2,000 objects and includes important examples of both salt-glazed and dry-bodied stoneware from Staffordshire; tin-glazed earthenware from Bristol, Liverpool, and London; and cream-colored earthenware from Derbyshire, Staffordshire, and Yorkshire. Notable eighteenth-century porcelain factories represented include Chelsea, Bow, and Vauxhall in London, Longton Hall in Staffordshire, Worcester, Bristol, and others. Individual works in the collection are exceptional because of their rarity, craftsmanship, provenance, or as representative examples of particular types or methods of production or decoration. Ongoing - "American Glass". The nineteenth and early twentieth centuries represented a time of extraordinary growth for the American glass industry. Such companies as Boston & Sandwich Glass Company in Sandwich, MA; Steuben Glass Works in Corning, NY; and Libbey Glass Company in Toledo, OH, began operation and soon developed notable reputations for producing fashionable wares that were coveted by many middle- and upper-class consumers. "American Glass" showcases objects by these and other American glass companies, illustrating the variety of forms and styles that prevailed during this period. Glass-manufacturing techniques will be another focus of the exhibition, with representative examples of pressed, cut, blown, and molded glass. Nearly all of the works on view are from The Mint Museum's permanent collection of glass, which is second in size only to the ceramics collection in the museum's Decorative Arts holdings. Ongoing - "Arts of Africa". The African continent is remarkable in its geographic, social, political, and cultural diversity. This impressive diversity is reflected in the visual arts through a variety of media and forms including ceramics, masks, textiles, sculptures, prestige staffs, and shrines. With exceptional loans from private collectors and The Mint Museum's own collection of African Art, the museum is pleased to announce the expansion of its presentation of Arts of Africa, thereby providing visitors a more in-depth, meaningful, and exciting overview of African art. Heritage Gallery, Ongoing - Feature works of art, archival documents, and photographs documenting the growth and evolution of the museum, from its beginnings as the original branch of the US Mint to its founding as an art museum to the present and beyond. Ongoing - "Art for the Millions: WPA Prints" and "Carolina Clay," featuring a display of colorful wares made between 1920 and 1950 as potters from NC adapted their works to a market economy. "Art of the United States," featuring contemporary works from the Mint's permanent collection, including works by Romare Bearden, Maud Gatewood, John Biggers Juan Logan, Tarlton Blackwell, Radcliffe Bailey, Kojo Griffin, and others. "Art in the Americas," featuring paintings, precious metalwork, sculpture, furniture and decorative arts from the 17th through the 19th centuries illustrate the unique culture that emerged from the Spanish colonization of the Americas. Crosland Gallery - Featuring a presentation of portraits with many fascinating images presented. Rankin Gallery - Featuring a presentation of the Romare Bearden Collection, including two "new" Beardens. Admission: Yes. Hours: Wed., 11am-9pm (free admission 5-9pm); Thur.-Sat., 11am-6pm; & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 704/337-2000 or at (www.mintmuseum.org).

Mint Museum Uptown, Levine Center for the Arts, 500 South Tryon St., Charlotte. Through Apr. 27 - "Coined in the South: 2024". The exhibition aims to bridge the gap between museums, galleries, and studios by showcasing thought-provoking works by the emerging artists living or working in the Southern United States. The name "Coined in the South" refers to both The Mint Museum's origins as the first branch of the U.S. Mint, as well as the act of inventing. Many of the works selected for the "2024 Coined in the South" exhibition reflect on personal narratives and cultural histories. The exhibition transcends any singular aesthetic, theme, or medium, striving to mirror the rich diversity and creative spirit of the Southern arts community. Jurors who helped select works for this exhibition include: Marshall N. Price, PHD, Chief Curator and Nancy A. Nasher and David J. Haemisegger Curator of Modern and Contemporary Art, Duke University; Victoria Ramirez, PHD, Executive Director, Arkansas Museum of Fine Arts; and Stephanie J. Woods, Assistant Professor, Interdisciplinary Art, University of New Mexico. Through Mar. 2 - "Kenny Nguyen: Adaptations". Adaptation is defined as "the process in which a living thing changes slightly over time to be able to continue to exist in a particular environment." Kenny Nguyen feels this process materialized within himself, his lineage, and his methodology of making. Born and raised on a coconut grove in the Bến Tre province of Vietnam, the artist lived a quiet rural life and later moved to the States at the age of 19. This dispersion from his homeland mapped a new internal geography—a subtle double-consciousness that the artist works with—traversing the spiritual and physical, the contemporary and historical. Through Feb. 2 - "Southern/Modern: Rediscovering Southern Art From the First Half of the Twentieth Century." The first exhibition to present a comprehensive survey of works by artists working in the American South in the first half of the 20th century. Created in collaboration with Georgia Museum of Art, the exhibition includes more than 100 paintings and works on paper by artists working in states below the Mason-Dixon line and as far west as those bordering the Mississippi River, as well as some artists living outside of the region who made significant bodies of work during visits. Curated by the Mint's Senior Curator of American Art Jonathan Stuhlman, PhD, and independent scholar Martha Severens, Southern/Modern: Rediscovering Southern Art From the First Half of the Twentieth Century takes a broad view of the South and is structured around key themes that traverse geographic regions, including time and place, race, family ties, and social struggles. It also takes a broad, inclusive view of the art of the region, incorporating the creativity and talent of women artists and artists of color across its various thematic sections to provide a fuller, richer, and more accurate overview of the artistic activity in the American South at the time. Through Aug. 10 - "Women of Land and Smoke: Photographs by Graciela Iturbide and Maya Goded". The exhibition includes over 50 photographs that present an overview of Iturbide and Goded's careers that span the Americas. For the past three years, the Mint has been building a significant portfolio of works by Mexico City-based photographers Graciela Iturbide and Maya Goded. Over the decades, the two photographers have created revealing, poignant, and powerful images that examine the intersection of contemporary life and centuries-long practices throughout North and South America. Craft + Design Galleries, Ongoing - "Craft in the Laboratory: The Science of Making Things," is the first installation in the Southeast to explore how craft artists and designers use science and math concepts when creating works of art. Presented by Müller Corporation, Craft in the Laboratory also celebrates a reinstallation of the Mint's Craft + Design Galleries—the first since 2010. Co-curated by the Mint's Senior Curator of Craft, Design, and Fashion Annie Carlan and Assistant Curator for Craft, Design, and Fashion Rebecca Elliot, "Craft in the Laboratory" includes 100 works from the Mint's collection that are made from precious metals, wood, steel, polymers, and even agricultural waste, that emphasize the preciseness of science used to craft works of art. Made by nationally and internationally renowned artists, the objects are organized by material and subject throughout the galleries. Now - The Mint Museum's new four-story installation "Foragers" offers a transcendent experience while celebrating the tradition of women as makers and providers. Unlike anything ever seen at The Mint Museum before, Brooklyn-based artist Summer Wheat's "Foragers" is a monumental piece of public work of art spanning 96 windows, four stories, and 3,720 square feet at Mint Museum Uptown's Robert Haywood Morrison Atrium. The myriad of vibrant panels that give the illusion of stained glass and celebrates the tradition of women as makers and providers. "Foragers" is part of a larger exhibition "In Vivid Color," which brings together four innovative contemporary artists—Wheat, Gisela Colon, Spencer Finch, and Jennifer Steinkamp—who create works celebrating the power of color and its ability to permeate the space around us. Their work is juxtaposed with a selection of paintings and works on paper, drawn primarily from The Mint Museum's permanent collection, which showcase artists' more traditional exploration of color. Ongoing - The Mint Museum Uptown houses the world renowned collections of the Mint Museum of Craft + Design, as well as the American Art and Contemporary Art collections and selected works from the European Art collection. The building also includes a café, a Family Gallery, painting and ceramics studios, classrooms, a 240-seat auditorium, a Special Events Pavilion with outdoor terrace, and an expanded Museum Shop specializing in crafts of the Carolinas. Admission: Yes. Hours: Wed., 11am-9pm (free admission 5-9pm); Thur.-Sat., 11am-6pm; & Sun., 1-5pm. Now Fri. till 9pm. Contact: 704/337-2000 or at (www.mintmuseum.org).

Projective Eye Gallery, UNC-Charlotte Center City Building, 320 E. 9th Street, Uptown Charlotte. Through Feb. 7 - "Generations," an exhibition of exemplary work by departmental alumni and legacy faculty in celebration of the 60th anniversary of the Department of Art & Art History. In 1964, the acclaimed North Carolina painter Maud Gatewood was hired by Bonnie Cone to begin arts programming at the new Charlotte College campus. The following year, Charlotte College was added to the UNC System and became UNC Charlotte. Over the next decade, Gatewood developed courses and hired colleagues, spearheaded the design of an arts building and its facilities, and sustained dialogue with institutions such as the Mint Museum and Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools. Both the department and the university have grown dramatically in the intervening years, as more than 3,000 alumni have graduated from the visionary program Gatewood founded. Highlighting the program's decades of accomplishments, Generations features work by Eric Anderson, Susan Brenner, Edwina Bringle, Keith Bryant, Sara Catapano, Ann Carter, Jen Clay, Lili Corbus, Alexandra Giannell, John Hairston, Adé Hogue, Heather Hoover, Eldred Hudson, Susan Jedzrejewski, Jason Losko, Nadia Meadows, Carmen Neely, Martha Strawn, and Winston Tite. The Museum of the Cherokee People, 589 Tsali Boulevard, Cherokee. Through Feb. 28 - "sover-eign-ty: Expressions in Sovereignty of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians". This exhibition illuminates the complexities of tribal sovereignty and the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians' continuing legacy of resilience. In this exhibition, visitors will learn how, through adaptability and innovation, the EBCI has combated attempts to eradicate, remove, and assimilate its people and remained on the Qualla Boundary - 57,000 acres (0.00067661% of the original Cherokee territory) which is owned by the EBCI and held in trust by the federal government. Ongoing - Welcome to a sweeping history of the Cherokee Nation, engaging and oftentimes heart-rending, from ice age beginnings to present-day life and culture. In the brushstrokes of this fascinating heritage, you'll discover the warp and weft of treaties, the roots of a naturalistic language, artifacts of particular periods, great figures and heroes and entrancing stories of a civilization along with the Cherokee's distinctive values and ways of being in the world before and after "the Trail of Tears." The museum offers courses and workshops that combine scholarly content with voices of Cherokee people and experiences on the Qualla Boundary. A perfect place to begin exploration of Cherokee heritage and traditions is the Museum of the Cherokee Indian in Cherokee, North Carolina. Visitors are greeted at the entrance by a 20-foot hand-carved statue of Sequoyah, the inventor of the Cherokee alphabet. An interpretive site for the Trail of Tears National Historic Trail, this state-of-the-art facility traces the story of the Cherokee from the earliest inhabitants of the area 11,000 years ago to the present. An extensive exhibit of artifacts and photos is enhanced with computer-generated holograms and other imagery, sound, and special effects that leave a lasting and haunting impression on the visitor. The museum gift shop is rich in Cherokee tradition. Locally created baskets, pottery, wood carvings, decorated gourds and beadwork are among the art available for sale. Books on Cherokee history, culture, language, and genealogy line the shelves, along with audio CDs and tapes by local musicians and storytellers. Admission: Yes. Work by Leticia Alvarez

Durham Arts Council Building, 120 Morris Street, Durham. Allenton & Semans Gallery, Through Mar. 10 - "Viva la Vida ante la Adversidad/ Live Life in the Face of Adversity," the annual Inter-Latin American Artist Collective (ILAAC) exhibit. A reception will be held on Feb. 21, from 6-8pm. After reflecting on several options for the title of this exhibition, the Inter Latin American Artist Collective (ILAAC) decided on Live Life in the Face of Adversity. This title reflects the difficulties and challenges we have faced during 2024, from political and social contexts to migration challenges. We know that 2025 will be a year full of adversities, and for that reason, we believe it is crucial to highlight what we are experiencing as a community. Other titles we considered included: "Cultivating the Heart: Heart and Kindness", "Moving Forward" and "Overcoming Adversity, Living Life, and Surviving in the Face of Adversity". This exhibition showcases the work of the Inter-Latin American Artist Collective (ILAAC) and highlights the different ways in which each artist uses art to express their perspective on the difficulties we face, as well as on our culture and traditions. The exhibited works offer a rich and diverse perspective on each artist's creations and how each one approaches everyday adversities. ILAAC consists of the artists Pepe Caudillo, Luis MacKinney, Anton io Alanis, Lety Álvarez, Peter Marín, José Manuel Cruz, and Cornelio Campos. Hours: Mon.-Sat., 9am-9pm & Sun. 1-6pm. The Nasher Museum of Art, Duke University Central Campus, 2001 Campus Drive, Durham. Through May 11 - "By dawn's early light". The years 2024 and 2025 mark the sixtieth anniversaries of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Voting Rights Act of 1965. The two Acts transformed life in the United States for many marginalized individuals, including people of color, women, people with disabilities, elders, and others who had not had equal rights in the nation's history. This legislation was the culmination of nearly a century of work by activists and advocates. Participating artists include: Kathryn Andrews, Adrián Balseca, Bill Bamberger, Roger Brown, Diego Camposeco, Kennedy Carter, Mel Chin, Dario Escobar, Leonard Freed, Genevieve Gagnard, Scherezade Garcia, Titus Brooks Heagins, Barkley L. Hendricks, Ken Heyman, Henry Horenstein, Dapper Bruce Lafitte, Michelangelo Lovelace, Danny Lyon, Mary Ellen Mark, Vik Muniz, Kambui Olujimi, Bill Owens, Gordon Parks, Fahamu Pecou, Ad Reinhardt, Gary Simmons, Jaune Quick-To-See Smith, Erika Stone, Lou Stouman, Sage Sohler, Sarah Sudhoff, Hank Willis Thomas, Burk Uzzle, Nari Ward, Antoine Williams, Fred Wilson, Purvis Young, and George Zimbel.

Through July 15 - "Art of the Andes". Art of the Andes features ceramics, textiles, metalwork, and carvings produced by cultures across the Andes region, a 4,500-mile-long mountain range on the Pacific Coast of South America. These objects, many on view for the first time, reveal the diverse and sophisticated artmaking techniques through which ancient Andeans expressed ancestral beliefs and personal and political identities. The wall case provides a comparative view of the ceramic production of several prominent Peruvian civilizations, presented chronologically from left to right. From the colorful painted motifs of the Nasca and the sculptural realism of the Moche to the whistling vessels of the Chanca, the ceramics depict both realistic and stylized animals, people, deities, food, and scenes of warfare, performance, and pleasure. Through July 20 - "Art of the U.S.: American Stories/American Myths." What comes to mind when you think of the history of the United States? The "discovery" of the continent by European explorers? The American Revolution and founding of the country? Westward expansion, or perhaps the turmoil of the Civil War? This re-installed gallery incorporates historical and contemporary works of art from the United States to tell some of these stories and confront some of these myths. The gallery includes a variety of works to encourage visitors to think about how these narratives shape our understanding and may preserve or counter fallacies of nationhood and democracy. Ongoing - The Collection Galleries feature rotating installations of the Nasher Museum's extensive holdings of historical art. Eight galleries, as well as the entrance to Wilson Pavilion, are dedicated to the museum's strengths, which represent a brief history of human creativity from different times and parts of the world. Just beyond the entrance, visitors will find the Incubator, a flexible space for rotating student- and faculty-curated exhibitions. Visitors are invited to return again and again to The Collection Galleries, where Nasher curators continue to refresh the galleries with gems from the collection. The museum's contemporary collection is showcased through rotating exhibitions within a separate pavilion. Works from the contemporary collection create new conversations and connections among historical works in The Collection Galleries. A breakthrough work by New York artist Fred Wilson from 1990, Colonial Collection, anchors the Arts of Africa Gallery. A painting by Kehinde Wiley is on view in the European Art Gallery. Ongoing

Work by Toyin Ojih Odutola - Weatherspoon AM

Weatherspoon Art Museum, University of North Carolina - Greensboro, Cone Building, Tate and Spring Garden Streets, Greensboro. Through Mar. 8 - "More Than My Disability". This photographic celebration of diversity features UNCG students, faculty, and staff who came together in 2022 to volunteer their pictures and stories of living with one or more chronic conditions and/or disabilities. Both individually and collectively, their narratives speak to the fact that while chronic conditions and disabilities are part of one's identity, they don't define anyone. This exhibition was organized by UNCG's Zeta Phi chapter of the Delta Alpha Pi International Honor Society, the Career and Professional Development Office (CPD), and the Office of Accessibility Resources and Services (OARS). Participant photographs were taken by Vivian O'Brien, employment data and marketing coordinator in CPD. Louise D. and Herbert S. Falk, Sr. Gallery, Through Mar. 29 - "Embodied: Finding Meaning in the Human Form." Hands, feet, lips, legs—when we call these individual body parts to mind, we might think first of their physical functions: the ways they allow us to hold, stand, speak, and move. But what about their capacity to produce gestures with cultural significance, to hold the tangible marks of living and aging across time, or to be wounded and healed? This exhibition presents the work of artists who address these broader themes and others. Collectively, their images and sculptures explore human experiences that are at once universal and unique: vulnerability and strength, social expectations and self-determination, hopes and memories, love and loss. Focusing on seemingly simple, singular parts of the body, these works open up ways to see and think about the shared complexity of being human. This exhibition has been curated by the students in Art History 490: Museums and Exhibition Spaces. It features artworks from the Weatherspoon's collection as well as generous promised gifts from artist and collector Carol Cole Levin. The Gregory D. Ivy Gallery, Weatherspoon Guild Gallery, and Gallery 6, Through July 5 - "Making Connections: Art, Place, and Relationships". Following the success last academic year of the collection exhibition, Making Room: Familiar Art, New Stories is Making Connections: Art, Place, and Relationships. Building on the museum's desire to engage its audiences in more personal and meaningful ways, this installation of works from the collection showcases the Weatherspoon as an academic museum with deep connections to and relationships with its campus, Greensboro, and broader communities. Back in 1941, the Weatherspoon was founded with the goal of serving as a teaching resource specifically for UNCG's department of art. Over the course of its 80+ years, the museum's mission has expanded to serve many more. Objects included in this iteration of collection highlights showcase the Weatherspoon's relationship over the years with various art collectors, UNCG fine art alumni and faculty, Greensboro community leaders, artists who taught at Black Mountain College and those who exhibited in the museum's signature exhibition, Art on Paper, as well as a few of the many UNCG departments that currently incorporate the museum's collection into their pedagogy. The Bob & Lissa Shelley McDowell Gallery, Through Apr. 26 - "Crip* | Artists Engage with Disability." This group exhibition features contemporary artists who engage with experiences and understandings of disability. They do so by thinking about the ways that one's personal experience of disability always intersects with other aspects of their life. Some of the artists in the show identify as disabled and some do not, but each has a relationship to at least one identity that is not perceived as normal. Too often, such artists are expected to "perform" these identities by making images of themselves. While those images can help diversify the art world, they can also pigeonhole artists, flatten our interpretations of their work, and make the distinctions between "normal" and "not-normal" more rigid. Artists whose work is featured in the exhibition include: Liz Barr, Emilie Gossiaux, Max Guy, Christopher Robert Jones, Carly Mandel, Darin Martin, Alison

O'Daniel, Berenice Olmedo, Carmen Papalia, Bronte Purnell, Finnegan Shannon, Heather Kai Smith, and Alex Dolores Salerno. Weatherspoon Atrium Mural, Through Dec. 31 - "Sheena Rose: Pause and Breathe, We Got This". The Weatherspoon is pleased to feature a major new artwork by artist Sheena Rose, MFA '16 in its atrium. A multidisciplinary artist working in animation, drawing, painting, and performance, Rose's vibrant and energetic work is at once anchored in her Caribbean heritage and expansive in its explorations of culture and human experience. A native of Barbados, where she continues to live and work, Rose attended UNC Greensboro as a Fulbright Scholar from 2014 to 2016. "UNCG gave me a place to think about where I come from—my race, gender, sexuality, and culture as a Black woman from the Caribbean," she said, reflecting on her time in North Carolina. "It gave me a chance to face myself and move forward with brave steps and to take risks in the studio." Lobbies - Featuring works of art complementing current gallery exhibitions which are rotated in the atrium and public areas throughout both floors of the gallery. Tom Otterness' site-specific work, "The Frieze" is permanently installed in the atrium. Sculpture Courtyard - Featuring selections of American sculpture from 1900 to the present from the Weatherspoon Collection and on loan works from contemporary artists. Admission: Free. Hours: Tue.-Wed. & Fri.-Sat., from 10am-5pm and Thur., 10am-8pm. Contact: 336/334-5770 or at (<http://weatherspoon.uncg.edu/>).

ALTERNATE ART SPACES - Greensboro Creative Aging Network-NC (CAN-NC), 2400 Summit Ave., Greensboro. Ongoing - The mission of the Creative Aging Network-NC (CAN-NC) is to provide innovative arts programming and education to enhance the well-being and social connection among older adults throughout North Carolina. The CAN-NC campus, located just 3 miles from downtown Greensboro, NC, serves as a site for intergenerational and multicultural engagement, collaboration and education. Hours: call for regular hours. Contact: 336/303-9963 or at (<https://can-nc.org/events>).

Greenville

Emerge Gallery & Art Center, 404 S. Evans St., Greenville. Feb. 6 - 27 - "The Tiny Art Show". This annual exhibition and fundraiser for EmERGE Gallery's Educational and Outreach Programs. A reception will be held on Feb. 6, from 5:30-7:30pm. Ongoing - Featuring works in a variety of media by students, faculty, alumni (East Carolina University) and local artists. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 10am-9pm; Sat., 10am-4pm & Sun., 1-4pm. Contact: 252/551-6947 or at (www.emergegallery.com).

Greenville Museum of Art, 802 South Evans Street, Greenville. West Wing & Commons Gallery, Through Mar. 7 - "How We Got Over :: sayings from my kindred 'nem," an exhibition guest curated by Zacaria Sage. A reception will be held on Feb. 7, from 5-8pm. This exhibition showcases the work of seven North Carolina-based artists working in a variety of media in response to GMA's current exhibition, "Aphorisms & Verses: Works from the GMA Collection" by Ben Shahn and Marvin Saltzman, which will remain partially installed through Mar. 7. "An aphorism is an expressive truth, observation, or set of instructions," writes guest curator Zacaria Sage and curatorial consultant Sir Porte. "This concept transcends generational lines, cultures, and territory borders to equip people with life-sourced guidance. The work of Ben Shahn and Marvin Saltzman are some examples of sense-making with aphorisms through written or visual forms in the GMA permanent collection. Those works are in conversation with the seven invited artists of "How We Got Over" :: sayings from my kindred 'nem, who have unearthed other Aphro-isms. Aphro-isms, or Black Aphorisms, offer a rich legacy of sharing the wisdom gained from lived experience and the trials we have overcome. Aphro-isms are an oral tradition of learning, telling, remembering, and listening to truths. The embedded knowledge of these sometimes witty or metaphorical wisdoms often comes from those with the knowledge of danger, marginality, or precarity." The Francis Speight and Sarah Blakeslee Gallery, Ongoing - Is dedicated to the work of these two artists. Speight was born in Bertie County, North Carolina, and moved back to Greenville to teach at East Carolina University after spending a majority of his career at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. Blakeslee was born in Illinois and met Speight at the Academy as a student. The couple lived outside of Philadelphia until moving to Greenville in 1961. The Kenneth Noland Gallery, Ongoing - Celebrates the art and legacy of Black Mountain College, an innovative liberal arts college that operated between 1933 and 1957. Kenneth Noland, born in Asheville in 1924, attended Black Mountain College on the G. I. Bill from 1946 to 1948. He studied under Josef Albers and Ilya Bolotowsky, who introduced him to the work of artists interested in geometry and color. The Rachel Maxwell Moore Art Foundation Gallery, Ongoing - Features rotating works purchased for the Museum by the foundation. Rachel Maxwell Moore was a leading civic figure and arts advocate in Greenville, and was central to the founding of the Museum's predecessor in 1939. She established the Rachel Maxwell Moore Art Foundation in 1963, and before she passed away in 1964, bequeathed funds to the foundation for the sole purpose of purchasing works of art for the Museum's permanent collection. Ongoing - GMAA has a strong collection of North Carolina pottery, and especially from Jugtown Pottery in Seagrove, North Carolina. Jugtown Pottery was opened by Jacques and Juliana Busbee in 1921. They were influential at Jugtown and elsewhere in Seagrove by introducing local North Carolina potters to international ceramic styles and glazes. Much of our pottery collection was given to the Museum by Mrs. Lindsay Savage in 1948 and Dr. James H. Stewart in the 1980s. Admission: Free. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10-4:30pm. Contact: 252/758-1946 or at (www.gmoa.org).

Hendersonville/ Flat Rock

The Gallery at Art Place, 2021 Asheville Hwy., Hendersonville. Feb. 1 - 21 - "The Art of Fiber and Textile". A reception will be held on Feb. 1, from 2-4pm. Ongoing - The Art League of Henderson County provides access to the visual arts for our community and its visitors. At the heart of our mission is the belief that visual arts play a pivotal role in enriching our cultural tapestry. The visual arts are more than just a form of expression; they are a catalyst for cultural enrichment. As The Art League, we strive to contribute to the very fabric of our community by fostering a deep sense of identity and pride among our residents. Beyond the cultural realm, we recognize art's significant role in enhancing local economic vitality. Hours: Wed.-Sat., 11am-4pm. This exhibition is a celebration of the creative process regardless of your discipline and career pathway. Art and creativity play a role in all of our lives from the way we problem solve to the techniques we develop to do our professions. Hickory Museum of Art invited students and faculty from Catawba Valley Community College, Caldwell Community College & Technical Institute, Lenoir-Rhyne University and Appalachian State University to show how they utilize the creative process. 3rd Floor Gallery, Through Feb. 16 - "Barry G. Huffman: Life Illustrated". A reception will be held on Dec. 1, from 3-5pm. Six decades ago a young newly married woman began painting pictures of her everyday life. What started out as an endeavor to please herself with a memory became an obsession of documenting her thoughts, experiences, joys and sorrows, and loss and frustrations of life. As a private quiet person this became her practice of dealing with life. LocalHMA Gallery, Through Feb. 16 - "Meet YourNeighbor: Adele James McCarty. Whitener Gallery, Through Feb. 16 - "Ode to the Blue Ridge". The Hickory Museum of Art presents this exhibition in tribute to the people and landscapes of Western North Carolina affected by Hurricane Helene. Please consider donating to one of the organizations providing relief to the area including: United Way, Feeding the Carolinas, Women's Fund of the Blue Ridge, Red Cross, and Salvation Army. Ongoing - "Discover Folk Art: Unique Visions by Southern Contemporary Folk Artists". A unique experience for the whole family to investigate the Museum's extensive Southern Contemporary Folk Art Collection. The Exhibition Features: • Re-creations of Artists' Working Environments • Over 200 Folk Art Objects • Sounds & Smells • and More! Free Family Guides for the exhibition are available at the Museum's check-in desk in the first floor shopHMA. Copies of the children's book, "Discover Folk Art: An Adventure with Artie at the Hickory Museum of Art", are also available in the store for $9.95. In the book, Artie (HMA's art-loving mascot) takes a group of children on a tour of the galleries and introduces them to work by several folk artists including Sam "The Dot Man" McMillan and Q.J. Stephenson. Little Hands, Big Hands Gallery, Ongoing - "Little Hands, Big Hands". Younger visitors can be imaginative through creative exploration and play. Includes a puppet theater, mini art gallery, giant reading throne and more. Admission: Free. Hours: Wed.-Sat., 10am-4pm & Sun., 1-4pm. Contact: 828/327-8576 or at (<http://hickoryart.org>).

Highlands

Work by Chris Groves

The Bascom, a center for the visual arts, 323 Franklin Rd., covered bridge entrance at the end of Main Street, Highlands. Bunzl Gallery, Through Apr. 6 - "Emergence: A Survey of Southeastern Studio Programs". The exhibition places mentorship at its center, emphasizing the transformative role of teaching and guidance in nurturing artistic growth. This exhibition explores the collaborative relationships between faculty mentors and their students, offering a compelling perspective on the dynamic interplay between instruction and creativity. Featuring 37 pairs of artists from 30 higher education institutions across the Southeast, the exhibition reflects the rich and diverse landscape of contemporary art education. The works on display span a broad spectrum of artistic approaches, demonstrating both depth of subject matter and originality. Through inventive material use and a strong engagement with traditional techniques, the pieces exemplify the fusion of foundational skills and innovative exploration cultivated within today's studio programs. Joel Gallery, Through Apr. 12 - "Looking Forward with Bascom Instructors". This exhibition honors the vital contributions of visiting artist educators whose creativity and mentorship have enriched The Bascom's programming. Featuring works across various mediums, Looking Forward explores the symbiotic relationship between artistic practice and teaching. These works reveal how the exchange of ideas in the classroom and studio informs and elevates both the creative process and the learning experience. Each piece also serves as a sneak peek into the workshop programming offered by our instructors. Thompson Gallery, Through May 10 - "Thomas Schram: Winter Resident Artist Exhibition". Thomas Schram, The Bascom's 2024-2025 Winter Resident Artist, is an Asheville-based artist and educator whose work delves into the intersections of technology, consumption, and the natural world. Through installations that blend video, sound, and object-making, Schram creates immersive experiences that prompt reflection on the hidden costs of modern life. His forthcoming installation draws inspiration from the environmental and historical scars left by Hurricane Helene and the logging industry. By incorporating found objects and repurposed media, Schram crafts a poignant exploration of destruction, renewal, and shared histories, inviting viewers to consider humanity's impact on the environment and the potential for recovery. Currently a sculpture professor at Western Carolina University, Schram holds an MFA from Clemson University and a BFA from UNC Asheville. His practice is grounded in a profound understanding of materiality and process, coupled with a commitment to fostering dialogue through art. Education Gallery, Ongoing - The Bascom offers our students and instructors an opportunity to display their creative works from workshops and classes. The perspectives of these talented individuals reveal self-expression, cultural awareness and technical discipline. These ongoing displays expose the viewer to the analysis, invention, exploration and decision making processes used by students during the development of ideas into a work of art. Horst Winkler Sculpture Trail, Through Apr. 30, 2026 - "Biennial Outdoor Sculpture Program 2024 - 2026," including works by Georgia Watts, MG Morrow, Francis Akosah, Corrina Sephora, J. Aaron Alderman, Kristina Peay, and Matt Amante. In its fourth year, The Outdoor Sculpture Program features new works by celebrated local and regional artists on The Bascom Campus along the Horst Winkler Sculpture Trail and in Cashiers, through the efforts of our partner organization, Vision Cashiers. Winter Hours: Wed.-Sat., 10am-4pm Contact: 828/526-4949 or at (www.thebascom.org).

High Point

The Art Gallery at Congdon Yards (TAG) located at 400 West English Rd., Suite 151 in Congdon Yards, High Point. Through Mar. 21 - "Soul of Appalachia - Perspectives from Western North Carolina," featuring the work of 18 Western North Carolina Artists. Small communities across Appalachia have served as havens for artists for generations. From the traditional crafts of Penland to the avant-garde art of Black Mountain College and the murals and makers of Asheville's River Arts District, artists gathered and flourished. In the wake of Hurricane Helene, Western North Carolina demonstrated a generosity, resilience, and creativity that inspired many across the region and beyond. Those who have roots in the area understand it is the Appalachian way. Artists, craftspeople, makers, and families are the Soul of Appalachia. Join The Art Gallery at Congdon Yards as we celebrate the spirit of Appalachia and honor Western North Carolina-based artists impacted by Helene. Participating artists include: Tyler-James Anderson (Asheville, NC), Wade Asa (Weaverville, NC), Anna Bryant (Asheville, NC), Anna Buckner (Valle Crucis, NC), Christa Capua (Asheville, NC), Daniel Coffey (Asheville, NC), Lauren Crowe (Boone, NC), Sarah Jones Decker (Marshall, NC), Neil Goss (Asheville, NC), Asher Holman (Asheville, NC), Jane Jaskevich (Weaverville, NC), Chris Jehly (Asheville, NC), Lori Brook Johnson (Bakersville, NC), Kenn Kotara (Asheville, NC), Joseph Pearson (Asheville, NC), Peter Roux (Asheville, NC), Akira Satake (Asheville, NC), and Ricardo Tejeda (Asheville, NC). Through Mar. 21 - "Annual High School Art Show." ## Mount Airy

Mount Airy Museum of Regional History, 301 North Main Street, Mount Airy. Ongoing - Ours is an all American story - typical of how communities grew up all across our great nation. While our story takes place in the back country of northwestern North Carolina at the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountains, it is likely to bear many similarities to the development of crossroads, towns, and cities throughout America. It had taken little more than 100 years for the corridors along the coastline of this still-new continent to overflow. As tensions grew and conflicts flared, the pioneer spirit set in. Families literally packed up everything they owned and headed into the unknown-searching for the "promised land." Admission: Yes. Hours: Mon.-Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun., 1-4pm. Contact: 336/786-4478 or at (northcarolinamuseum.org).

New Bern

Community Artists Gallery & Studios, Inc., 504 South Front Street, New Bern. Ongoing - We serve Craven, Pamlico, and Jones counties. Operated by member artists themselves on an exclusively volunteer basis, it's a great place to discover distinctive, affordable art for your home or office--or to find a truly unique gift. Visit our Gallery and Studios pages to see what's currently on exhibit--and on our easels! Community Artists Gallery & Studios supports working studio space for fifteen artists and exhibits nearly a dozen additional artists at any given time. Our members are engaged in creating jewelry, photography, weaving, found object art, sculpture, ceramics, digital art, watercolor, oil, baskets, stained glass, and acrylic paintings. Hours: Tue., Thur., Fri., & Sat., 10am-4pm. Contact: 252/571-8566 or visit (www.communityartistsgallery.org).

North Wilkesboro

Wilkes Art Gallery, 913 C. Street, North Wilkesboro. Main Gallery, Through Feb. 28 - "44th Annual Blue Ridge Overview," featuring a juried photography competition. Hayes Hall, Through Feb. 13 - "JUXTA/Position," an exploration of community and coalescence, featuring works by local photographers. Ongoing - Founded in 1962 in the parlor of Annie Winkler's home, the Wilkes Art Gallery has experienced transformations over the years. The most dramatic of these was the 2004 move into the renovated 1925 North Wilkesboro Post Office building. WAG offers a variety of classes, workshops, meet-the-artists events and special outreach projects. WAG hosts exhibitions that offer community members a chance to show their work and admission is always free. Visit our online gift shop. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 10am-5pm and Sat., 10am-2pm. Contact: 336/667-2841 or at (www.wilkesartgallery.org).

Old Fort

Arrowhead Artists and Artisans League Inc., 77 Catawba Avenue, Suite C-D, next to the parker hosiery building, 2 minutes from Exit 73 on Interstate I-40, Old Fort. Currently - Under construction. Ongoing - The main Gallery space is about 1800 square feet, with an open, industrial feel. Art, ranging from traditional to abstract and mixed media, hangs on the walls. On the main floor are displays of various types of fine crafts, such as jewelry, pottery, fiber art, hand crafted baskets, and hand turned wooden bowls. You might even see a welded "junk yard" critter or two. After viewing all of the various arts and crafts, visitors can walk through a wide archway on the right to view more fine art and craft work and talk to the artists and students in several studios and the AGS classroom. If a studio door is open, visitors are being invited to step inside and enjoy the work. Currently, our Gallery and studio artists and artisans include: Lorelle Bacon, Ann Whisenaut, Karen Piquette, David Kaylor, Dawn Driebus, Len Eskew, Wayne Stroud, Susan Taylor, Cathy Green, Anne Bevan, John Sullivan, Evelyn Chrisawn, Tim Muench, Chuck Aldridge, Charles Davis, Fredreen Bernatovicz, Anne Allison, Darlene Matzer, Billie Haney, Marguerite Welty, Jean Ryan, Kasha Baxter, Linda Magnus, Kim Hostetter, Bonnie Burgin, Sonya Russell, Helen Sullivan, Janet Bennett, and Sabrina Miller. Frankie G. Weems Art Gallery, Gaddy-Harrick Art Center, Meredith College, 3800 Hillsborough Street, Raleigh. Through Mar. 3 - "Charting the Uncertain, featuring works by Julie Anne Greenberg. A reception will be held on Feb. 6, from 5-7pm. Julie uses the visual vocabulary of weather and meteorology to create multilayered three-dimensional relief work and dramatic wall installations. The process begins with creating weather textures using sand, water, or ice and screen printing them onto painted paper and other surfaces. Just as meteorologists attempt to predict the weather, humans hopelessly attempt to forecast their own lives. Each work becomes a meditation for the many things that are out of our hands but that we try desperately to control. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 9am-5pm & Sat.-Sun., 2-5pm. commemorate and depict events large and small. Material Messages showcases the unique vocabularies crafted by artisans through color, pattern, motif, and techniques like weaving, dyeing, embroidery and appliqué, to deliver messages within and beyond their individual cultures. Many of the cloths, like a beloved book with folded corners and faded pages, show the marks of use that in themselves tell a story. Material Messages expresses how different cultures communicate both similar and distinct messages through their particular cloth making traditions and reveals the depth and breadth of the artistic visions of these multi-cultural makers. Ongoing - "Selections from the Collections". Image of a beige quilt with a skeleton riding a wolf holding an American flag. The quilt is made out of old t-shirts. Drawing from the Gregg Museum's collections of over 54,000 objects, Selections from the Collections displays a sampling of the many different kinds of pieces in its holdings. Though objects in the exhibition will rotate from time to time to facilitate their preservation and so that different artists and kinds of objects can be exhibited, the same general themes, materials, and variety of work will remain a part of this ongoing exhibition. For many years, Gregg audiences have been treated to wide ranging but relatively short-term exhibitions that explore topics or present artists' works for a matter of months, and then get changed out and replaced by entirely new shows. While this will continue, most visitors have departed without realizing that the Gregg staff also maintains vast collections used for teaching, research, supporting student projects, and, on occasion, as source material for the exhibitions in the public galleries. The semi-permanent Selections from the Collections exhibition in the historic Residence seeks to remedy that. This new rotating installation will ensure that there will always be fascinating things to see and share at the Gregg! Historic Residence, Ongoing - One of NC State University's most historic buildings is now the permanent home of the Gregg Museum of Art & Design. The Historic Chancellor's Residence, located at 1903 Hillsborough Street, along with a 15,000 sq. ft. addition, increases the museum's visibility while significantly adding to its exhibition and programming space. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm. The Gregg does ask that larger groups (15+) call ahead at (919) 515-3503, to avoid crowding in the galleries. Contact: Zoe Starling, Curator of Education at 919/513-7244 or at (<https://gregg.arts.ncsu.edu/>).

North Carolina Museum of Art, 2110 Blue Ridge Road, Raleigh. East Building, Education Gallery, Through Apr. 25 - "What's Happening: Survey of NC Master of Fine Arts Programs". Studio visits to MFA programs have always been a reliable way to assess new talent, engage in critical conversations, and understand emerging trends in the art world. In light of this tradition, we bring a survey of work from North Carolina MFA candidates to you. This exhibition shines light on 14 emerging artists and the output that comes from their dedicated study of the art-making process. Participating artists include: Celena Amburgey, UNC Greensboro; Katelyn Lux Brewer, East Carolina University; Paul Edwards, East Carolina University; Lynne Hudson, Western Carolina University; Ryan McDowell, East Carolina University; Nastassja Noell, Western Carolina University; Mort O'Sullivan, Duke University; YuWen Renjie, Western Carolina University, Brooklin Routt, Western Carolina University, Sansoy, Western Carolina University; Hannah Schneider, Duke University; Nill Smith, UNC Greensboro; Fangze Zhu, Duke University; and Sean Zou, Duke University. East Building, Level B, Galleries 3, Through Mar. 9 - "JP Jermaine Powell—Leadership Reimagined: Share Your Journey." The exhibition encapsulates the journey of JP Jermaine Powell as artist in residence at the North Carolina Museum of Art. Throughout the exhibition he reflects on and pays tribute to the remarkable work of NCMA staff, critically acclaimed artists, and everyday heroes who have dedicated themselves to making the local art scene vibrant and productive. The show is a celebration of human resilience and what the artist refers to as "postpandemic leadership." It showcases how members of both the local and global art communities discovered new ways to create, innovate, and lead during a challenging time in human history. Powell intentionally chose individuals who may not fit conventional definitions of leadership but whose stories of resilience and dedication inspire others. These people continue to grow, invest in themselves and others, share ideas, promote collaboration, and embrace adversity as a catalyst for success. He invites visitors to see themselves as part of a collective history being built by the leaders in all of us. West Building, Conservation Gallery, Through Nov. 9 - "Seeing Red". Red is arguably the most important color to human beings. Since ancient times red has colored our strongest emotions, warned of danger, distinguished our leaders, gloriated our religious images, and underscored our life and death. For many, red was divine, a direct connection to gods and the supernatural. Today red seems much less important to us. Dimmed by time and technology, the color is something we hardly pay attention to. Seeing Red focuses on our long relationship with red and the dyes and pigments that humanity has developed to express ourselves. To represent a color that held such deep meaning, red dyes and pigments have nearly always depended on scarce materials and advanced technology, often resulting in rare and expensive products reserved for high-status use. Ongoing - "Break the Mold: New Takes on Traditional Art Making". The exhibit showcases contemporary artists who use traditional modes of art making and crafting to tackle timely subject matter. Innovative takes on embroidery, ceramics, quilting, furniture, interior design, and fashion accessories serve to explore diverse topics such as gender assumptions and inequalities, prison reform, racial justice, memory, and loss, as well as how objects transmit and transform social and cultural history. This show features 25 contemporary artists, including Sanford Biggers, Elizabeth Brim, Maria Britton, Julie Cockburn, Rodney McMillan, Rachel Meginnes, Katy Mixon, Gabriel de la Mora, Yasumasa Morimura, Thomas Schmidt, Shinique Smith, and Do Ho Suh, whose artworks are displayed alongside some of their historical predecessors. Ongoing - Featuring 10 additional sculptures by the celebrated French artist Rodin on loan from Iris Cantor's private collection. Ongoing - "John James Audubon's The Birds of America". The state has owned this treasured volume since 1848, but it has never been exhibited. Ongoing - The North Carolina Museum of Art has an outstanding permanent collection of more than 5,000 objects spanning antiquity to the present day. On the occasion of the expansion, the Museum has acquired more than 100 new works of art. Representing commissions, gifts, and purchases, the new works encompass important and diverse examples of historic and contemporary art from around the world, and will be installed in the Museum's new building and the surrounding landscape. Highlights include a gift of 28 sculptures by Auguste Rodin, and work by such internationally acclaimed artists as Roxy Paine, Ursula von Rydingsvard, El Anatsui, Jaume Plensa, Jackie Ferrara, Ellsworth Kelly, and David Park, among others. Admission: Yes for some exhibits. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 9am-5pm; Sun., 10am-5pm; & open until 9pm on Fri. Contact: 919/839-6262 or at (www.ncartmuseum.org/).

Fried Fruit Art Space, 615 S 16th Street in the Cargo District of Wilmington. Through Feb. 14 - "Mahal Gutierrez". Feb. 28 - Mar. 21 - "Parker James Reinecker". An Artist Talk will be offered on Feb. 27, from 5:30-6:30pm in the UNCW Cultural Arts Building, Room 2033. Parker James Reinecker is a visual artist, photographer, and educator based in Central North Carolina and Atlanta, Georgia (USA). His work within the Central Piedmont region of North Carolina has spanned to now three projects, "Two Cardinals in the Thicket" (2020-2023), "Ned Peek & The Pug Mill" (2022-2024), and "To Watch the Moon Move" (2024). The work and approach to photography and mixed media installation have changed drastically over these past projects, from working through strict themes and research to a more open-ended and abstract approach to making. All of the projects work from a place of visual connection to landscape, culture, and the investigation of conceptual identity in the American South— all working to maintain a dialog in visual literacy. Ongoing - Fried Fruit Art Space is an artist-run gallery. We are committed to education and freedom of expression. Housed in a retired cargo container, our space functions as a storefront. Fried Fruit is in the growing Cargo District, surrounded by small businesses, entrepreneurs and local restaurants. We share our courtyard with several small businesses, including Crafted Outpost, Salita Pizza and The Alley Bar. Visitors can enjoy a pizza and beer while viewing the exhibition through the window 24/7 -- it's a great way to experience art in a casual, accessible setting. Day or night, anyone can approach the floor-to-ceiling glass window and view our exhibitions. Fried Fruit's footprint is a mere 150 square feet. The smallness is appealing and unintimidating, allowing exhibiting artists to conceptualize and execute an idea freely. Fried Fruit Art Space serves as a great jumping-off point to realize long-thought-about projects. Hours: not available. Elisabeth Chant (American b. England, 1865 – 1947), "Live Oak, Pelican Point", 1925, Oil on canvas. Collection of Cameron Art Museum. Gift of Hester Donnelly.

Louise Wells Cameron Art Museum, @ intersection of Independence Blvd. & South 17th Street, Wilmington. Reception Hall, Through Apr. 6 - The Cape Fear Area Painted: The Art of Jodie Rippy. The museum welcomes artist Jodie Rippy on Sunday, Mar. 30, at 2pm, to celebrate the launch of this beautiful book. The exhibition highlights local, historical and coastal landmarks, and the activities of our area. Rippy explored as far north as Bald Head Island and as far south as Bald Head Island to create the gouache (opaque watercolor) works. The works on view range in size from 4 x 6 inches to 1 x 1.5 inches, delightfully miniature, a theme which has fascinated the artist for decades. Through Feb. 16 - "Thomas Sayre: Four Walls". The exhibit features new and never exhibited works by American artist Thomas Sayre. Each of the four large-scale pieces in the installation questions the belief systems and symbols that underpin the ideals of church, nation and creation. Made of materials that include tar, smoke, fabric gowns, gunshots, welding material, earth and fire, these works invite visitors to draw close and experience the messiness of making, and by analogy, to bear witness to the ways that life invades, entangles, and tarnishes us. Through Mar. 23 - "Close to Home," is a celebration of CAM's collection featuring works by artists with a connection to our state, our region, our home. Join us as we explore images of people and places that evoke the varied spirit of our community. Beloved familiar works are joined by hidden treasures in a showcase of artistic voices; a collective search for the meaning of home. Features work by Josef Albers, Romare Bearden, Mary Cassatt, Diego Camposeco, Elisabeth Chant, Minnie Evans, Maud Gatewood, Claude Howell, Hiroshi Sueyoshi, and others. Feb. 7 - Apr. 27 - "Elisabeth Chant". North Carolina artist Elisabeth Chant (1865-1947) made an indelible mark on Wilmington's art community. Born in England, she emigrated to the United States, eventually settling in Wilmington around 1922. Chant studied art in Minneapolis and Paris and was influenced by the Art Nouveau and Arts and Crafts movements. In Wilmington, she became known for her vibrant landscapes and scenes of the North Carolina coast. Ongoing - Cameron Art Museum presents the only sculpture park in the country created to honor the United States Colored Troops and their fight for freedom. The opening of PNC USCT Park marks the one-year anniversary of the unveiling of Boundless, the public sculpture by artist Stephen Hayes that commemorates the United States Colored Troops and the Battle of Forks Road. This park creates a gathering space for the more than 60,000 visitors from across the country who come to CAM each year and the 8,000 school children who visit the museum on field trips. PNC USCT Park will become a community space for gathering, field trips, classes, workshops, storytelling, live music and

North Carolina Museum of Art, Winston-Salem (former SECCA), 750 Marguerite Drive, Winston-Salem. Main Gallery, Feb. 27 - July 20 - "David LaChapelle: Dear Sonja," a retrospective exhibition spanning four decades of the artist's career. A reception will be held on Feb. 27, from 6-8pm. This special retrospective exhibition features more than 80 works spanning 40 years of the artist's career. David LaChapelle was born in Connecticut in 1963 and attended high school at the North Carolina School of the Arts in Winston-Salem. Originally enrolled as a painting student with a reverence for art history, he developed his analog photograph-editing technique by hand painting negatives to achieve an abstract spectrum of color before processing his film. At age seventeen LaChapelle moved to New York City. Following his first photography show at 303 Gallery, he was hired by Andy Warhol to work at "Interview" magazine. Through his mastery of color, unique composition, and imaginative narratives, LaChapelle began to expand the genre of photography. By 1997 the New York Times predicted he "is certain to influence the work of a new generation ... in the same way that Mr. [Richard] Avedon pioneered so much of what is familiar today" in portrait and fashion photography. Potter Gallery, Feb. 3 - May 18 - Internal Review: NCMA Staff Exhibition. A reception will be held on Feb. 3, beginning at 6:15pm. The exhibiting artists represent almost every department at the NCMA across both campuses in Raleigh and Winston-Salem. The exhibition spans genres and mediums, from works on paper to sculpture, from photography to music. Much like the state of North Carolina itself, this exhibition brings together a diverse range of talents, backgrounds, and interests in ways that encourage conversation, promote creativity, and build community. "We are very proud to host the staff exhibition," said William Carpenter, executive director of the NCMA Winston-Salem. "The history of our institution - from downtown galleries through almost 50 years as the Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art - is one of supporting and promoting artists from across the state and region. This exhibition showcases the many talented and creative folks who make the museum a state treasure." The exhibition will be accompanied by a slate of programs, performances, and tours created and delivered by the museum staff. Ongoing - Founded in 1956, the Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art offers a front-row seat to the art of our time. Through visual art exhibitions, education, music, film, dance and theater, SECCA starts conversations that engage diverse communities and perspectives. SECCA is an affiliate of the North Carolina Museum of Art and a division of the NC Department of Natural & Cultural Resources. SECCA receives operational funding from The Arts Council of Winston-Salem and Forsyth County. Additional funding is provided by the James G. Hanes Memorial Fund. Contact: 336/723-4444 or at (www.theafasgroup.com).

Reynolda House Museum of American Art, Reynolda Road, Winston-Salem. Northwest Bedroom Gallery, Through Oct. 20 - "Good Impressions: Portraits Across Three Centuries from Reynolda and Wake Forest". Portraits are often taken at face value - as accurate representations of a person's appearance, sometimes removed by decades or centuries. But portraits are often the products of delicate negotiations between artist and subject. Sometimes they flatter, exaggerating the sitter's beauty or rich attire. Sometimes they capture the subject engaged in his or her occupation, whether pausing during study or painting in his or her studio. Sometimes they celebrate an auspicious occasion, such as a recent engagement or the imminent birth of a child. This exhibition features three centuries of portraits of men and women, Black and White, solitary and companionate, classic and modern. "Good Impressions" was mounted to mark the recent conservation treatment of John Singleton Copley's 1762 "Portrait of Mrs. Daniel Rogers" (Elizabeth Gorham Rogers) in the collection of Wake Forest University, and Reynolda House's recent acquisition of Kwame Brathwaite's 1973 photograph "Changing Times". West Bedroom Gallery, Through Oct. 19 - "Leigh Ann Hallberg: Phenoms". In her "Phenoms series", artist Leigh Ann Hallberg creates large-scale abstract paintings inspired by her journey through local landscapes, including the Reynolda landscape. Hallberg, who has taught painting at Wake Forest University since 1999, chose a square format for the series, which she says leaves the viewer's understanding of the work open - the abstract painting is neither portrait nor landscape. Instead, it is a pretend space in which the viewer is able to reconsider and reimagine their experience of nature through the works. Hallberg employs a variety of color palettes and metal leaf. She uses the medium of watercolor in order to pull out its inherent qualities of flow, dripping, and puddling, which she considers nearly indexical with substances of the natural world: water, soil, and vegetation. In fact, most of the watercolor pigments are derived from materials found in the earth. The metal leaf invokes the idea of time and its passage, as the viewer's perception of the leaf (reflective, a void, a light) shifts over the course of the day, under various lighting conditions and viewing angles. The works in the "Phenoms series" represent Hallberg's felt resonance with and sense of wonder about the natural world.

East Bedroom Gallery, Through Dec. 31 - "Still I Rise: The Black Experience at Reynolda". "Into a daybreak that's wondrously clear / I rise." Maya Angelou's poem "Still I Rise," published in 1978, was an assertion of dignity and resilience in the face of oppression. In the 1980s, Angelou used Reynolda as her stage, sharing words of humanity, survival, and triumph. But before her, numerous Black lives impacted and intersected with the story of Reynolda. "Still I Rise: The Black Experience at Reynolda" examines the lives of the Black women and men who helped shape Reynolda as it evolved from a Jim Crow era working estate into a museum for American art. From 1912 through the 1950s, during one of the most repressive climates for Black people in North Carolina history, Black men and women navigated Reynolda's segregated spaces - farming the land, constructing buildings, and working as domestic staff within Reynolda's walls. During this era, segregation, the exploitation of Black labor, and laws that regulated Black behavior affected the lives of all individuals in the Reynolda story, whether at Reynolda or at the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. While the struggle for equality did not end with the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the story of Reynolda pivoted to one of a public cultural institution. When it opened its doors in 1967, Reynolda's intersection with Black lives shifted as the young, fledgling museum provided a venue for Black artists to celebrate their art. Artists such as Jacob Lawrence, Romare Bearden, and Maya Angelou transformed the historic setting into a stage for their art and teachings. Through art, letters, photographs, and audiovisual recordings, "Still I Rise: The Black Experience at Reynolda" examines Reynolda's complicated past in a space designed for reflection and healing. This exhibition has been made possible in part by the National Endowment for the Humanities. East Bedroom Sleeping Porch, Ongoing - Featuring a condensed version of the fall 2023 exhibition "Smith & Libby: Two Rings, Seven Months, One Bullet". This semi-permanent exhibition presents a fascinating look at an unsolved shooting that rocked the Reynolda estate and made national headlines in 1932. Like most family homes, Reynolda House witnessed its share of tragedies, none more shocking than the death by gunshot of Zachary Smith ("Smith") Reynolds, youngest child of R.J. and Katharine Smith Reynolds. Soon after midnight on July 6, 1932, Smith was shot on a sleeping porch at the family's country estate. Smith died later that morning. Smith's wife Libby Holman and Smith's childhood friend and secretary Albert "Ab" Walker were ultimately charged with first-degree murder. In a stunning reversal, the case was dropped before coming to trial. To this day, it is not known whether Smith Reynolds, 20-year-old heir and renowned aviator, died by suicide, accident or murder. Ongoing - Collection of 18th through 20th century art, sculpture, American art, and pottery. Admission: Yes. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 9:30am-4:30pm & Sun., 1:30-4:30pm. Contact: 336/725-5325 or at (<https://reynolda.org/>).

Plus a large selection of prints, posters, and quality custom framing. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 9:30am-6pm & Sat., 10am-4pm. Contact: 828/253-3559.

Blue Spiral 1, 38 Biltmore Ave., Asheville. Main Level Gallery, Through Feb. 26 - "Context: Celebrating 35 Years". We are delighted to commemorate this milestone by highlighting a selection of represented artists that showcase the creativity that has shaped our gallery over the past three decades. These artists - whether painters, sculptors, glass blowers, ceramicists, weavers or photographers - define the heart of the gallery and its mission to celebrate the arts. The gallery will be rotating works out regularly, creating new vignettes and pairings allowing the opportunity to discover something new with each visit. Lower Level Gallery, Through Feb. 26 - "Print + Pattern", featuring works by Lainard Bush, Kimberly English, Luke Haynes, Harvey Meyer, Eric Pardue, and George Peterson. This exhibition presents artists who employ the use of pattern and print. The work ranges from ready-made printed objects; to drawings turned into quilts; to screen-printed underglazes on clay; to manipulated skateboards. Inspiration for the artwork includes geometric compositions, quilting traditions, and universal patterns found in nature. Showcase Gallery, Through Feb. 26 - "Vase/ Vase", featuring works by Tyler-James Anderson, Bekah Bliss, Courtney Dodd, Maggie Jaszczak, Stacy Snyder, Mike Stumbras, and Mat Wheeler. In the history of Western art, the vase stands as a cornerstone of ancient craftsmanship and visual culture. The artists featured in this group exhibition celebrate the vase through diverse approaches - ranging from slip-casting and wheel-throwing to hand-blowing. Some vessels are bulbous and robust, while others are elegantly slender. While each piece draws inspiration from the characteristics of classical antiquities, these contemporary vases carve out a distinct category of their own, reimagining tradition with modern sensibilities. Small Format Gallery, Through Feb. 26 - "Bethanne Hill: Mythologies". Bethanne Hill's brightly colored narrative paintings reference both traditional southern folk and Australian Aboriginal art, and transform rural landscapes into fanciful scenes of animals at play, imbuing flora and fauna with spiritual mystery. Ongoing - Featuring works in a variety of mediums by regional, national and international artists. Hours: Sun.-Tue., 11am-5pm & Wed.-Sat., 11am-6pm. Contact: 828/251-0202 or at (www.bluespiral1.com).

Editor's Note: I wish I could tell you that everything listed here is open or every event would happen, but we just don't know for sure and I don't blame any of the presenters if we were the last thing on their minds while dealing with this current disaster. My best advice to you is call before you go to visit someplace or go to see an exhibit listed. That's mostly for the areas hit by Hurricane Helene, in this case, Western NC.

Virtual Exhibits

Artsville Collective in the Asheville, NC, area proudly presents the Virtual Gallery of Artists (VGA) program, an initiative designed to help elevate the careers of local artists. VGA offers artists a unique opportunity to gain global exposure, valuable marketing skills, and an array of promotional resources. The VGA program invites individual artists to apply for three months of marketing exposure through print, digital, and podcast platforms. Artsville provides guidance on building relationships with the press and art buyers, empowering artists by coming alongside them and forming connections. Notably, Artsville does not take any commissions on art sales, ensuring artists keep their full earnings. For further information about Artsville programs and opportunities, contact Meredith McBride by e-mail at (mccoy.louisemcb@gmail.com), call 828/216-8050 or visit (<https://www.artsvilleusa.com/>).

every level can find extraordinary art. The gallery serves the regional community in the Carolinas by representing exceptional local artists and also carries original work by internationally renowned artists. Its location in Calabash, North Carolina gives the gallery an advantage over many in major metropolitan areas. The large 10,000 square foot gallery offers the very low overhead of a gallery-owned facility in a cost-efficient location. Online reach has made this possible. It allows Sunset River to provide excellent works from the 20th Century Modern and Contemporary categories at better pricing than high-overhead galleries. New owner Larry Johnson from Bethesda, MD, has bought and sold art through major and middle-market auctions around the world for two decades. He has been an amateur painter and sculptor for years, achieving a minor in fine art from Purdue University. The gallery has added a new 20th Century Art installation, featuring rare and valuable fine and modern art, primarily impressionist and abstract. FrameCenter hours are Wed. - Fri., noon- 5pm and by appt. Call Lou Aliotta directly at 910/368-7351. Gallery Hours: Mon.-Sat., 11am-5pm. Contact: 910/575-5999 or at ( ).

Work by MJ Sharp - Craven Allen Gallery

Craven Allen Gallery, 1106 1/2 Broad St., Durham. Feb. 8 - Mar. 1 - "MJ Sharp: Nightscapes". A reception will be held on Feb. 8, from 5-7pm. The exhibition features a selection of landscape and still life photographs exploring MJ Sharp's fascination with preserving the human relationship to night and darkness. As a Fulbright Scholar to the UK, MJ Sharp collaborated with a nocturnal ecologist who is also concerned about escalating light pollution and our loss of night and darkness. Archaeologists in Cornwall have newly discovered evidence that prehistoric peoples visited ancient megalithic sites in low light or at night. Sharp was intrigued and set out to photograph these ancient sites at night, hoping that it "might be restorative for present-day people who have lost access to their evolutionary birthright of experiencing darkness and night." Ongoing - Featuring local artists in various mediums. Burk Uzzle Studio, 106 Douglas Street E, Wilson. Ongoing - Burk Uzzle's career, like his pictures, is a nuanced composition blending American culture, individual psyches of particular places and people, and an atypical way of seeing ourselves, our values, and our community. Always respectful yet locating the poignant or quirky, the history of his narrative belongs to all of us. Initially grounded in documentary photography when he was the youngest photographer hired by "LIFE magazine" at age 23, his work grew into a combination of split-second impressions reflecting the human condition during his tenure as a member of the prestigious international Magnum cooperative founded by one of his mentors Henri Cartier-Bresson. His archive spans almost six decades. His current work rests deep in photographic appreciation of the quiet, strong, and eloquent beauty he discovers in America's small towns and its people. It is along small back roads, limned with feelings and a surety of surprise for the heart wide open, that continue to support his understanding of how America keeps its personality out on a limb. Uzzle's current bodies of work (some of which are African-American) are artful and constructed reflections of his subjects. His hope is for a graphic presentation of something universal within the particular, and all the better when involving a gentle chuckle and knowing smile. He is represented by SOCO Gallery in Charlotte, NC and Tracy Morgan Gallery in Asheville, NC. Hours: by appt. Contact: 252/363-1812 or e-mail to (burk@burkuzzle.com).

House of Van Baars Gallery, 104 Douglas Street E, Wilson. Ongoing - Frans van Baars has been a visual artist for more than sixty years. A graduate of the Ivy School of Art in Pittsburgh, PA, in 1969, he has been painting eye catching subjects on location. His collection ranges from barns in Ohio, to coastal scenes on North Carolina's Outer Banks. van Baars has traveled throughout the United States, Europe, and several other continents to capture the splendor of majestic architecture and the beauty of nature. He finds home in Wilson with his wife Brenda. Hours: by appt. Contact: 252/230-9797 or at (<https://houseofvanbaars.com/>).

Iconostar Art Studio and Park, 224 Goldsboro Street SW, Wilson. Ongoing - Featuring sculpture by Elizabeth Laul Healey. Iconostars are made with the artist's signature "Circles of Life" motif. They represent loved ones, animals, and our precious Mother Earth. Each circle is unique and has its own backstory. All Iconostars have one thing in common, they each have clear eyes so that any person who looks at them can have the ability to see themselves through their eyes. The Iconostar sculptures are made from a variety of materials including, glass tile, stones and crystals, watches, drawer handles, sea shells, miscellaneous found objects, and love. Their bases are made from foam, PVC pipes filled with sand, rebar, wood, glue, grout and more. Hours: Thur., noon-10pm; Fri. & Sat., noon-6pm; or by appt.
